HOLCOMB IS MARSHAL

McCormick Wins City Judgeship For West Monroe

John F. McCormick, West Monroe City Attorney, yesterday won the West Monroe City Judgeship with a two-to-one lead against his opponent Howell H. Heard.

McCormick ran up a total 2117 votes in 13 out of 14 precincts reporting last night. Heard trailed with 1047 votes.

STATEMENT

McCormick, after receiving reports of his decisive victory, expressed his "sincere appreciation for the confidence given me, as evidenced in the returns.

"I want to assure the people of Ward Five that I will put forth my best effort to make them a good judge and will do my best to be worthy of the honor," McCormick said.

"I would like to thank my many freinds who worked in my behalf to make victory possible. To those who did not see fit to vote for me I wish to assure them that I respect their privilege to vote as they please and will not be influenced by any knowledge that I might have with regard to their preference in the election," McCormick stated.

McCormick will take office January 1.

McCormick, a lawyer for some 28 years and a former state senator, is now West Monroe City Attorney. He is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and Louisiana State University.

Reitzell Is Re-Elected City Marshal

Frank V. Reitzell, incumbent, was elected to a third term as Monroe City Marshal, sweeping to a clean victory over opponent Joseph A. Battaglia last night with a total of 2759 votes.

Reitzell, in unofficial tabulations, took all 27 precincts in Wards 3 and 10, winning over Battaglia by 2257 votes.

Battaglia, who was an unsuccessful candidate for this same office six years ago, collected only 502 votes and didn't carry a single precinct.

THIRD TERM

Reitzell, who has been a resident of Monroe for the past 40 years and was seeking his third term, said in a statement last night "I'm happy that friends felt confidence enough in me to re-elect me and I will try to give them the same conscientious service that I have given in the past."

Already having served as city marshal for 12 years, Reitzell is a native of Caldwell Parish and a member of the first Bapitst Church of Monroe.

Out of the total 3261 votes cast for the city marshal position, the breakdown on precincts is as follows:

Ward Three — Precinct 1, Battaglia, 18, and Reitzell, 54; Precinct 2, Battaglia, 21, Reitzell, 51; Precinct 3, Battaglia, 24, Reitzell, 56; Precinct 4, Battaglia, 32, Reitzell, 249; Precinct 5, Battaglia, 8, Reitzell, 116; Precinct 6, Battaglia, 10, Reitzell, 78; Precinct 7, Battaglia, 43, Reitzell, 169; Precinct 8, Battaglia, 7, Reitzell, 44; Precinct 9, Battaglia, 15, Reitzell, 104; Precinct 10, Battaglia, 17, Reitzell, 137; Precinct 11, Battaglia, 6, Reitzell, 34; Precinct 12, Battaglia, 12, Reitzell, 58.

More Polio In North Reported

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Rhode Island's polio cases rose to 66 Saturday night as three more children were stricken.

The newest victims were a 3-year-old North Kingstown girl who had had one Salk shot and whose case was diagnosed as nonparalytic; an 8-month-old Providence girl, with the bulbar form of the disease, and an 8-year-old Riverside boy with nonparalytic polio. The Providence girl had no shots and the boy three.

Dr. Raymond F. McAteer, chief of the State Division of Communicable Diseases, said it is too early to tell if the North Kingstown case indicates a spread of the epidemic from metropolitan Providence.

2 Incumbent Members Of Board Win

Ouachita Parish voters in four wards returned three incumbents to the parish school boards, rejected another's bid for re-election, and set up a run-off for a single position in a fourth ward.

The run-off is in Ward 5, where Fred Riser, West Monroe realtor and former dairyman, faces the incumbent, Walt Bennett, cafe owner and operator. Riser was high man in the four-way race, receiving 1312 votes, against 969 for Bennett, 889 for C. B. Griggs, Jr., and 366 for R. D. (Rip) Pipes.

RE-ELECTED

Successful in their bids for re-election were Harry Wheelis in ward 8; and George Rorex and James H. Trousdale, Jr., both in ward 10. The latter was the only ward where two positions were open. Carl Thompson received 964 in his bid for one of the ward 10 posts.

In Ward 9, the present mem-

Deadlock On GOP Platform Anticipated

Southern Hope Of Moderation Seems Doomed

By VERNON LOUVIERE
Special Correspondent

CHICAGO — The Republican party was almost hopelessly deadlocked here Saturday in the bitter struggle to fashion a civil rights plank acceptance to Southern conservatives and northern liberals.

There was every reason to believe that southern hopes for a moderate rights proposal in the Republican platform had been dashed completely in the face of tremendous pressure from the party hierarchy.

The signs were unmistakable; both Vice President Richard Nixon and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York will not make even a token effort to capture the south on any part of it in the November presidential election.

BITTER FIGHT

Bitter in-fighting and sharp differences marked repeated attempts by the platform-writing subcommittee on civil rights to come up with a plank that the south can accept.

Endless meetings and conferences behind closed-doors failed to produce even a modicum of agreement 'Saturday forcing the subcommittee to recess and schedule a new session on Sunday.

What was completely disillusioning to the outnumbered southerners was the fact they had been lead to believe the Republicans.

The agreement, for example, stated flatly, "our program for civil rights must assure aggressive action to remove the remain-

'WILL RISE AGAIN'

Long In Last-Ditch Attempt For Votes

BUNKIE, La. (AP) — Earl Kemp Long, surrounded by country Negroes, shouted for voters Saturday to send him to Washington for "truth crushed to earth will rise again, and so will the Longs."

The perspiring, disheveled Long, speaking from a dirty railroad freight platform, asked for an eighth district seat in the Congress.

A little more than two months ago, the 64-year-old Long ended his tornadic term as governor lieutenant governor following two trips to mental hospitals.

Long seeks the post of U.S. Rep. Harold McSween (D-La) of Alexandria, who twice in recent years stung Long with a political setback.

A third rival is attorney Ben Holt of Alexandria, an ambitious, young aggresive politician who broke with Long last year after serving as his House floor leader.

Long, firing his words in machine-gun delivery, asked the audience of some 200 Negroes in a close circle around him, "Don't you believe you're God's children? I'm the best friend the colored man and the poor white man ever had."

If he and his brother, the late Huey P. Long, "had gone for the big shots," Long added, "they would have called us the greatest men in this state's history."

About 30 white persons loafed against door fronts in the shade across the street listening to

2 Women Killed By Jealous Man; Shoots Himself

JEFFERSON, Ga. (UPI) — A jealous tenant farmer bent on reconciliation or revenge killed his estranged wife and his mother-in-law Saturday and attempted to take his own life. The older woman died as a son tried to move her to safety.

Hill Long, about 45, was reported in "fair" condition in the Athens General Hospital with a bullet wound in his left shoulder.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Hazel Keanum Long, about 42, and her mother, Mrs. Dora Mae Keanum, about 60. Jefferson Police Chief Albert Westmoreland said the Longs had "six or seven" children whose ages ranged from about 20 down to early childhood.

FRAME HOUSE

The shooting occurred at Mrs. Keanum's small frame house, where Mrs. Long was staying with her mother and a brother, Barney Keanum, 35.

Long went there Saturday morning to persuade his wife, from whom he had been separated for the past several weeks, to return to him.

When she refused, Long went to the home of a friend, borrowed a .22 calibre pistol, bought some shells and returned to Mrs. Keanum's home. He tried to pull his wife from the bed she was sharing with her mother, "sort of choking her" in the process, according to the police chief.

Auto Plunges Into Youngsters

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A car jumped the curb and plowed into a crowd of youngsters leaving a dime matinee at a suburban theater Saturday killing one and injuring four.

Amy E. Kleeman, 62, had just picked up three children who had been at the movie. As she backed away from the curb, another motorist blew his horn. Mrs. Kleeman put the car in forward. Lt. Andrew T. Mosier of the Belle Meade police said she apparently slammed on the accelerator rather than the brake.

Runoff Set For Two In 8th District

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Former Gov. Earl Kemp Long battled his way into a runoff for the congressional seat from Louisiana's eighth district Saturday and will face Rep. Harold McSween in a showdown on Aug. 27.

Complete but unofficial returns from 313 of the district's 316 precincts gave McSween 29,740 while the thinner but still explosive, 64-year-old Long attracted 25,905. Former state Rep. Ben Holt pulled 10,218 votes in Saturday's Democratic primary.

TO WASHINGTON

Long has told his followers he won't be counted out and insisted he was "on his way to Washington" in the post once held by his late brother, Rep. George S. Long.

Long told the Associated Press he would beat McSween in the runoff "in every parish.

"I ran his shirttail off in this one," Long said as he listened to election returns on a small radio in a sweltering storeroom.

McSween said his forces carried five out of eight parishes in the district and believed the returns disappointed Long.

"I think Mr. Long has polled his full strength," McSween said. "He was talking about running high in this one."

Another runoff appeared likely in the seventh district.

Rep. T. A. Thompson attracted 29,158 votes on returns from 196 of 265 precincts. Former state Sen. Arsene Stewart showed 20,544 votes and Sam Tarleton, Lake Charles health and safety commissioner, pulled 12,303 votes.

In the third district, Rep. Edwin Willis seemed a certain winner in bidding for renominaton with 29,556 votes on returns from 187 of 248 precincts. J. Minos Simon of Lafayette showed 10,454 votes.

Goldwater Asserts Nixon Is 'Sell-Out'

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona Saturday challenged the platform agreement between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as a "Munich" for the party.

Accusing Nixon of a "sell-out" on nearly every point that had separated him from Rockefeller, Goldwater said Nixon's trip to New York, which resulted in the accord, "can be interpreted in no other way than as a bid to appease the Republican left."

If incorporated in the finished platform, the Arizona senator said, the principles laid down by the two party chieftains would result in a GOP defeat in November.

CONSERVATIVE

Goldwater, a leader in the ultra-conservative wing of the party, named Rockefeller as "leader of the Republican left."

In a statement he said he has long admired the New Yorker's devotion to his principles but believes that "many of the governor's principles are not good for the party and are not good for the nation. I am even less attracted to the principles of some of his supporters."

The substance of the Nixon-Rockefeller platform proposals in themselves may not be the important point, Goldwater went on.

"What seems far more significant," he said, "is the spectacle of the party's prospective candidate for the presidency paying

NIXON, ROCKEFELLER

Agreement On Platform Made

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hammered his stamp on a party platform Saturday and then swooped down on the scene of a Republican National Convention ablaze at last with drama—a secret midnight rendezvous with sure-shot presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon.

For eight hours through the night, the New York governor and the vice president conferred in the seclusion of Rockefeller's New York City apartment. It was Nixon's idea, and Nixon went to Rockefeller.

Party unity and perhaps the November vote of mighty New York State were some of the stakes in this meeting of Republican giants.

LIBERAL TINGE

Out of their session came a political compact to tilt the party platform toward the liberal side. Nixon and Rockefeller agreed on blending together basic aims and principles both can support when the GOP gets around to the voting stage at the convention which opens Monday.

Their understanding reached such key issues as national defense, foreign policy and civil rights.

Belgium Lowers Flag In Congo; Collapse Seen

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Belgium lowered its flag here Saturday, abandoning this capital city of its once great African empire to the United Nations.

The Belgians pulled out in a haze of bitterness and anger. U.N. officials said the 23-day-old Congo Republic had "virtually collapsed" as a modern state and appealed urgently for medical aid to stave off epidemics.

SMILES

Congolese lining the tarmac at the airport smiled gleefully, as young Belgian paratroopers moved up to board the last plane flying out just in time to meet the deadline set for Belgian troops to leave the city.

The Belgians' helplessness in the face of the situation was underscored by the arrival of a giant Russian IL-18 transport which shouldered its way onto the take-off strip while a Belgian military transport plane waited quietly for a clear runway.

SECRET MEMORANDUM

Managed Economy Said Demos' Plan

By VERNON LOUVIERE
Special Correspondent

CHICAGO — A secret memorandum passed on to Vice President Nixon by a Republican observer at the Democratic National Convention warns that the Democrats have a blueprint for leading the country into a "completely managed economy," it was learned here Saturday.

This memorandum, made available to the writer, emphasizes in the strongest language that it would be a serious mistake to dismiss the Democratic party platform as "campagin oratory."

"It is much more," the report declares. "It is a basic blueprint under leadership of its more radical elements, if they gain control of the presidency, will lead this country into a completely managed economy.

The Republican observer noted that this also is a blue print backed strongly by new dealers who have never conceded that a free enterprise system can work without direct intervention by government."

Pointing out that the machinery of the Democratic party has been Heard Gets Vote Lead In District

Heavy support in northwest Louisiana moved Joe D. Waggonner Jr. of Plain Dealing into the front runner position in the race for the post on the State Board of Education. John J. McKeithen of Columbia held a heavy lead over L. S. (Buck) Hooper in the contest for public service commissioner.

With 681 out of 773 precincts reporting, Waggonner was leading Incumbent C. Raymond Heard of Ruston by a tally of 61,408-38,076.

Waggonner was a candidate for state comptroller last fall on the Rainach ticket. He is a member of the school board in Bossier Parish.

He took an early lead which continued to hold as returns came in.

In the public service commissioner's race, McKeithen held a three-to-one margin over Hooper in the 681 precincts. McKeithen tallied 75,450 and Hooper 24,455.

Unofficial returns in 12 northeast Louisiana parishes gave Heard a slight edge in the state board of education contest 14,085 votes to Waggonner's 13,004.

In the Shreveport area, however, Waggonner led with 28,757 while Heard polled 11,932 with about 10 parishes reporting.

PUBLIC SERVICE

John J. McKeithen, incumbent of Columbia and chairman of the Louisiana Public Service Commission, took a heavy lead in early returns in northeast Louisiana for the commission post. McKeithen piled up 24,026 votes with challenger L. S. "Buck" Hooper polling 5,336.

Caldwell, for Heard — 1039; for Waggonner — 1055; Catahoula, 343-403; East Carroll, 256-576; Franklin, 1399-1867; Lincoln, 2228-1079; Madison, 134-261; Morehouse, 1061-729; Ouachita, 3806-3231; Richland, 1442-1628; Tensas, 60-142; West Carroll, 843-1121; Jackson, 1474-859; LaSalle, 1318-2228; Winn, 1699-1483.

Results by parish in northeast Louisiana in the Public Service Commissioner's race between McKeithen and Hooper were as follows:

In Caldwell Parish, the incumbent's home area, he polled 2414 votes as opposed to Hooper's 237; Catahoula, 708-114; East Carroll, 694-182; Franklin, 3240-752; Lincoln, 2198-850; Madison, 313-79; Morehouse, 1525-335; Ouachita, 6154-1301; Richland, 2595-686; Tensas, 164-44; West Carroll, 1822-352; Jackson, 2200-354; LaSalle, 3301-602; Winn, 3090-559.

Veteran Area Coroner Dies; Rites Monday

JONESBORO (Special) — Dr. Earnest E. Blume, 78-year-old practicing physician and Jackson Parish coroner for many years died about 3 p.m. yesterday at Muskogee, Okla., where he was vacationing with his family.

He was stricken by internal hemmorhages Tuesday and underwent surgery the same day. He was in an Oklahoma hospital from Tuesday until the time of his death.

Dr. Blume, who had resided and practiced medicine in Jonesboro for over 50 years was Jackson Parish coroner at the time of his death.

Funeral services have been tentatively set for 4 p.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church in Jonesboro, with the Rev. John Hurt officiating. Interment will be in the Jonesboro Cemetery under the direction of Edmond's Funeral Home of Jonesboro.

chita Parish High School and Tulane University.

Jurisdiction of the West Monroe City Court, judge and marshal extends throughout Ward Five.

Heard, also a lawyer, was formerly Judge of the City Court. He has practiced law in West Monroe since graduating from the LSU Law School in 1936.

Incumbent Marshal Holcomb, a former grocer, is completing his first six - year term in that post.

Moore, his opponent, is a carpenter.

Broken down by precincts these are the results:

Precinct 1 — McCormick, 173; Heard, 106; Holcomb, 186; Moore, 88. Precinct 2 — McCormick, 113; Heard, 74; Holcomb, 119; Moore, 68.

Precinct 3 — McCormick, 158; Heard, 97; Holcomb, 170; Moore, 78. Precinct 4 — McCormick, 128; Heard, 49; Holcomb, 123; Moore, 47.

Precinct 5 — McCormick, 100; Heard, 42; Holcomb, 76; Moore, 62. Precinct 6 — McCormick, 112; Heard, 42; Holcomb, 76; Moore, 83.

Precinct 7 — McCormick, 110; Heard, 33; Holcomb, 88; Moore, 51. Precinct 8 — McCormick, 135; Heard, 66; Holcomb, 139; Moore, 59.

Precinct Nine failed to enter the votes on the talley sheet sent to the Parish Clerk of Court last night. Official returns will be available later in the week.

Precinct 10 — McCormick, 134; Heard, 40; Holcomb, 106; Moore, 65. Precinct 11 — McCormick, 357; Heard, 230; Holcomb, 410; Moore, 165.

Precinct 12 — McCormick, 177; Heard, 63; Holcomb, 170; Moore, 92. Precinct 13 — McCormick, 271; Heard, 99; Holcomb, 281; Moore, 100. Precinct 14 — McCormick, 149; Heard, 62; Holcomb, 165; Moore, 51.

Unofficial returns in the marshal's race in Precinct Nine give Holcomb 207 votes to Moore's 136. The precinct at the Claiborne Street Fire Station failed to note the results on the clerk's talley sheet, and no official returns from that box for City Judge could be found last night.

Returns from 63 of the third district's 773 precincts gave McKeithen 84,620 votes to L. S. Hooper's 25,211. McKeithen is from Columbia and Hooper from Shreveport.

Family court Judge Joe Sanders of Baton Rouge showed a 5,000-vote margin over appeals court Judge Robert Jones in their race for a seat on the State Supreme Court. With 265 of 328 precincts reporting in the fifth district, Sanders showed 46,669 and Jones 41,154.

In the Board of Education races:

Third district, 590 of 773 precincts Joe . Waggonner, Plain Dealing, 56,697; C. Raymond Heard, Ruston, 35,253.

Seventh district, 258 of 265 precincts: Dr. Boyd Woodard, Lake Charles, 42,355; Fulton Bacon of Basile, 27,417.

The Republican primary for a nominee to oppose Sen. Allen Ellender next November was much less than the staunchest GOP leaders had hoped.

Returns from four of the state's 2,110 precincts showed George Reese Jr., of New Orleans with 11 votes and William Dane, also of New Orleans, with one vote. GOP officials had looked for a sparse turnout.

In the race for a state Supreme Court seat from the fifth district, family court Judge Joe W. Sanders of Baton Rouge had a slim lead over appeal court Judge Robert Jones of Bogalusa.

Returns from 10 of the district's 328 precincts gave Sanders 6,658 votes and Jones 6,130.

John J. McKeithen had a shopping margin over L. S. Hooper in the contest for McKeithen's seat on the state Public Service Commission.

With 10 of 773 precincts in the district reporting, McKeithen showed 1,508 votes and Hooper 291.

In the board of education races:

Third district, 10 of 773 precincts: Incumbent C. Raymond Heard of Ruston, 601; Joe D. Waggonner Jr. of Plain Dealing 1,026.

Sixth district, 36 of 295 precincts: William J. Dodd 7,078; incumbent Merle M. Welsh of Baton Rouge, 4,254.

Seventh district, 50 of 265 precincts: Dr. Boyd Woodward of Lake Charles 5,538; Fulton Bacon 6,712.

Republicans, in an effort to build up a two-party system in this topheavy Democratic state, also named nominees to challenge the Democrats in five of the eight congressional districts. There are over a million registered Democrats to 8,558 registered Republicans in Louisiana.

Elsewhere Reps. F. Edward Hebert, T. Hale Boggs, Overton Brooks, and James Morrison were unopposed in the Democratic primary but face GOP rivals in November.

Only Rep. Otto Passman of Monroe had no Republican opposition in his fifth district.

Appeals Judge Robert D. Jones of Bogalusa and family court judge Joe W. Sanders of East Baton Rouge parish ran for the state supreme court seat in the fifth district. Justice E. Howard McCaleb was unopposed in the first district.

Baton Rouge was the only large city with municipal election. Incumbent mayor - president Jack Christian ran against seven candidates.

There were four Negro candidates in capital races, including Atty. Johnnie Jones, defender of Southern University sit-in students. He ran for district attorney.

There were three seats on the state board of education to be filled.

William J. Dodd, twice a candidate for governor, opposed incumbent Merle M. Welsh, Baton Rouge, in the sixth district. Dr. Boyd M. Woodward of Lake Charles and Fulton Bacon of Basile ran for the seventh district post, which was left vacant.

Incumbent C. Raymond Heard, Ruston, was challenged by Joe D. Waggoner Jr., Plain Dealing, in the third district.

On the three - man Louisiana public service commission, John J. McKeithen of the commission ran against L. S. Hooper of Shreveport.

Property voters in New Orleans balloted on six proposed bond issues totaling eight million dollars.

The primary vote decided judgeships and district attorney offices in all 31 judicial districts. Only 12 of the 13 district attorney posts were contested.

Candidates who failed to gain a majority will enter a runoff August 27.

ing vestiges of segregation or discrimination in all areas of national life — voting and housing, schools and jobs.

While the details of the proposed Nixon - Rockefeller civil rights plank have not been disclosed there was concern among most southerners that it would be as severe as the one adopted by the Democratic party in Los Angeles.

Southerners found a ready ally in Conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona whose name may be placed before the convention as a presidential choice.

Goldwater branded the so - called meeting of the minds between Nixon and Rockefeller on civil rights and other issues a "Nixon surrender" to the New Yorker.

"A civil rights platform that goes this far certainly will find strong opposition on the floor," he asserted.

Goodwill Tour Through Area Is Scheduled

Some 37 Monroe businessmen will take a good neighbor tour through a number of cities in the Monroe Trade Area on August 15, Special Events Committee Chairman Sam Orchard announced.

The theme of the one-day tour is "Thank You, Neighbor!" and will be made through seven surrounding cities, Orchard stated.

Civic and business leaders have been asked to participate, and the committee is hoping that a wide range of occupations will be represented on the trip, according to Orchard.

He explained that plans include a 7:30 a.m. departure, with the first stop scheduled in Bastrop where the group will breakfast. The tour will then travel on to Mer Rouge, Oak Grove, Lake Providence and Tallulah, where they will lunch.

From Tallulah, the itinerary includes stops in Delhi and Rayville before going home.

Mayors, councilmen and chamber of commerce officials of the different cities will be presented a key and an honorary citizenship to the City of Monroe as part of the good will tour.

Orchard said that the group will also hand out wooden nickels, with "Thank you, Neighbor!" written on them, and bags of water taken from the Ouachita River.

Chamber officials stated that this was the first such event this year staged by the committee, and that they plan to make similar trips in all sections of the trade area.

LSU, Tulane Given Grants By Foundation

WASHINGTON AP) — The National Science Foundation Saturday announced grants totaling $2,153,710 to help 54 colleges and universities improve their graduate research laboratories.

The grants are awarded on a matching basis which requires the recipient to provide at least 50 per cent of the funds needed for improvement.

Alan T. Waterman, director of the foundation, said the awards are to improve obsolete and "in many cases" totally inadequate graduate laboratories.

He said the nation's graduate laboratories, "vital to the national basic research effort, have not kept pace with the rapid growth of graduate science and engineering school enrollments or with the complexities of modern science."

The grants, for construction, modernization or conversion of laboratory facilities, included:

Florida:

Florida State University, Tallahassee $3,000

Louisiana

Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge $22,500

Tulane University, New Orleans $9,900

Huge Grouper Catch Record In Alabama

DAUPHIN ISLAND, Ala. (AP) —A record was broken Saturday when Herbie Hansen of Pass Christian, Miss., brought in a huge grouper at the Alabama deep sea fishing rodeo.

Hansen's 83½-pound catch more than doubled the previous rodeo mark of a 38-pound grouper set last year by Sam Zivitz of Mobile. Hansen was fishing about 70 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico when he snagged the fish.

The rodeo judge, Roy H. Martin of Panama City, Fla., had predicted that several records will fall before the competition ends Sunday.

Biggest fish registered the first day was a 402 - pound shark brought in by Harold Beck, Ocean Springs, Miss. The shark was 7½ pounds under the rodeo record.

Awaits Report

This column is still awaiting some down to the minute report as to just how to make those candle trees produce their marvelous display. Some say they know but we want to be able to tell just how to proceed this season has been until recently exceptionally dry and which has caused a setback to these unusual and popular beauties for late summer yard displays. Probably some florist will be able to give the much desired information.

Long In Last-Ditch Attempt For Votes

Long's final stump speech.

But Long could hardly see them as he told the Negroes, "I like white people, I like the colored, I like the Catholics, I like the Baptists, and I like the Jews. That I can take to heaven with me."

A few white people strolled up on the platform while a red station wagon with loudspeakers blared Long's staccatto voice up and down the main street of this country town about 30 miles south of Alexandria.

A hillbilly band earlier attracted the crowd.

"Anyone who wants to come up and shake hands with old Earl," he bellowed, "white, colored, Spanish, Mexican, Jew, Catholic, Protestant — I am your friend."

"You colored people," he ordered before handing out free groceries and free pails of lard, "don't you sell your vote, you hear me?"

"You'll lose the respect of your own people if you do. The polls close at 8 p.m. Put your hands over your heart and you'll walk into those polls with prestige."

"That L'il old McSween," Long smirked, "that l'il old McSween puts on gloves before he shakes hands with the voters.

"He called me a drunkard... the man doesn't live who ever saw me drunk. McSween was born with a silver spoon in his mouth and you couldn't get it out with a crowbar."

The laughing Negroes whooped and shouted, "That's right, that's right."

Long branded the congressman "catfish-mouth — talking out of both sides of his mouth."

As for Holt, his legislative leader who caused a special legislative session to walk out on the tempestuous Long, the former governor snarled:

"If Ben Holt runs out on the people like he run out on me, then God pity you."

Then Long mentioned Gov. Jimmie Davis, whom he voted for, reminding that the governor became ill flying over Alexandria two weeks ago. The 1960 Legislature had just ended.

"They put Davis in a hospital and gave him a little checkup," Long said. "When I needed a little checkup myself last year after my Legislature, they said I was nuts, I was crazy."

As Long roared on, the Negroes crowded in closer and closer. Long waved them back, "please get back," he urged, "give me a little more air."

Recalling his late brother, U.S. Rep. George Long of the eighth district, Long emphasized he was 15 years longer.

"Do you think Dr. Long was a good congressman?" he asked.

After a hearty chorus of agreement, Long yelled, "I want to take up where he left off."

"If I ever get back to power," Long said, "there'll be colored trade schools throughout the state — you won't ever have to dig ditches any more."

"They called me a grafter, a thief — I've never taken a crooked dollar in my life."

Shaking hands all around, Long slowly, majestically strolled down the long freight ramp, his shirt soaking wet, an old straw hat crumbled and the seat of his pants smudged by a dirt-covered chair.

Managed Economy Said Demos' Plan

taken over largely by the more radical segments of the party, he reported.

"In this group I would put the labor leaders, the leaders of the left wing intellectuals, farmers union and the more militant negro leaders and those in favor of the strongest possible civil rights plank."

This Republican observer told the Nixon forces he believed the Southern states, with the possible exception of Mississippi and South Carolina, would not bolt the party.

"The major weak link in the Democratic chain is the Negro vote," he noted. "They are not fully convinced Mr. Kennedy is their best champion and they look askance at Lyndon Johnson."

He said the Nixon forces could cut into the Negro votes in the big cities.

Labor's role at the Democratic convention, according to the observer, was this:

"The strategy of the AFL - CIO was to discourage their state and local affiliates from endorsing any presidential candidate in the primaries so that labor's support would not be fragmentized and thus when the convention opened they were able to deliver their united support to Kennedy.

"They were violently opposed to Johnson and are not happy at his choice for second place."

The Republican observer said he was convinced that the addition of Johnson to the ticket strengthens Kennedy.

"It is going to take a great deal of effort by the Republicans and the conservatives in both parties to defeat the ticket," he asserted.

"Incidentally, it points up how important it is to retain in the Congress conservatives in both parties to be a break on this revival of the new deal which is in the making."

Quite obviously, much of the information contained in the memorandum will help guide Republican strategy during the presidential campaign ahead.

"And even more damaging than this is the spectacle of these two party leaders grandly assuming the responsibility of dictating to the Platform Committee and to the convention the beliefs of the Republican party."

Goldwater asked if the GOP can expect the people's trust if the platform "is the result of a political deal."

"I believe this to be immoral politics," the senator said. "I also believe it to be self-defeating."

If the arrangement should go through unchallenged, Goldwater said, "it will be a Munich in two senses, that it subordinated principle to expediency; and that it guaranteed precisely the evil it was designed to prevent—in this case a Republican defeat in November."

Earlier, Goldwater had asserted that Nixon "surrendered" to Rockefeller.

Rogers Elected In Morehouse

BASTROP (Special) — Ward three in Morehouse Parish re-elected incumbent School board member T. A. Rogers in yesterday's primary election in which Rogers defeated Benny James 195 to 70.

In the ward 2 school board contest, Leonard Robinson and Felix Sutton were apparently headed for a runoff with complete unofficial returns showing 95 for Robinson, 74 for Sutton and 55 for Hardy Gunter, low man in the race.

New City Judge For Winnfield

WINNFIELD (Special) — Winnfield has a new city judge as a result of yesterday's balloting.

Negro Arrested On DWI Charge

Monroe police late yesterday arrested President Silas, 31, Negro, 506 North 9th St., Monroe, and charged him with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages, reckless driving and resisting arrest.

He was jailed under a $500 bond for the three counts. Silas was apprehended near his home about 5:30 p.m. He will be tried in Monroe city court.

ber, M. H. Head was defeated by Dwight Owens, a former member. Owens received 113 votes, against 40 for Head, and 32 for Raymond Sweet. Owens served on the board from 1948 until 1954, when Head defeated him.

Wheelis, who was successful in seeking his second term on the parish school board, received 187 votes against 180 for the elder Griggs. Griggs, too, is a former member of the board. Wheelis led in both of the two precincts in the ward.

When contacted, Trousdale, a Monroe attorney, said he "appreciated the expression of confidence and thanked the people of ward 10 for their support."

Rorex, a banking official, said he wished to "thank the people of ward 10 for the confidence placed in me."

Thompson said he regretted the decision, but added that he "wished all the luck in the world to both Mr. Rorex and Mr. Trousdale. I will work with both of them in any way I can."

Owens said he "wanted to thank the people for their work and support. I will serve them with dignity and honesty."

Riser, who goes into the run - off with Bennett, said he "appreciated the fine help and support I received in yesterday's election. I will continue into the second primary with a desire to win and asked for the continued support of the voters in Ward ."

Bennett said he "was pleased with the support he received. I will continue to work for a victory. I have worked for the good of the parish school system and will continue to do so."

Other candidates could not be contacted late last night.

Edwards Reelected In Sicily Island

GOSSIP BEHIND BARS

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — A gossip columnist for the State Prison's monthly newspaper, The Echo, has picked up a popular feature from a Broadway columnist. But instead of warning officials not to invite two prisoners to the same party, he warns, "Don't put in the same cell."

Man Faces Five Year Sentence

WIGGINS, Miss. (AP) — Julian B. Campbell, 53-year-old Wiggins businessman, faced a five-year sentence Saturday on a charge of arson growing out of the burning of a two-story house he owns.

His attorneys said they planned to appeal the conviction, which came Friday after a Stone County Circuit Court jury deliberated slightly more than half an hour.

Also receiving five-year sentences on arson charges in the same case were Herschell Smith, 21, and W. O. King, 52, who had pleaded guilty previously.

'Ladies Only' Sale Enters Third Week

Downtown merchants are offering more "hot shot" specials for the "For Ladies Only" promotion as it goes into its third week tomorrow.

C. W. Rousseau, chairman of the Special Events Committee of Retail Merchants Division and Monroe Chamber of Commerce (who are sponsoring the program) said that the bargains were simply "fantastic," and that they were expecting even more than the 500 ladies who turned out for last week's program.

Once again the doors will open at 9:15 at the Paramount Theater, where the program is being staged free of charge to all ladies, and the program will get underway at 9:30 with the showing of a movie. The movie for tomorrow is "Love Is A Many Splendored Tihng."

During the morning's program, 10 lucky ladies will win one of the gifts which were given by merchants participating in the program. Present to welcome the ladies and present the gifts, valued at $200, will be Chamber of Commerce Manager Jim Williams.

HOT SHOT SPECIALS

As each lady enters the door, she will be handed a numbered bargain sheet listing "hot shot" specials which have not been pre-advertised, and are good for Monday only. The gifts will be presented by drawing a number, and the lady holding the sheet bearing that number will receive a prize, such as a ladies cigarette lighter, a Jantzen beach towel, one piece of luggage, an artistic table lamp, a free modeling course, and many others.

Some of the bargains ladies will find on their "hot shot" specials list include two pairs of 60-gauge, 15-denier nylons, for $1; Fashion folding table, $9.95; a stock of $5.98 and $10.98 summer skirts at half price; a 10-inch silver tray for $5.95; milkwhite glass bake and serve ware, four designs to choose from, for 88 cents; ladies dotted swiss dresses, $1 each; nylon slips, $5.99 value, for $2.99, on a first-come, first-serve, basis; and slim jims, burmuda shorts, skirts and blouses, two of the above for $5.

Rouseau added that once again, for the ladies convenience, Hemp's Cafeteria, the Virginia and the Frances hotels, are offering shopper's special luncheons for the ladies.

PARTICIPATING MERCHANTS

Other merchants participating in the event, which is scheduled for three more weeks after tomorrow, include Hemenway's; Holloway-Thompson; J. C. Penney Co.; Keene's Shoe Store; Silverstein's; Grayson's; Gay Clothing; Howard Bros.; Bond's Bakery; Central Bank; Patricia Stevens School of Charm; Fink's; Ouachita National Bank; Bodan's Drug Store; the Palace; Montgomery Ward; Dew Music Co., United Dollar Store; Famous Brand Shoes; Style Shop; Belk-Gallant; F. W. Woolworth; Field's; R & A Jewelers; and Dew Music Co.

Two Accidents Injure Pair Here Saturday

Two presons were injured in separate Monroe auto accidents yesterday.

Mrs. Margaret Roberts, 38, 102 South 5th St., Monroe was still in the St. Francis Hospital late last night after being involved in a collision early yesterday morning. Her condition was not believed serious, but attendants were holding her for observation.

Police said the accident occurred at the intersection of Oak and 7th Streets when the car in which Mrs. Roberts was a passenger apparently failed to heed a stop sign and ran into the path of an auto driven by Richard Giuerriero, 24, 504 Speed St., Monroe.

R. N. Roberts, driver of the car in which Mrs. Roberts was riding told police he did not see the stop sign. No charges were filed yesterday pending further investigation.

William A. Newman, 55, 505 Moore Ave., Monroe was slightly injured late yesterday when his auto was struck at the intersection of North 14th and Adams Streets by a vehicle driven by Roosevelt Johnson, 23, Negro, 4105 Pippin St., Monroe.

Newman, reportedly went to a private physician for first aid treatment.

Investigating officers said the car driven by Johnson attempted to pass an auto stopped at a stop sign and collided with the Newman vehicle.

McEacharn Bows To Green In Richland

DELHI (Special) — Truman Green, Delhi contractor, defeated incumbent Neal McEacharn Jr., in yesterday's election for school board.

McEacharn, Delhi merchant and veteran member of the school board, received 363 votes and Green received 504.

Police Probing Thefts In West Monroe Home

West Monroe police yesterday were investigating the reported theft of a ring and a radio-clock combination from a West Monroe home.

Gordon Smith, 303 North 5th St., told officers someone entered his apartment sometimes last week and took the articles. He said he had left his door open.

Police said the missing articles were described as a gold dinner ring, oblong shaped with three stones and a pink and white clock radio.

Officers late yesterday were still looking for the thief.

FOR CONSERVATIVES

Another Shock On GOP Platform

CHICAGO (AP) — Republican conservatives have another shock in store when the party's labor plank is unveiled, it was reliably reported Saturday.

As presently written — and the language is expected to stand up —it will contain a proposed revision of the government's rigid method of dealing with national emergency strikes.

It will specifically support the present right of employers and labor unions to negotiate agreements requiring workers to be union members.

It will endorse adding millions of workers to coverage of the minimum wage law and call for an unspecified boost in the present $1-an - hour minimum. The Democratic platform calls for a boost to $1.25 an hour.

The GOP plank will pledge government aid to migratory farm workers and strengthening of labor standards laws.

After these highlights of the proposed labor plank were learned from other sources, a reporter asked Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell what he thought of it.

"It's a strong, decisive, prolabor platform, a realistic platform," Mitchell said.

"The people advocating tighter controls over labor that is, putting unions under the antitrust and right-to-work laws—have been defeated."

Such proposals had been advocated by the National Assn. of Manufacturers and U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Mitchell played a key role in framing the GOP labor plank which contains positions he has advocated for some time.

The matter of revising national emergency strike procedures was a point covered in the policy agreement reached by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Nixon and Rockefeller called for "improved procedures for the resolution of disputes endangering the national welfare." The present Taft-Hartley law prescribes a rigid set of procedures for the government to follow in such cases—ending with a court-ordered maximum 80-day cooling-off period to stop crucial walkouts.

That procedure was the one President Eisenhower followed in last year's record steel strike.

The idea of an arsenal of alternative methods would remove the certainty that a court injunction would be used. It would tend to increase bargaining pressure, particularly on management, to reach agreements before strikes developed.

One such alternative probably would be power for the White House to appoint a fact-finding board to sift issues and recommend settlement terms. Eisenhower resisted repeated union efforts to get him to name such a fact board in the steel strike because it wasn't specifically sanctioned by law.

Rockefeller has supported compulsory arbitration of issues in such emergency strikes. Nixon has condemned this approach. It was believed the platform will avoid mentioning compulsory arbitration as a possible procedure in such strikes.

Foes of compulsory arbitration feel it would amount to government wage fixing that in turn could lead to price fixing, at least in a few major industries.

Endorsement of compulsory union membership provisions in labor contracts would put the GOP against a federal right-to-work law while preserving the right of states to enact such laws banning the union shop. Nineteen states, mostly in the South, have such laws in effect.

The Democrats came out for repeal of the federal law proviso allowing states to enact such laws. GOP leaders said they regarded that pledge as meaningless since Democrats from states with right-to-work laws rule congressional machinery when Democrats control Congress.

Rockefeller said again Saturday he is opposed to state right-to-work laws.

Drinking Habits

NEW YORK (UPI) — About 96 per cent of all advertising agency executives drink — but nearly all are moderate drinkers, claims Printers' Ink. The magazine quoted a survey made by Kalak Water Co., producer of mineral water sold as a "tapering off" beverage for heavy drinkers.

Science Workshop Holds Last Meet

Money is being well spent for science teachers and materials in many schools, Howard P. McCollum of the Louisiana State Department of Education told the Science Workshop participants at yesterday's final session at Northeast State.

As long as school administrators, parents and teachers are interested, he said, the greater will be the progress in classrooms and the nation.

Approximately 185 teachers attended the conference, which opened Thursday under sponsorship of Northeast and the State Department of Education. The event marked the tenth in a series of science workshops in which several department consultants have participated actively this year at state colleges and universities.

McCollum termed yesterday's attendance a "great show of professionalism." Hubert S. Bankston, also of the State Department, called it an "eloquent testimony of interest in science."

Practical aspects in effecting a sound science program were stressed throughout the sessions. Reports from group meetings given at the last assembly emphasized the value of participation, demonstrations, methods of teaching and source materials, which teachers derived from meetings.

The workshop program revolved primarily about group sessions, designed for levels of primary, elementary, junior and senior high school teaching, with a consultant meeting the same group throughout the conference.

Northeast's Dean of Education T. Eugene Holtzclaw worked consistently with visiting personnel, and several of the college instructors in education and science assisted. Dr. William K. Russell, Arnold R. Kilpatrick and Marcus Mapp worked with demonstrations audio - visual aids in several meetings.

The workshop group gave special recognition to E. J. Foster for his continued promotion of science interest in schools throughout this area, particularly through the medium of science fairs, which have become traditional events at Northeast.

The program of conference work was carried out by the following group meetings and their consultants: primary - Miss Lucille England of the Southeastern Louisiana College Laboratory School; elementary - Mrs. Agnes Miller of the Plum Street Elementary School; junior high - Joseph Glorioso, supervisor of science, Department of Education; and senior high - Theodore Griffin, principal of Market Street Elementary School and instructor at Opelousas High School.

Multi-Million Dollar Property Value Offered

Today's Morning World carries a classified ad for what is probably one of the biggest real estate sales of the year. The one ad, and it is a small one in size, advertises for sale property in amounts totaling $7,676,000.

Four tracts in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana being offered for sale have a total acreage of 125,480. The Louisiana tract is in Tensas Parish.

One 40,000 acre tract is offered for $2,400,000; one 7,480 acre tract is going for $400,000; a 36,000 acre parcel is offered at $2,376,000 and the fourth acreage — 42,000 — is priced at $2,500,000.

The sale is offered as a timberman's special.

Coffee Time

HOBOKEN, N. J. (UPI) — A survey by the Pan American Coffee Bureau shows that 43 per cent of the nation's 66-million-man work force takes at least one coffee break a day.

About one out of every five workers brews his own coffee on the job, the bureau added.

Tokyo Gathers Storm Warnings

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Wilson Ewing of Monroe recently returned from a world tour. The primary purpose of the tour was to get first-hand information, as distinguished from diplomatic information, on what the ordinary people of various sections of the world think of the peoples of the United States and of their government. This investigation included a lengthy visit in Japan shortly before President Eisenhower's scheduled trip there. While there she was able to observe the "storm warnings" that culminated in the cancellation of the President's trip. In the following article she relates these and other observations.)

By MRS. WILSON EWING

I came away from Japan deeply impressed with the belief that the majority of the Japanese people have a warm feeling for America.

This is a direct contradiction to the apparent explosion of animosity toward the United States that forced the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

But, having talked with farmers, businessmen and other citizens during my tour of Japanese cities and countryside before the brewing storm was climaxed by the wrath of leftist elements, I came away convinced that the vast numbers of people have not deserted the friendship that has developed with the United States since World War II.

The actions of the students in demonstrating against the president's visit and the Japanese-United States treaty were the actions of the minority.

That the actions of so few could disrupt high level diplomacy seems explainable by one strident factor.

The students are of a generation caught in the middle of a transition from the feudal kingdom of old Japan to the experiment of Democracy of a new Japan.

They are confused and at an impressionable stage. For the first time they are tasting the freedom of expression, and there is a tendency to be carried away by that freedom.

At the same time, the government of this democracy in its infancy has not had sufficient experience to cope with the vociferous demands of a pressure group — no matter how much in the minority it is.

There is another simmering volcano that I discovered on my trip to the Land of the Rising Sun. It is both emotional and physical. It has played an important part in Japan's past and I think it will play a dominant role in its future.

It is the lack of land. The Japanese people, as one told me, deeply feel the loss of their islands to China and Russia. Their land mass has been reduced by 45 per cent. Yet the population has increased by over 20 million.

Everywhere I traveled in this Oriental nation I found the land under cultivation — almost every inch that could be transplanted to productivity.

The stretches of flat land were cultivated up to the edge of railroad tracks and roads, the mountains up to the rim, and the valleys down to the water's edge.

These were the things I saw and felt. They were the answers to the questions that penetrated my thoughts when I left the United States on this trip.

It was on a Tuesday morning, March 24, that we disembarked at Yokohoma, Japan. I was accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Harrington of Monroe, and Japan was our first principal stop on a round-the-world trip that took us through Hong Kong, India and Europe before we returned to the United States in mid-June.

On this day I awakened long before sun up with the startled realization that this was the day we would first glimpse the Land of the Rising Sun.

In the limited light of the early dawn as our boat glided silently past the partially submerged hulk of a ship — a casualty perhaps of World War II — the dim outline of the islands looked like the humped spine of some monstrous prehistoric creature.

Innumerable small craft began to appear, darting frenziedly to and fro like angry gnats in the early morning stillness. My mind plumpeted back through the corridors of memory to the grim and anguished war years filled with acts of violence, beastliness, barbarism and atrocities.

Time came into focus again and I remembered that that had been yesterday. Let us look at Japan and her people today.

Customs formalities concluded, we proceeded via Kamikaze taxi to Tokyo, the largest city in the world with a population of nine million — about 10 per cent of the whole nation, this in spite of having been devastated by fire in 1601, 1657 and 1772.

In 1923 the city was almost completely destroyed by earthquake and in 1945 again by air raids.

Tokyo is fundamentally industrial, but has more colleges, universities and other educational facilities than any other city in Japan.

The density of its population and limited space in some areas is unbelievable. But there are many beautiful parks, gardens and miles of lovely semi-rural countryside once you leave the commercial centers of this giant metropolis which covers three counties.

A day after our arrival, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived in Japan for a visit. Japanese officialdom and the press greeted Dr. Adenauer warmly.

I remember being surprised, though, in reading of students distributing leaflets praising Hitler at the airport when Dr. Adenauer arrived.

Other significant comment that day appeared in an editorial of the Japan Times, an English language newspaper.

The editorial chastised the Kishi government for going ahead with a discussion of the Japan-U. S. treaty in a Diet committee meeting after the opposition has walked out. It criticized the government for not further discussing the situation with opponents and instead continuing alone.

This was the first slight and distant rumbling of thunder that I heard in Tokyo, which was to reverberate increasingly louder and louder and gain such momentum.

However, it was by no means the beginning of this treaty opposition. I had read in January in the American press of the effort of some 1,200 leftist students who swarmed to Tokyo's International Airport, shouting insults and waving Red flags as they attempted to prevent Mr. Kishi's departure to the United States. Mr. Kishi and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter were to sign the new U. S.-Japanese Alliance that extends America's lease on Japanese bases for another 10 years and gives Japan, for the first time since World War II, an equal say in determining strategy in the Far East.

A furious fight was expected in the Japanese Diet before ratification of the treaty could be accomplished, for the socialists and pacifists were opposing an alliance with the United States. The pacifists desired neutrality and the Socialist Party was a strong advocate of a rapproachment between Japan, Soviet Russia and Red China and a correspondingly marked move away from the United States.

These, along with other leftist elements in the country, were being exceedingly vociferous in their opposition to the treaty.

Mr. Inejiro Asanuma, newly elected Socialist Party chairman, was reported to have remarked "We new executives will do everything in our power to block the ratification of the new Japan - U. S. Security treaty."

From other recent speeches of his, many felt his ideas were hardly to be distinguished from those held by the extreme leftists.

I have been told, though not able to verify authoritatively, that this minority opposition represents approximately four per cent of the Japanese people. I believe this to be true for certainly as we traveled through the grass roots of Japan the conservative farming population gave every evidence of staunch support of the ruling Liberal - Democratic Party and a very fond and close attachmen to the United States.

On every occasion wherever discussion was possible — whether it be with a student guide or a Japanese businessman — I got the same reaction.

One gentleman's reply to our questioning was that "empty drums make a loud noise and all of this opposition fervor reflects the feeling of only a few."

A young girl of perhaps 20 years of age — a university student who was my guide for a number of days and with whom I discussed many things made the following observations:

"The Japanese people have grown to love the American people and feel we were most fortunate that the occupation was by Americans instead of the Reds. The Americans have helped us rebuild our country. They wrote compulsory education into our constitution and we are now 99 per cent literate.

"We do regret that we are not permitted an army for self-defense. We have only the Home Security young men in uniform to depend on."

Another guide, a young man with me as I toured Nogoya and expresssed surprise at the wide streets and vast numbers of fine contemporary buildings (Nogoya was practically leveled in the bombings of World War II) said:

"It looks like the war was a good thing for Japan. Things are much better than they were before. Look at this city — much better.

"The people of Japan were pushed into the war by the military. They did not want the war."

Another middle - aged Japanese citizen made these remarks:

"Things are better for the poorer people since the war as the big land holders lost their lands and the government sold it off in small amounts to small farmers. Our people have more freedom and our way of life has improved. Our diet has improved, our health better. Salk vaccine is compulsory for grade children. Factory and government workers have social security.

"Nine years of schooling is compulsory — six elementary and three years of junior high. We have not nearly enough schools though, and not many young men and women are going into the teaching profession for there are not enough schools to employ them."

Another remarked that the people of Japan do not want a big army. They would rather have schools than warships.

The comment of another was that in his opinion America lost the war they had won when Gen. MacArthur was removed, for the people of Japan loved and respected him. His knowledge of their needs and the firmness of his administration gave them stability and security as they strove to rebuild their country.

Japan's rebounding industrial empire is witnessed by the phenomenal increase in its export goods such as iron and steel, electronics items, automobiles, cement, textiles, cameras, wristwatches, and its growth as a first rate ship building country.

Most Japanese products for export today are of first quality. The government insists on rigid standards of quality — barring exports unless these standards are met.

In just 14 years Japan's war-devastated economy is rebuilt and booming as never before. Such tremendous burgeoning of productivity, industry and population growth cannot conceivably be contained for long in its present boundaries.

They need space desperately, and this poses a problem the western world will have to face and cope with.

What are the Japanese people like?

Their early history is marked by eras of beauty and art, peace and calm — centuries of pacifism. Their manner of life was the quintessence of refinement.

But, from 1185 A.D. until the 20th Century, a very warlike and military aspect of Japanese history followed — climaxing with the barbarism of World War II.

A question so important to the world today is which aspect of their national personality is dominant today. Pacifism? Or militarism?

Japan is an isolated archipelago. Their customs and ways of thinking are so vastly different from ours and their written language is so exceedingly difficult that through the centuries these have constituted a barrier separating the Japanese people from other civilizations. Consequently, Japan is even more alien and exotic than are the other countries of the Far and the Middle East.

Because of these conditions they have retained more of their primitive ways. In doing this they have also retained a simplicity comprised of honesty and kindness and truthfulness.

We were treated everywhere and at all times in Japan with the utmost consideration and kindness. We knew not to tip in the hotels for there is an added tax to cover gratuities for service.

But we also quickly learned never to offer a tip to any Japanese anywhere for special service. It was inevitably refused with a flush of color to the face and much embarrassment, where expressions of gratitude and appreciation brought forth a look of shining and real joy.

We were in Japan while the students were on vacation between school semesters. There were hundreds of bus loads of students wherever we traveled in Japan. They toured the country as we did, visiting shrines, temples and all points of historic interest.

With the slightest encouragement they attempted to engage me in conversation. They were so ardently eager to see if they could understand my English or me a bit of theirs.

The Japanese family unit is a strong structure. They seem to live, except for sleeping and some eating, outside their homes. This I presume is because there is such an exceeding paucity of comfort and space within. The most general recreation seems to be visiting their temples, shrines, and museums.

Paralleling their absorption in the past is the intense interest of the Japanese people and especially the youth in all things western and particularly American. This is found to a markedly greater degree in Tokyo than in other cities of Japan.

This would quite naturally be true for it is here that most of the youth of Japan is found attending their colleges and universities.

It is this youth of the 20th Century Japan which is so often called its lost generation. One cannot deny that with the disappearance of the Father Emperor image there is much rebellion against many things Japanese — even against the family which in Japan has always been held sacred. American influences are found at every step and turn.

Jazz music and songs forbidden before the war are now used and loved. It was utterly incongruous to be walking along an ancient woodland path leading to a centuries old shrine and to hear jazz music emanating from a side stall along the way. On television the ratio of westerns such as Gunsmoke is 4 to 1. Shakespearean plays are generously sprinkled among the traditional. Jazz is called rock-a-billy music.

American films are being shown in practically every theater. In going through the listings in the paper I would find perhaps 10 American films listed and one Japanese.

The problems accompanying the split personality of its youth gives Japan the highest suicide rate in the world.

It is a radical element of this emerging, searching youth which the communists have succeeded in arousing and prevailed upon to demonstrate so violently their opposition to the Japan - U. S. alliance. Offsetting this element is the majority of conservative, sober, thoughtful youth, striving diligently to find themselves, their purpose and niche in life.

One of our return trips to Tokyo was at the conclusion of Chancellor Adenauer's visit. Three universities had bestowed honors on him despite frenzied communist activity in an attempt to blacken the motives of his visit.

Such a warm and complimentary reception of Chancellor Adenauer by the emperor, the official government of Japan and the conservative student body of Tokyo portended to the communists an immeasurably greater reception of President Eisenhower. This they simply could not risk or tolerate on top of the unprecedented reception the president had recently received while visiting countries of the Middle East.

Consequently, all of the forces of communism focused upon President Eisenhower's visit to Japan and succeeded in creating a situation stormy and violent enough to force the cancellation of the president's visit and a cirsis in the Liberal - Democratic Party. One might well ask how such a minority could wreak such catastrophe upon a majority.

The only plasuibel answer would seem to be that the Japanese nation was so engrossed with its burgeoning economy and well-being, that they were sleepily unaware of the extent of communist influences on many of its confused student youth.

The catastrophic result may well be a great blessing to the nation if it awakens the people to an awareness of the seriousness of this situation existing within this country.

Should the people of Japan contain and dissolve this particular element of danger, which we think, hope and pray they will, this is still just one facet of their great problem as well as that of the West.

Austerity, sacrifice and hard work are natural to the Japanese people. The economic status of the average man is appalling. I was told that most workers live on a monthly pay of about 1,800 yen, or $50, and this is an increase in the past few years.

Still they are growing, a strong and a healthy nation. The austerity of their way of life and their innate industriousness will inevitably increase the already unbelievably increased productivity statistics.

Something has to give and it looks like that something must be area.

Because of its isolation through past centuries and a lingering primitiveness the nation is still a youthful one. But it will very soon indeed be a full grown and mature one.

The dual customs of the East and the West will make their civilization no less a true one than is our own because of its homogeneous structure.

If in their maturity the Japanese people outgrow their tendency to place themselves and their fate in the hands of a hero personality and instead strongly build and support a system of government of free enterprise and political democracy the rising sun is sure to shine more brightly on their fair and promising land.

Negro Airman At England AFB Dies In Wreck

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — A Negro airman stationed at England Air Force Base was killed early Saturday when the car he was driving overturned at a suburban Alexandria intersection.

Police identified the victim as Ravenel R. Parrott. He was a member of the 342nd fighter squadron which will soon be transferred to Greenland.

Two other airmen, John Miles and Edward Porter, both Negroes, were injured slightly.

List Cutbacks In Catahoula Welfare Rolls

JONESVILLE (Special) — A total of 16 families involving 65 children have been cut from the Catahoula parish welfare rolls due to laws enacted by the recent legislature. This is approximately 10 per cent of the families in the parish receiving aid for dependent children according to C. K. Pierce, Director of the Catahoula Parish Welfare Department.

There were 10 families involving 46 children, in a break down of the statistics, who were cut from the rolls because the mother gave birth to an illegitimate child after certification for welfare. All 10 cases involved were Negroes according to Pierce.

Any or all of the families may reapply at a later date in the event they have straightened out their primary cause of being rejected it was pointed out. The welfare will make a suitable home study of any reapplications in the illegitimate children and report their findings to the welfare board, which will rule whether or not they have met the requirements for further assistance.

However, it was pointed out by Pierce, that in the common law marriage cases there were five families involving 19 children who were cut from the rolls in the parish. One of these families was white, the other four Negroes, Pierce said.

A check by the department under the suitable home policy of the law is now being made on all cases where children are not receiving assistance. "But, we do not anticipate many cases to be involved where homes will not be found suitable," Pierce said. "It has been our policy in the past to make close check on all cases," he pointed out.

Soviet Agent Was Trapped 'Red-Handed'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Petr Y. Ezhov, Soviet diplomat who is being booted out of the country, was duped and trapped red-handed in espionage activity by an undercover agent, authoritative sources reported Saturday.

The agent was identified as the anonymous "commercial photographer" who, the State Department said, was paid by Ezhov, third secretary of the Soviet Embassy, to take forbidden aerial photographs of American military installations and U.S. cities that might be targets in event of war.

While the FBI declined to comment on the case, it was learned that the agent succeeded in winning Ezhov's confidence and kept the FBI closely informed of the embassy official's spy operations.

The American's undercover role also explained why officials said in announcing Ezhov's expulsion Friday that they were confident he never obtained photos of any intelligence value.

While, according to the State Department announcement, Ezhov paid the "photographer" more than $1,000 for aerial photographs, they were carefully screened for security purposes before they were handed over to him.

The disclosure of the agent's undercover role explained why his identity was carefully protected and why the Justice Department showed no indication that Ezhov's "photographer" would be prosecuted.

Well-placed sources reported that the agent described Ezhov as a "skittish" operator. The Russian would sometimes make an appointment with a contact in a restaurant, then suddenly get up and leave because he didn't like the looks of the people sitting nearby.

The State Department publicly announced Friday that Ezhov gave the undercover agent money to take flying lessons so he could snap the aerial photos. He also offered to buy the agent a plane so he could carry out "systematic aerial reconnaissance photography," the announcement said.

The 39-year-old Ezhov is the 12th Soviet diplomat to be ordered out of the country in the last 10 years because of spy activities.

While the State Department demanded that his "immediate departure," he is being given several days to pack and settle his affairs.

His departure is expected sometime early next week.

Group Fails On Rights Issue

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republican platform subcommittee on civil rights failed Saturday in an effort to work out a quick agreement on a plank conforming to the accord between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

After a brief afternoon session, Chairman Joseph F. Carlino of New York said the rights subcommittee would not meet again until Sunday morning. He indicated he and other leaders of the Platform Committee would engage in private negotiations outside the subcommittee in the interim.

Earlier a member of the group, National Committeeman Thomas Stagg of Louisiana had predicted a majority would not accept anything as strong as the Nixon-Rockefeller formula.

Speaker Set For Summer Science Meet

DR. CARL HOFFMAN

The chairman of the University of Arkansas' zoology department will speak to a summer science institute at Northeast Louisiana State College next Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Carl Hoffman, chairman of that department since 1957, will be the last in a series of seven lecturers to appear before the summer institute in biology and chemistry.

Hoffman's topic will be limnology, which is the scientific study of fresh waters, especially ponds and lakes. He will speak at 10 a.m. Thursday and Friday in 100 Administration Building on campus.

The nine - week institute, financed by the National Science Foundation, is designed for high-school science teachers. It ends Aug. 6.

Hoffman went to the Universtiy of Arkansas as an instructor in 1938 and with the exception of several years in the Navy has been there ever since. In 1949 he became a full professor and in 1957 he was named chairman of the zoology department.

The guest lecturer spent 1944-46 in the Navy, where he was an aviation physiologist. Before going to Arkansas, he had been an instructor at Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis., and a teaching fellow at the University of Michigan.

Hoffman's research interests have centered on limnology, aquatic insects and aviation physiology.

During the summers he has held such positions as aquatic biologist with the Institute for Fisheries Research in Michigan and with the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission. He has also been a faculty member on the National Science Foundation summer institute at the University of Arkansas. Since 1957 Hoffman has been a member of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission.

Hoffman received his bachelor's degree from Lawrence College and his master's degree and Ph. D. from the University of Michigan. He was born in Appleton, Wis., is married and has two daughters and one son.

Hoffman is a member of the Ecological Society of America, the Limnological Society, the American Microscopical Society, the the American Fisheries Society, Arkansas Academy of Science and the American Society of Zoologists.

Passman Asks For Vigilance For Freedom

Freemasons attending a special program at Sterlington Saturday night were summoned by Congressman Otto E. Passman to be "ever vigilant and watchful of the interests and honor of our country."

Addressing a meeting honoring charter members and past masters of the Sterlington lodge, the veteran Fifth District national legislator urged that Masons "strive unseasingly to promote those great principles for which our brethren have labored — principles which bring hope to the hearts of men everywhere."

He enumerated some of these principles as the existence of God, immortality of the soul, the search for knowledge, loyalty to our country, fellowship with our brethren, the relief of the distressed, freedom of religion, and the separation of church and state."

Congressman Passman termed it "our duty, as free American citizens, to see that the wall of separation of church and state, which was written into the Bill of Rights and bequested to us as a part of the American tradition, is maintained."

He said, "We must guard that wall against the smallest breach,"

He emphasized that Masons have a "positive responsibility to identify ourselves with the cause of and programs for good government."

"A true Mason loves his country and strives in every way to support loyally the institutions of regularly constituted, just and equitable government," Congressman Passman explained.

"He is not afraid," he continued, "of letting his light shine before men.

"He venerates Deity according to his own religious beliefs and accords to every man the same right and privilege.

"And," he said, "the Mason believes in enlightenment and ardently supports public education, recognizing the fact that ignorance enslaves and that illiteracy, superstition, crime and vice are boon companions."

The Saturday night program at Sterlington was arranged by Robert W. Cretney, of Monroe, a past grand master of Louisiana Masons, who is a charter member and past master of the Sterlington lodge. Congressman Passman also is a past Louisiana Masonic grand master.

Calhoun Gas Plant Given Tax Relief

Representatives of the new Calhoun Gasoline Plant, located at Calhoun, were granted a 10-year industrial exemption on an anticipated cost of $1,242,000 by the Louisiana Department of Commerce and Industry Friday.

The plant, which is scheduled for completion in October, will be able to produce 75 million cubic feet of gas per day, according to officials.

It will manufacture propane, butane, motor fuel, kerosene and gas oil from natural gas.

The industrial exemption was granted to W. C. Feazel, Lallage Feazel, G. M. Anderson, Gertrude F. Anderson and Southwest Gas Producing Company.

The exemption is for the construction of fabricated steel buildings to house generators, boilers, instrument control and other auxiliary structures which will form part of plant facilities.

PHOTOGRAPHER RECORDS Scenic Beauty

"Some people photograph human nature, but I photograph nature," said Greg Hare of the News-Star — World staff.

He was pointing out that he aims for outdoor scenes featuring almost any of the inexhaustible assortment of elements to be found, from mountains, streams, trees, flowers, to animals and insects.

Some photographs are closeups providing detailed studies of flowers, leaves and insects, or domestic animals and birds. Others show broad sweeps of nature, water cascading over rocks, a snow - crested mountain seen on a vacation trip, and more familiar sights in the pine hills and the flatlands nearer home.

Although he is not drawn by compositions featuring people, a field which has an extensive following of lens specialists, he is adept at this type of photography.

His daily assignment is that of chief engraver for the Monroe papers.

He takes many photographs on fine grain 35 millimeter film, some of which he enlarges many times their original size, still maintaining clarity of image and tone.

The photograph showing the snow - trimmed heights of Grand Teton Mountains in Wyoming was shot on 35 MM film in early morning from a vantage point on Signal Mountain, some 10 or 15 miles away. It was taken during a mid-summer vacation trip.

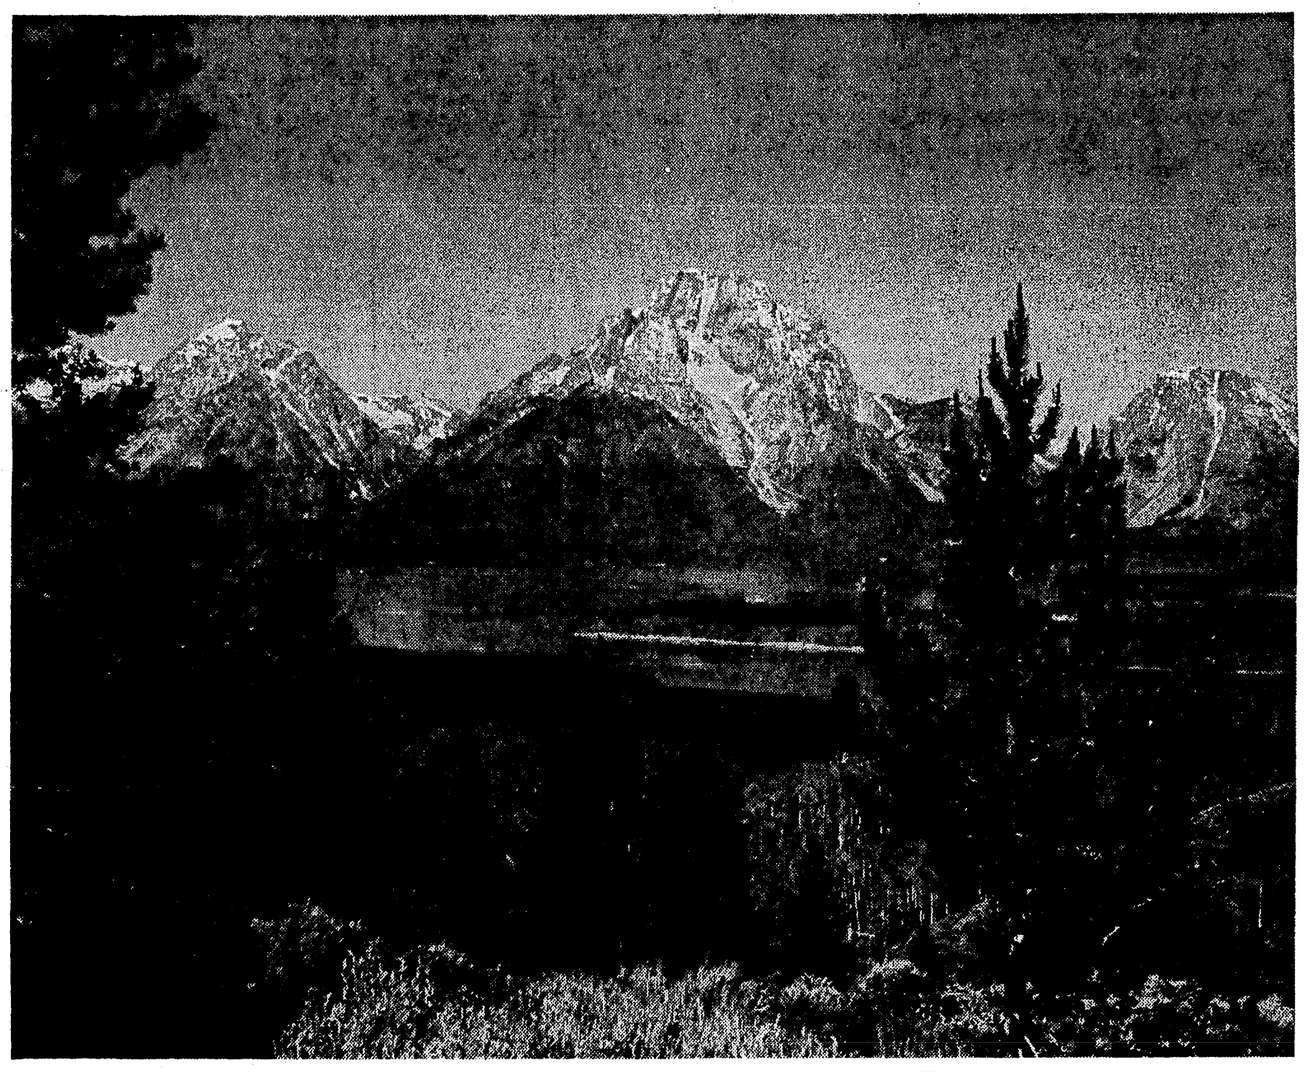
The other scene taken on 35MM film is that of the daylilies. The locale was at his home in Swartz community. Time was between 3:30 and 4 p.m.

The dramatic lighting effect was explained this way by Hare: "I shot directly into the sun, which was behind the cloud in the center of the scene, giving a silhouette effect."

Hare is a flower lover, an aid in giving special photographic treatment to such subjects.

The "President Herbert Hoover' rose, with pink blossom, and the double zinnia with a small moth - like butterfly at work on it, were shot on 2¼-inch film, at his home.

Daylilies Silhouetted Against A Cloudbank Shielding The Sun



Grand Teton Mountains With Mid-Summer Snow Trimming

MANY ANSWER Rocky Challenge

EDITOR'S NOTE: Nobody asks an outdoor lover why he goes outdoors, but people are always asking mountain lovers why they climb mountains. According to Jim Klobuchar, who works in Minneapolis but has scaled the Matterhorn, and various peaks in Wyoming, that's a major drawback of the sport. Here's what he has to say of its virtues.

By JIM KLOBUCHAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

The summit of the Matterhorn at an hour of threatened storm is a place of gray, uneasy solemnity.

This is a mountain of legend one that occupies a place of reverence in the history of climbing. At one time its razor-fine ridges, its brittle faces and its posture of arrogant aloofness made it a tyrant of the high country.

Then it was solved and became, on one route at least, what old-time climbers call "an easy day for a lady."

But it remains unruly and unpredictable, and the approach of bad weather breathes into its high cliffs a sudden hostility that awakens its old character.

The husky Swiss mountaineer knew this yet there was a smile on his lips and an impish sparkle in his eyes. In the shifting mist that smothered the mountain he could not resist a gentle jab of irony.

"Observe, my friend," he said to me with the sweeping gesture of a tour guide, "the wonderful view of the Alps around you."

The view was miserable. It was no view at all. There was the dull white of the summit ridge, quickly swallowed by the mist.

He looked thoughtfully at his client to see if it mattered. Then he nodded. "There are other things to enjoy about climbing," he said.

ROMANTIC, SINISTER

Another smile, and the subject was dropped. The "why" of climbing is a stubborn question that can be answered with complicated explanations or flip rejoinders but seldom to the full satisfaction of the one who asks or the one who answers.

It will ever be divorced from danger, of course. It is this quality that gives it a reputation sometimes romantic, sometimes sinister, and well laced with hokum and myth.

But in most mountain ranges, such as the Tetons in Wyoming, there are routes that can be handled by climbers of modest ability as well as climbs that demand the ultimate in technique, endurance, nerve and hardware.

There is a common denominator for both groups — the stimulation of tackling a problem that is within the climber's capability.

This is the challenge in climbing. The image of a climber gazing hungrily at a distant peak and vowing to conquer it "because it is there" has been overdrawn so badly it is now a caricature.

Overdone, too, is the notion that a man on a mountain is a man in the grip of reckless, hellbent urges that put the idea of "getting to the top" ahead of common sense safety. Most people who climb don't do it compulsively.

But some do, the heretics and heroes of mountaineering who have performed some of its greatest deeds, and filled many of its graves.

Such a man was Hermann Buhl, an incredible Austrian who as a youth climbed barefooted on the rock faces of his native mountains too poor to afford boots.

In 1953, climbing alone because of his impatience with his partner, he slogged and clawed unaided the final 4,000 feet of the 26,620-foot Himalayan giant, Nanga Parbat. Overtaken by darkness on the descent, he spent the frigid night pinned to the rocks in the stratosphere a few hundred feet below the summit. He survived to return to camp after 41 hours alone on a mountain that had killed 32 before him.

Buhl was one of those driven to climb—the word might have been fly, run or fight in another setting —by a force he did not try to control.

For every Hermann Buhl there are a hundred climbers who are satisfied with a hard workout on rock or snow. Most of these have enough respect for their own limitations to stay away from trouble.

Rocket Launching Vet

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) They called the rocket "Bumper." It was a makeshift vehicle of two stages, built by marrying a German V-2 and an Army Wac-Corporal.

The launching stand was a plumber's nightmare: An 80-foot spiderweb of pipe and scaffolding, weighted at the base with sandbags. Wires, cables and assorted gear hung limply from its sides.

After five days of frustrating labor, and one misfire, Bumper blasted off in a swirl of fire and thunder at 9:29 a. m. July 24, 1950 — just 10 years ago. The rocket performed perfectly and dropped into the Atlantic 50 miles offshore.

FIRST

That was the first missile shot from Cape Canaveral, proving ground for America's military missiles and her biggest port of departure for space.

The changes at Cape Canaveral in 10 years have been startling. Before that first missile crew moved in, the Cape was a desolate arrowhead of land jutting into the ocean. It was a wasteland of scrub brush, inhabited by alligators, snakes and insects.

Man has transformed these 15,000 acres into a spectacular complex of soaring gantry towers, concrete blockhouses, hangers, roads and electronic marvels.

Scrub brush still covers much of the land, but beneath it spreads a finely woven network of cables and wires to carry impluses of energy, vital messages and electronic signals that send a missile roaring into the sky.

WORKSHOP

Canaveral is their workshop but their testing ground stretches more than 5,000 miles down the Atlantic along a chain of 12 island stations extending almost to the coast of Africa. From these islands, most of them foreign owned, U. S. tracking facilities record missile flights. A dozen tracking ships fill big gaps between islands.

Eighteen miles south of the Cape is Patrick Air Force Base, administrative and technical support headquarters for the Air Force Missile Test Center — which calls signals in the workshop and downrange.

Test center facilities represent a total capital investment of 650 million dollars. Operating costs for fiscal 1959 exceeded 130 million dollars.

Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates commanded the missile test center from 1954 to May, 1960, during its years of greatest expansion. Looking back before turning over his command to Maj. Gen. Leighton I. Davis, Yates said:

"The progress of the military missile program has exceeded all expectations. In most cases, the development programs have been phenomenal. The Atlas, Thor and Jupiter all have developed into reliable operational weapons. The Polaris and Titan are coming along nicely, and soon we'll begin testing more advanced weapons like the Minuteman.

"Much of our thinking and planning now is geared to space. Someday man may start for the moon and other planets from here. The prospects appear unlimited."

Two of the best-known and most capable missilemen here are Bill Stitt and B. G. MacNabb, project directors for the Douglas Thor and Convair Atlas programs respectively. Both have been with the programs since they began and have seen these missiles develop into two of the United States' most reliable rockets and as boosters for the majority of this nation's space and satellite shots.

Stitt recalls the hectic early days of the Thor development.

"We came here in 1956 on a crash program," he said. "That meant getting the missile program ready and operational yesterday, not tomorrow.

"The pace of the program was tremendous. Although I was an operations engineer, I sometimes found myself manipulating wrenches with the mechanics, coordinating activities prior to launch or manning a console in the blockhouse during countdown.

"The crew took the early Thor failures hard, but their morale and enthusiasm remained high. When Missile No. 105 (the fifth fired) finally broke our losing streak in September, 1957, we were on our way and operational in just two years."

PROGRAM

The Atlas program also got off to a bumpy start, "but each bad shot taught us something and enabled us to develop the missile we have today," explains MacNabb.

MacNabb cited the recent success of the Atlas over a 9,000-mile course and the Atlas-boosted Midas satellite as major achievements of the program.

Greater Atomic Use

Urging a new concept in the development and use of nuclear power, Dr. Edward Teller, in Fresno, Calif., said work on peacetime and war uses of nuclear fission was hampered by "that crazy fallout propaganda." Dr. Teller indicated that this country is lagging in the development of the full use of atomic power, both for peacetime purposes and war preparation.

The prominent scientist urged that the United States get rid of the massive retaliation concept. Instead, he said, the United States should develop small nuclear weapons and build shelters stockpiled with foods and other necessities for survival. He said "clean" bombs were already in sight.

On both counts there is undoubtedly a great deal to be said for Dr. Teller's arguments.

In recent years, the United States has acted almost entirely on the theory that if all-out war between the United States and Russia should occur it would be a quick-knockout affair, with the outcome probably to be determined within a few days.

On that theory, the United States has prepared almost exclusively for massive retaliation and has made preparations, with bases in different countries, for virtual annihilation of Russia with atomic or hydrogen bombs. We have been led to believe that Russia will knock this country out within a few days or that we will smash that country within the same short period.

Since, by all American precedent, we won't attack before Russia does, that country would have the advantage of the first blow in any knockout contest.

Plans for massive retaliation seem good enough, as far as they go, but we should not depend upon that alone. Any slugging prizefighter who went into a fight counting entirely on scoring a knockout in the first round or two would be in grave danger of defeat, since any kind of knockout on the first few blows is always difficult.

History has not shown that wars between powerful nations end quickly. It may seem now that the course of history along that line is likely to be changed because of atomic and hydrogen bombs, which we have never had before and which are capable of rendering great devastation.

It must be remembered, however, that between World War I and World War II there had been so much development and improvement in bombs and bombers that many believed annihilation from the air would be possible. Use of the bombers was extremely effective but the victorious nations still had to use ground troops extensively before they were able to bring the war with Germany to a close. By the time Germany had surrendered, Japan was terrified and was without an air defense and the dropping of atomic bombs on two cities causes that nation to surrender but the war would have been far from over if Japan had stubbornly fought until it was physically subdued.

In case of war, this country should prepare for the long haul, as well as for the quick knockout. A big supply of small nuclear weapons would be one way to do that. Another way would be to stock shelters with food supplies. We might well use some of our tremendous surpluses for this purpose.

The United States also should proceed with plans for civil use of nuclear power, instead of holding back on the theory that we must eventually face war.

State Of The Unions

If members of labor unions sometimes wonder why their bosses are so frequently under attack by institutions which support free enterprise and individual freedom some of the following examples of misuse of unionism may serve as explanations. The same is true of those outside the unions who may also wonder why "labor," as exemplified by the union bosses faces so much criticism.

In St. Paul, Minn., two union officials on the school board voted to turn down the low bidder for a contract to supply milk to the schools because the bidder does not use union drivers.

Unionization of farm workers would not be in the best interest of the farmers or of the people they supply. Nevertheless, these two board members, who should have been working in the best interest of the schools they represented, were willing to pay a higher price for milk in order to punish a dairyman who did not use union labor.

This may be the first step toward requiring that all cows carry union cards, except, of course, the one bossy in every herd.

Gus Zapas has returned to Chicago to take a new job as business agent for Laundry Workers Union local 46. Zapas left Chicago in 1954, he told the senate rackets subcommittee, because his police record there handicapped him. He had been convicted on a burglary charge and has 47 other arrests on his record.

Far too many unions apparently making a habit of giving responsible, money-handling positions to convicted criminals. If fact, it almost seems, in some places, as if a criminal record is a prerequisite.

In his new job, Zapas will assist Eugene James the local's secretary-treasury (in charge of the money), who is appealing his conviction on charges that he evaded income taxes of $738,646, which he admitted imbezling from his union. He argued that embezzled money was not really his and that it was unfair for him to be taxed on it. The government takes a different view and taxes any income, whether it is obtained legally or illegally. Apparently the union members have become so accustomed to having their union dues embezzled by their officials that they not only don't bring charges against them but don't even take the trouble to have them removed from office—or are unable to do so.

In New York, 100,000 commuters found themselves without service when trainmen struck for seven days' pay for a five-day week. They get six days' pay for a five day week now. The Transport Workers union has ordered bus drivers, who might be able to get commuters to work in a pinch, not to work any extra schedules or overtime. This support of the trainmen will assure that the public, which is not a party to the strike, will suffer for it.

In Washington, the government has admitted our missile program has fallen seriously behind its target dates largely because of strikes, both in the missile plants and at the missile sites. Many of the strikes are jurisdictional disputes over which union will do the work, leaving the government helpless, even though it is willing to meet union demands. The work waits while the fights go on.

Meanwhile, union leaders dominated the platform of the Democratic party at the recent convention in Los Angeles and are attempting to do the same thing at the Republican convention in Chicago.

No wonder those who believe in free enterprise object to union domination of politics when the unions make officials of so many criminals and when they use such unethical and confiscatory practices.

Court To Act On President

Chief Executives Right To Veto Measure After 10-Day Limit Set By Constitution To Be Ruled Upon

WASHINGTON — Conservative members of Congress, who have long chafed under the Supreme Court's interpretation of the laws they pass, may soon get a chance to chortle when the tribunal focuses its attention on the President's role under the Constitution.

The Court is expected to be called upon to clarify the Constitution on the President's veto power over legislation passed by Congress. Directly at issue will be the period of time a bill can lie at the White House before the President acts one way or the other.

A case now pending before the U.S. Court of Claims questions the President's action in vetoing a bill last year because the 10-day time limit set by the Constitution had been exceeded.

The case involves a relatively obscure private bill to give a New York state liquor wholesale firm the right to file a claim for a tax refund. It was vetoed by the President 12 legislative days after it was sent over from Congress.

Under the Constitution if any bill is not returned by the President within 10 days (Sundays excepted) after it has been presented to him it shall become law unless Congress is adjourned. If he fails to act within 10 days after Congress quits the bill receives an automatic or pocket veto.

The measure was passed by both the House and Senate and sent to the White House on August 31, 1959. The President vetoed the bill on September 14, 1959 shortly after he returned from Europe where he went to discuss the pending Khrushchev visit to the U.S.

Since a period of 12 legislative days had elapsed since the time the bill was sent to the President and the time he actually rejected the measure, the plaintiffs in the case question whether he acted within his Constitutional powers.

The issue boils down to whether the Constitution means a 10-day period starts when the measure is delivered to the Executive Mansion or when the President actually sees it.

There are no Court precedents on this issue and regardless of how the Claims Court rules on the case it will obviously go to the Supreme Court which is the final interpreter of the Constitution.

Legal authorities admit the language of paragraph two, section six, of Article one is vague on whether the President has to actually see a bill before the 10-day period starts or whether it begins as soon as it is officially received at the Executive Mansion.

It is assumed that when the founding fathers of our country drafted the Constitution they envisioned a President and Congress both domiciled in the same city. Until recent years the President traditionally stayed in the capital until Congress went home and if he did go out of town it was never for more than a few days.

During World War II President Roosevelt left the country while Congress was in one of its war-time extended sessions but had all legislation flown to him.

It should be noted, however, cognizant of the time limit placed on his veto authority. He would make a notation in the margin of a bill signed by him of the date it was received at the White House and the date he first saw the measure.

When the private bill at issue was sent to the White House, President Eisenhower had been out of the country five days. He made the trip to assure members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) there would be no private deals with the Soviet premier who was due to visit this country the next month.

Congress would have probably adjourned before the President returned on September 7 but a fight developed in the Senate over Civil Rights and the session dragged on for another week.

Had Congress quit while the President was out of the country the private bill would have automatically been pocket vetoed on September 12 by the President's inaction.

Because Congress was still in session when the President returned he had to act on the bill in order to prevent it from automatically becoming law. Lawyers for the plaintiff in the suit contend when the President vetoed the bill it was too late as it had automatically become law on September 12.

Nice To Ladies

G.O.P. Convention Will Go All Out To Be Nice To Them

CHICAGO — The Republicans are going all out to be nice to the ladies.

They have arranged a social schedule for women attending the convention replete with luncheons, dinners, receptions, tennis matches, fashion shows and conducted tours.

This is presumably to keep them away from Chicago's stores, many of which rival those on New York's Fifth Avenue.

Most convention sessions and activities are evening affairs, so the Republicans — masculine members, that is — have apparently gone to strenuous lengths to keep them busy the rest of the day.

The Democratic Convention, of course, had Hollywood on its front door, and was thus in a position to provide entertainment of a more spectacular nature.

But everything seems to have been thought of to keep the ladies happy here, too.

There's dinner by party chairman Sen. Thruston Morton, R-Ky., for members of the GOP National Committee and their wives.

And a luncheon at the swanky Ambassador West Hotel for national committeewomen, wives of national committeemen, women members and wives of the Republican Finance Committee.

If any ladies have time to listen to a radio, they might be surprised to hear fervent Democrat Perle Mesta giving her views on Republican doings here.

Mrs. Mesta, prominent Washington hostess, who had announced before the Democratic Convention that she was a Lyndon Johnson fan, has been signed by a national network to do broadcasts from here.

There's a luncheon by the Womens' National Republican Club of Chicago in honor of women members of the GOP National Committee. Mrs. Clare Williams, assistant committee chairman and Mrs. Bertha Baur, former Illinois Republican committeewomen, are guests of honor.

Official hostess for the convention is Mrs. Wayland C. Brooks, successor to Mrs. Baur.

Other events designed to occupy the ladies' time:

The National Clay Court Championship tennis matches at River Forest Country Club;

A luncheon by the Illinois Federation of Republican Women to honor Mrs. William G. Stratton, wife of the Illinois governor, Mrs. Everett Dirksen, wife of the senator, and Mrs. Peter Gibson, outgoing president of the National Federation of Republican Women;

A reception at the Evanston, Ill., home of the late Vice President Charles G. Dawes, to be given by the Womens' Republican Club of the 13th District;

Another fashion show:

The social "high point" — a luncheon - tableau where replicas of inaugural gowns worn by all First Ladies (Republican, of course) copied from orginals at the Smithsonian Institution.

These will be modeled by prominent Republican women.

Pat Nixon is likely to be there, and Mrs. Eisenhower is another possibility.

For women who'd really like to see how the other half used to live there's an all - day tour to Cantigny, country home of the late Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

Meanwhile, back at the convention, politics continue.

And however specific predictions have been about what or what not the Republicans are going to do, no one really knows for sure until it's over.

In fact, there's really only one sure - fire certainty about this whole thing.

And that is that a lot of women will be complaining that their feet hurt.

DEMOCRACY?
Monroe, La.

To The Editor:

I wish to congratulate the Monroe Morning World for the stand taken against the principles exercised in the recent Democratic national convention. The entire convention was an inexcusable display of power politics in which a minority overruled a majority. Is this democratic?

First of all, the party platform was written to favor a minority. As is usual with recent political policies, the strong civil-rights stand was designed to break the back of the southern states. The voice vote was taken on the issue and the chairman decided that the "yeas" exceeded the "nays." Several newsmen on the scene disagreed as did a number of television viewers, including myself. Is this democratic?

Secondly, the nomination of Johnson as the Democratic vice-presidential candidate was the most irritating example of crooked politics I've seen in my 25 years. The entire country looks on Louisiana as a source of political injustice, but we could take lessons from the Kennedy machine. The proposal to nominate Johnson by acclamation was pushed through despite the protests of several delegation. Chairman Collins stated that it would take a two-thirds majority in the voice vote to nominate Johnson. The oral vote was taken and was so close that Collins was undecided. After a brief conference, he announced that the proposal had passed. Now, even if the yes vote did surpass the no vote, how do you determine a two - thirds majority? Another factor to be considered is the fact that the gallery was allowed to express their opinions. Why even bother to have delegates if you're going to allow spectators equal representation? Is this democratic?

And finally, the Democrats, through their platform, vowed to right all of the wrongs which plague our country and the world today, yet they could not even conduct an honest convention. The undermocratic conduct of the Democratic convention is an excellent example of what is wrong in America today. How are we as Americans to conduct ourselves if our leaders do not provide us with thhe fundamental truths of American ideals? How are we to guide our children to be good citizens when our leaders to not bother to conduct themselves honestly? Can we hope to defeat communism with no political ethics? No wonder the world looks at us in disgust! We say one thing, but do just the opposite. I can only denounce all of those Democrats who played a part in the socialistic methods employed in this ridiculous affair.

VICTORY IS EMPTY
West Monroe, La.

To the Northern Democrats, how empty was your victory, how pitiful the spectacle of the committee chairman casting the votes of the delegates.

Never in history has such a tragic comedy been played to an audience of millions.

Your votes which should have been as a precious possession to treasure as one would treasure a precious gem were tossed about with little heed to the consequences. All the worry about defeating Southern Democrats led to the belief that if Kennedy were nominated all the Northern Democrats would vote for him and the good old South would naturally fall in line.

You were robbed. The convention, as told to the world, was rigged. Someone, somehow, by promises, talk, or bribes robbed you of your right to vote as you wanted. Yes, and robbed you of your right to think. No right thinking person could view the world situation today and adopt such a platform as that was put before you. Russia has indeed won another victory over this great and glorious country that was once a leader of the world and has now shrunk in statue before the peoples of the world.

Yes, a victory was won but the Democrats, North or South, were not the victors. Can you read the news of the Congo in Central Africa and believe it will not affect us? Can the ones of you who cheered Castro when he was victorious and you believed him such a bearded hero, look at him now and say what a wonderful fellow he is? He terrorized the people into his way of thinking by murder and fear and now he spits in our eye and like a child tells the United States to play his way or he'll sic Russia on us. Has Uncle Sam exchanged his striped pants for a skirt? Do we want war? No, emphatically no, but the political decay that has been steadily growing has dwarfed us from a great nation of leaders to a flock of sheep to be led blindly around by the mobs of political racketeers who have taken over.

Oh yes, you may think the platform Jack Kennedy has adopted is wonderful but I wonder how many Americans believe as I do, that only after an interview with a gentleman on the floor of the convention hall who wondered why there was no mention given about securing the release of Americans held in foreign prisons, called it to the attention of the authors of the platform and in a short time, only time enough for a telephone call to be made, this little item was mentioned as having been overlooked in the reading.

But the really staggering punch line to the whole show was the part where Symington had his speech of acceptance written and his smile set for the TV camera when Kennedy made known his choice for the vice - presidency, none other than the Yellow Rose of Texas and we of the South remember the original words to that song before it was revived and revised so as not to offend anyone. Poor old Stu, for whom a majority of the delegates had been told to support was left, high and dry. But it served a purpose after all. The committeemen who were in the know were so surprised they dropped their newspapers or magazines or whatever and actually listened more closely to the nominations for vice president than they did for the Presidential nominations. It is a terrifying thing to realize we are being sold down the river. There is so much ado about the poor, mistreated Negro in the South that I wonder if it isn't the old game of razzle-dazzle, attract our attention to one direction and do the dirty work in another. No one will notice if the hoopla is loud enough and strong enough. We listened to witness after witness during the communist investigations tell that the N.A.A.C.P. was a communist - front organization and we even saw some Negroes testify that they had left the organization because they could not, as Americans, help plot the downfall of a free America in exchange for a communist paradise. And yet this organization is allowed to grow and spread like a cancerous growth across our land. Somewhere I read that Stalin, I believe it was Stalin, said that war with the United States was not necessary, to be patient and teach the Negroes that communism would make them the leaders of America and the white people their slaves. While a revolution was raging here Russia could step in and help the Negro win and the Negro would be no problem to control.

Are the Negroes of the North so stupid, they believe they have integration? Are the Negroes of the South so blind they believe they have segregation? Judge for yourselves. On a visit recently to a small German town in Illinois, I was puzzled to see not one Negro in the whole town. Naturally I questioned this and was told that Negroes were not allowed there. If you saw one, he was just passing through. No one would hire them for a job of any kind. And this is an integrated state.

On a visit last year in Pittsburgh, I had occasion to visit a beauty shop, and inquired of the all-white beauticians how they felt about grooming a Negro's hair. Their answer was that they didn't and weren't about to, that it took special equipment and they didn't want to fool with it. To get around the integration law, if a Negro asked for an appointment they were just full up. Is this integration? Is this the beautiful picture that is painted for the Negroes? If it's so wonderful this integration, why do so many of them who leave the South so eager to integrate, return disillusioned and ready to live out their life in the South. The responsibility of integration is too heavy for them. The Negro race has risen slowly but surely here in the South and a Negro who has risen above the slap-happy, easy going, I-don't-care, way of life earns the respect of his fellow man, both black and white. But these number far too few, and the actions of their own kind pull them back time and time again. There is no excuse for the Negro children now to be uneducated. Some of the most modern schools in the South today are Negro schools.

It wasn't a favor that was given the Negro when the Kennedy platform was adopted. It was a weapon more dangerous than the atom bomb. In effect it said that the government of the people, by the people, and for the people would cease to be and become instead a dictatorship to force it's will on the people. That our states governments are unimportant and cannot be trusted to govern themselves so they must be told what to do.

So a warning to the Northern half of our Democratic Party, don't waste your pity on the poor segregated Southern Negro, don't waste your wrath on the segregated white people of the South, but view with alarm the wisps of smoke of which every now and then you get just a whiff. Quit fooling yourselves and sound the alarm before the smoke becomes a flame. A Red Flame, that is.

LAST OF GROUP

Kuesnacht's Sage Is 85

By DORIAN FALK

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—In Kuesnacht, Zurich's "intellectual suburb," stands a villa in a huge, untouched lakeside garden strewn with swan's nests and strange, totem-like stone figures.

It is not the home of a sculptor, but that of Carl Gustav Jung, one of the founding fathers of modern psychiatry. Some of the stone images were hewn by Jung himself—apt pastime for a scientist-philosopher whose work so largely deals with exploration of symbols in man's unconscious life.

Jung celebrates his 85th birthday July 26. He is the last survivor of a famous group which, over the last half century, added new dimensions to man's view of himself and attacked his sunken world of irrational drives and impulses with weapons of analysis.

ASSOCIATE

He was an early associate of Sigmund Freud, who died in 1939. He found world recognition as a neurologist who defined and refined many basic concepts of psychiatry, but for many years he has been a dissenter from the Freudian school of psychoanalysis. He regards as excessive the Freudians' emphasis on the role of the sexual urge in mental life.

Now living in retirement at his Kuesnacht estate, Jung recently finished his memoirs. He still works an hour or so in his library every morning, afterwards attends to correspondence from friends and colleagues from all over the world.

His social contacts in Zurich are limited and he dislikes publicity. But his views concerning flying saucers some time ago caused a flurry of headlines—and some misunderstanding.

Jung recognized the "unidentified flying objects" as "archtypes." These are irrational symbols of the human psyche which appear in dreams and may dominate day dreams as well. To the psychiatrist, they may become readily apparent in the behavior of neurotic or psychotic patients. The archtypes signify concepts, urges and emotions, according to Jung, which reach far beyond the individual's life into the nebulous future and mystic past of the human race.

CONVINCED

He is convinced that in a world dominated by fear and by doctrines which offer the individual no means of understanding it, a great change of the human psychological situation is imminent.

Men, Jung holds, yearn for a redeemer. And the flying saucers represent modern man's saviour myth and are today's most striking archtypes.

Jung says that whether unidentified flying objects exist or not, the fact that so many people believe they saw them proves that man subconsciously prays for a better, peaceful world.

He points to a parallel from the 17th century. Then, during the great religious wars which divided the world as deeply as it is divided today, thousands of Europeans claimed they saw mysterious yellow disks revolving around the sun. They believed this to be a heavenly sign that the troubles were coming to an end.

Symbols like the circle, the disk, the cube, Jung explains, always have been considered symbols of wholeness, perfection, divinity. And so the flying saucers signified the soul's longing for a remedy it believes can come only from a divine universe—"projected" into man's subconscious.

DEVELOPED

Jung has developed a philosophy which may be summed up as a passionate defense of the individual threatened by modern collectivism.

But his concept of collectivism goes far beyond the commonly accepted use of the term.

Beyond totalitarianism, Jung believes, every rational doctrine which denies the irrational in man is collectivism and blocks the growth of his personality — leading to mass-mindedness and mass-neurosis.

For man's search of himself, Jung insists, reason alone is insufficient, because the established channels of modern thinking make men disbelieve in their own irrational nature and close his ears to what the subconscious is trying to tell him about himself.

SYMBOL

There's no use in efforts to reform the world, he thinks, if the reformer does not start out with himself. "The atom bombs are the symbol of man's omnipotence," he has said, "and nothing is more dangerous than man's thinking he is omnipotent. It jeopardizes his mental balance. His intellectual capacities are enormous, but his psychological development has not kept pace. That explains the current epidemic of neurosis."

Man must look into himself, Jung teaches, for only the individual without illusions about human nature can defy collectivism.

Barrie Shifts Nocturnal Job For Big Profit

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Barrie said he was "making good money, but I was tired of working nights."

So he quit and became a millionaire.

"It wasn't quite as easy as that," Barrie said. But he's only 45 today and chief executive of two cosmetic firms, which seems as fast as a poor boy off a Massachusetts farm might reasonably expect.

ON SAXOPHONE

The night job was on the saxophone, in the bands of the 1930's.

Barrie had been born in New York, but went with his family to a farm near Great Barrington, Mass., in childhood and lived there until, at 15, he came back to New York to live with friends and go to high school. Barrie had learned to play the sax by correspondence course on the farm. The friends' son played one too.

Barrie quit college after less than a year at New York University to tootle for a living.

It wasn't many years, before "I would have done almost anything to stop working nights," he said.

"One of the kids' fathers was in the hair goods business."

That led Barrie, in 1937, to a bottom-rung job as a salesman for Raymond Laboratories, selling preparations to beauty parlors. In six years his New York territory's sales were up from $200,000 to more than $2 million, and the company asked him to go to its home office in St. Paul, Minn., as general sales manager.

RENTED GARAGE

Barrie didn't want to leave home.

"I rented a garage in New Jersey, put in some laboratory equipment and started making creme rinse and permanent wave lotion used in old-fashioned heat permanents," Barrie recalled. He named the firm Caryl Richards—for his daughter, Caryl, now 20, and his son, Richard, now 18.

First year's gross, with three employes and Barrie the whole sales force, was $50,000. The firm expects to sell $7 million worth in 1960.

He is still president and sole stockholder in Caryl Richards. In 1958, his old friend Mark L. Arend, president of the Raymond Laboratories, now with its name changed to Rayette, invited Barrie to come back in the firm and put his talents to work for it. He is executive vice president and holds controlling stock interest. The firms are competitors.

Barrie acknowledges that other people think he has an occult secret at selling, but he disagrees.

"I don't find it difficult," he said. "The biggest problem is convincing salesmen that they don't have to sell somebody. If you have a good product and know it, a little bit of your belief in it comes through, and it pays off."

Louisiana Tech Students Team On Poetry Book

OUTCRY by Poet Press, Box 633, Tech Station, Ruston.

The preface tells that this collection by two Louisiana Tech students are not "random poems by random poets."

Don Thornton, 23 - year - old native of Winnsboro, and B. Lee Holland, native of Oklahoma City, have written the 30 poems, drawn the illustrations and printed the book by the papermaster process. The poems express a rebellion against the materialistic and prosaic society "which attempts to thwart all gestures above the narrow, rapacious average."

Both of the young authors now live in Ruston, where they are seniors. Thornton is no newcomer to the writing of poetry. He has won a number of essay contests, gave up the writing and then returned to "my great love in life" - writing poetry.

ILLUSTRATED

He illustrated the book with abstract drawings. Earlier this year some of his abstract paintings were exhibited in the Beaumont, Texas, Museum of Modern Art.

Next fall the young man will teach art on the faculty of the North Caddo High School in Vivian.

The second author, Holland, originally set out to be an engineer, but later changed to English and literary studies. His ambition is to "become as good as possible and to pass on what I can to the world."

The book is a combination of the two — the poems are lyrical, yet at times haunting. They are blunt, but they carry one theme. This that a better life is here for those who are willing to take it.

They may even be a rebellion against the way of life that dominates America — the worship of the material things, with little or no value upon the spiritual.

JOSEPH LEVINE conducts the Omaha Youth Symphony, "little brother" to the Omaha adult symphony, which Levine also directs.

'Serious Business'

Young Musicians Get Taste Of The Big-Time

By BILL DEAN

OMAHA (AP) — Joseph Levine is bubbling.

"Go, go, go . . . bow, bow, bow! he shouts to the violins.

"I'm enthused! I'm inspired!"

Levine, who has directed orchestras from Broadway to Beirut, beams at the 87 musicians before him.

All are youngsters — the oldest is 18 and the youngest 12.

To play under Levine, they must submit to three hours of intensive discipline and hard work every Saturday morning — plus hours of practicing at home.

"We give them the kind of discipline and rehearsal the big orchestras would get," Levine explains. "This is serious business."

The Omaha Youth Symphony Orchestra is, in fact, part of the same organization as the Omaha Symphony. The little brother relationship to the adult orchestra sets it apart from most other youth orchestras.

CONDUCTS BOTH

Levine conducts both orchestras. He knows of no other symphony conductor who regularly fills two similar roles. First chair players from the senior orchestra assist him with the young symphony.

Levine, 48, for eight years was conductor and musical director of the Ballet Theater of New York City. After a stint conducting Francoise Sagan's ballet, "The Broken Date," on Broadway, Levine turned his back on 100 per cent professional music for community music in the Midwest.

He came to Omaha as conductor of its symphony two years ago. One of his first moves was to launch the youth symphony as sort of a "farm club" to the adult group.

To emphasize to the youngsters that the big orchestra should be their goal, he established an annual Symphony Entry Award. The winner graduates to professional status in the Omaha Symphony. Levine also is bringing the adult and youth symphonies together for pop concerts in which they play as a single unit.

So great has been interest in the orchestra that next year the youth symphony will have a younger brother of its own, a group limited to junior high youngsters.

Most of the youngsters come from Omaha and its environs. They got started in music like most who find their way into school and community bands and orchestras.

There's the 16-year-old boy who plays the trumpet because "my mom wouldn't let me play the drums," the 14-year-old girl who choose the violin because its "very cultural" and the girl who gave up the clarinet for the oboe because the bulky mouth-piece of the former was 'pushing out my front teeth."

DANCE BAND

David Goodwin, 17, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, wears Elvis Presley-style sideburns and has a deep tan from summer work as a section hand. He plays first violin, and in state school music contest last spring won coveted "superior" ratings not only in the violin competition but also in trombone and baritone horn divisions.

Bill Dunlau and some of the others have played in dance bands. Jimmy Russo, whose dad once was a Chicago and Hollywood musician, has a neighborhood Dixieland combo known as "Russo's Rebels."

Four orchestra members formed a string quartet which now plays concerts of its own.

Yet these talented kids are like most other young musicians: "Mom still has to keep at me to practice," admits pretty Eu Jane Wymore, 17, cellist who won this year's Symphony Entry Award.

Only a few of the boys and girls ultimately will make music their life's work. But if Levine has his way many will join the ranks of highly competent after-hours musicians who bring many American communities music.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

Children's Book Collection Goal

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

One of the aims of the Ouachita Parish Public Library is to build up an outstanding collection of children's books. We have been working on this project for a number of years. On January 1, 1948, when the library first became a tax supported institution, the children's book collection consisted of only 4,000 books. Today it stands at 20,000 and we still do not have enough books to meet the demands. During the month of June a total of 26,869 children's books were borrowed from the four branches of the library. This means that some of the books circulated more than once during the month. Children do not demand the newest in reading material. They are happy with a book, if it is a good book and if they have not read it.

GUIDES

There are a number of guides which we use in selecting books to purchase for the children's collection. One of the best lists we have is called "100 Best Books for Children." It was published in McCall's magazine in 1956 and was such a successs that it was reprinted in pamphlet form. The books on this list were selected by three outstanding children's librarians, Virginia Haviland, Ruth Gagliardo and Elizabeth Nesbitt. I have used it a number of times in filling gaps in our collection. This spring during National Library Week the Junior Charity League presented the library with a check for $300.00 to be used for the purchase of children's books for the Anna Meyer Branch. We selected the books from this list and they are lovely books. I thought you might be interested in knowing what some of them are.

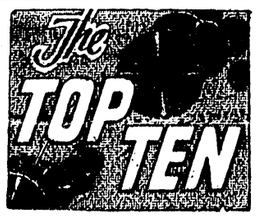
In the group of first rhymes and picture books are found such outstanding books as "Johnny Crow's Garden," by L. Leslie Brooke; "Sing Song," by Christine Rosetti; "Madeline," by Ludwig Bemelmans; "The Little House," by Virginia Lee Burton and, "Make Way for Ducklings," by Robert McCloskey. The next group consists of books to read aloud and these are especially important for parents. Some of them are "The Magic Fishbone," by Charles Dickens; "Rabbit Hill," by Robert Lawson; "Winnie the Pooh," by A. A. Milne; "Charlotte's Web" by E. B. White; "Peter Pan," by James M. Barrie and "The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe," by C. S. Lewis. Three titles are listed under the heading tales fro America. They are "The Favorite Uncle Remus," by Joel Chandler Harris; "Yankee Doodle's Cousins," by Anne Malcolmson and "The Rootabaga Stories," by Carl Sandburg.

SELECTIONS

Selections from the world's great imaginative literature include: "The Fables of Aesop"; "Arabian Nights"; "Grimm's Fairy Tales," "The Wonderbook and Tanglewood Tales," by Nathaniel Hawthorne"; "Tales from Shakespeare," by Charles Lamb, and "The Story of King Arthur and His Knights," by Howard Pyle. Children love to read stories about families and some of the best of this sort are: "Little Women," by Louisa M. Alcott; "Caddie Woodlawn," by Carol Brink; "The Moffats," by Eleanor Estes; "Swallows and Amazons," by Arthur Ransome, and "The Little House in the Big Woods," by Laura Ingalls Wilder. Children often ask for a funny book and there are several delightful ones on this list. They are "Mr. Popper's Penguins," by Richard Atwater; "Ben and Me," by Robert Lawson, and "Homer Price," by Robert McCloskey. Fiction for older boys and girls includes such old favorites as "Master Skylark," by John Bennett; "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," by Samuel L. Clemens, "Johnny Tremain," by Esther Forbes; "The Yearling," by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, and "Ivanhoe," by Sir Walter Scott.

Lovely books of poetry are included in this list. One is "An Inheritance of Poetry," by Gladys L. Adshead; "Rhymes and Verses," by Walter De La Mare; "Complete Nonsense Book," by Edward Lear; "When We Were Very Young," by A. A. Milne, and "A Child's Garden of Verses," by Robert Louis Stevenson.

These books will add a great deal to the quality of the book collection for children at the Anna Meyer Branch. This library will be opened to the public in the very early fall and I know you will be especially interested in the children's books.



1. ALLEY-OOP, Hollywood Argyles-Dante and The Evergreens.

TV Renaissance Title To Downs

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Some men are born great. Some achieve greatness. And some have greatness thrust upon them, as in the cases of Caesar Augustus, Harry S. Truman, and Hugh Downs."

Downs, a character so highly civilized that he's sometimes referred to as "TV's Renaissance Man," threw back his head and chortled mightily when told the jape quoted above. It was inserted by the British comedian Michael Flanders into his recent Broadway hit show as a commentary on the Jack Paar February television walkout that left Downs all alone by the microphone.

"That's really funny," Downs said. "I'll have to tell it to Jack."

Although Downs catapulted to fame in recent years as the sidekick of the star on the Jack Paar show, he actually entered the broadcasting business 22 years ago as a radio announcer in Lima, Ohio.

HUNTS FOR JOB

"It's kind of weird," he recalled, "but the fact is that I was looking for a job all over town—they were hard to find then—and there was nothing for me and I finally stopped at the local radio station and asked them what you had to do to become an announcer.

"They told me to come back Friday and I said I couldn't, so they handed me a piece of copy and asked me to read it right there. I did and the boss, who had been listening, came out and said: 'You know, that was very bad, but'—and he actually said this—'big oaks from little acorns grow.' So I was hired."

Downs leads a life so full of a great number of interests that it's hard to see how he crams himself into a 24-hour day. He skin dives. He reads books on history and science in conveyances and while eating. He builds hi-fi sets, keeps up with astronomy and other weighty sciences (in past years he built two telescopes himself), and composes music.

BOOK PUBLISHED

He has a record album out called "An Evening with Hugh Downs" on which he sings folk songs. His book "Yours Truly, Hugh Downs," which he wrote over the last two and one-half years and which contains his ideas on broadcasting, will be published in October by Holt, Rinehart and Winston.

He frequently makes speeches at dinners and other affairs ("everybody knows I like to talk.") Next month he will be doing summer stock for a week, appearing in "Anniversary Waltz" in Warren, Ohio.

ADDITION

In addition to these things, and others like taking care of a wife and two children, he works. Nobody in this country exceeds his present average 16 hours a week of commercial broadcasting on a major network. His own daily NBC-TV game-quiz show "Concentration" accounts for two and a half hours, the Paar show nine hours, and his weekend stint on the NBC radio "Monitor" lasts four hours. That's the regular schedule, and his extra appearances average a half to one hour a week.

Perhaps the Downs quiet good nature in the midst of the hectic life is helped along by knowledge that his income tops $100,000 a year.

Acadian Tales Revived After Half Century

ACADIAN REMINISCENSES, THE TRUE STORY OF EVANGELINE; by Judge Felix Voorhies; E. P. Rivas.

There is an undeniable appeal to the thought that a work of literary and historical note, regardless of scope, may still result from a quiet discussion among men of letters.

This work, which contains as many reawakenings to the page as any the reviewer has yet encountered, is an excellent example. First published over half a century ago, in a quite limited edition, Acadian Reminiscences never achieved its deserved recognition — perhaps because its charm and clarity were drowned in the overpowering sticky-sweetness of Longfellow's beautiful, but inaccurate, Evangeline.

RESCUED

Yet this volume has been rescued, at the last minute, from the depths of total obscurity — and almost entirely because of one man's foresight and concern. The man is John Hall Jacobs, librarian of the New Orleans Public Library, who has long held a deep (and perhaps paternal) interest in the Acadian people.

Jacobs propounded the reissue one evening in New Orleans over a cup of Cafe Brulot, shared with Rousseau Van Voorhies, lineal descendant of the author. Van Voorhies, whose preoccupation with Louisiana is perhaps as absorbing as Jacobs', was entranced, and this publication is the result.

VALUE

Perhaps the book's greatest value lies in its clarification. Told in quotes (as narrated by the author's grandmother, one of the original band that migrated from Nova Scotia), it sheds immeasurable light on the near-hopelessly distorted Evangeline myth, as well as giving a deep insight into this people's general pattern of living.

The book is, as Jacobs says, "the only eyewitness account of the Acadian migration. Judge Voorhies' style lends authority to the narrative of this colorful, unique people."

Published in two editions; one for schools and libraries, the other for public school, this volume should be required reading for any serious student of Louisiana history.

And, for those who lack the historical bent, it provides some good reading. — Austin Miller.

'MAD PLAN' SUCCESSFUL

Book Account Vivid Of St. Nazaire Raid

THE GREATEST RAID OF ALL. By C. E. Lucas Phillips. Atlantic - Little, Brown. $4.95.

Six hundred and 11 men in 18 small boats, plus one of those battered 50 cruisers Roosevelt swapped for British bases, staged the St. Nazaire raid in March 1942. In World War I there had been Zeebrugge, with almost 2,000 men involved; there were other dramatic hit-and-run actions in both wars; but this, says the author, was the "greatest."

It certainly sounds it, too, by his gripping account.

CREATED

Churchill had created a Combined Operations Board intended to keep the Nazis on their toes from Gibraltar to the Arctic Circle, and Mountbatten, who does a foreword for this book, ran it. In 1941 there was talk of a St. Nazaire thrust, but the idea turned serious only in January, 1942. The Normandie dock there at the broad and shallow mouth of the Loire, biggest dry dock in the world, could handle Germany's biggest battleship Tirpitz. If she suffered damage, only St. Nazaire could repair it; with St. Nazaire facilities demolished, she'd cease to pose such a dreadful threat to Allied shipping.

There were 5,000 Germans in St. Nazaire, and maybe 1,000 more nearby at La Baule, Le Croisic and other stations. The Royal Air Force didn't want to help, the Navy couldn't think of a spare ship to be loaded with explosive and rammed into the gigantic lock gate at the outer end of the Normandie dock; it was a mad plan, anyway, as the English knew, and the Germans would never believe such a foolhardy attempt would be made — so it was carried through.

DESCRIPTION

The 18 motor launches were 112 feet long, highly vulnerable even to a popgun, and inflammable. The cruiser was the old four - stacker U. S. Buchanan, now HMS Campbeltown with a remodeled German profile. Lt. Commander S. H. Beattie was her captain, and the other indomitable leaders of this band were Capt. W. H. Pritchard, expert on dockyard destruction; Lt. Col. A. C. Newman, Commando chief; Cmdr. R. E. D. Ryder, for the Navy; and Lt. N. T. B. Tibbits, explosives expert.

They encountered one U-boat—and deceived it — in their wide swing March 26 and 27 out from Plymouth well to the west and south so that they came in to their goal from due southwest.

The over - cautious airraid did not divert the defenders' attention. Under a crippling fire by small and big weapons, the Campbeltown smasked into the great caisson closing the lock and stuck there; and Beattie, braced against the wheelhouse to withstand the shock, looked at his watch and commented: "Four minutes late."

SOME ASHORE

The launches didn't fare so well, but some men got ashore, did their demolition jobs and fought up and down the docks and in the old town square — thousands of Americans in both wars became familiar with this city and the dock area that encroaches on its business district. The explosive on the Campbeltown went off tardily, maybe because of faulty fuses. A German in his superior way was just telling the captured Beattie that the English shouldn't have expected to destroy the enormous gate with a flimsy destroyer when the whole town was shaken by the blast that proved the raid's main object was accomplished. Only three of the 18 launches got home. English dead totaled 169. Five Victoria Crosses were awarded.

The book has good photographs and valuable diagrams. It takes as long to read as it took those daredevils to land, blow up vital installations, fight, and make their get-away. It about takes your breath away, too.

Son Of Pioneers Was Pioneer At Cape Canaveral

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Ten years ago July 24 Cape Canaveral was launched into its pioneering mission in the Space Age. On hand in a key role was the son of pioneers of another age.

Robert H. Haviland, son of Kansas homesteaders, who lived in a sod house on this nation's frontier in the last century, was project manager on Bumper 8, which became the first missile fired from Cape Canaveral July 24, 1950.

Haviland currently is an advanced missile and space systems engineer with General Electric's Missile and Space Vehicle Department here. For the past several years his job had been working on the development of satellites and space vehicles and their future applications.

He has just finished preparing a report on the use of satellites for weather forecasting. He will deliver it before the 11th annual Congress of the International Astronautical Federation in Stockholm during August.

Quick Turnover Corners Profits For Horse Trader

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — A good horse trader can make more money in a day than many stock market experts.

Take the case of Jack Peek, an agent for the E. C. Johnson ranch at Longview, Tex.

Before the day was over, Peek sold the horse for $25,000 for a quick $5,000 profit.

The auction, one of three held the same weekend in Fort Worth, brought in $176,180 for 59 horses — an average price of nearly $3,000 a horse.

That's almost twice as much as the national average of $1,504 paid for quarter horses in 1959, according to the American Quarter Horse Association. The increasing popularity of the breed raised prices from the 1958 average of around $1,000.

Summer Musical Theater Star-Struck

By BEN SEGAL

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Seven years ago my partner, Bob Hall, an I opened the Oakdale Musical Theater here in Wallingford, halfway between New Haven and Hartford, in an area with a population of over one million potential customers.

Although our area was close to New York, and New Haven is still a haven for Broadway tryouts, a great many in our audiences had never seen a show before they visited our tent. At that period our overhead could be covered with a $14,000 gross on a musical and $5,000 less for a straight play.

Some two million customers later, it takes a minimum of $30,000 a week to break even on our musicals and $20,000 on the straight plays. Inflation alone isn't the full reason. We have gone in for stars.

Frankly, I don't believe in the $1,000-a-week star. No part, per se, is worth that. Only a performer's drawing power is worth money, and those who can draw get a minimum of $5,000 and more often than not $10,000. And, as a producer, I assure you most are worth the money they get.

Opening with a rush in 1953, we found by 1957 that we had almost gone through the entire list of musicals that could be played today and needed something stronger than just the show. Stars were the answer.

We had been warned that stars almost ruined the summer theater business in the dramatic field by taking most of the gross and leaving the producers, despite sold-out houses, with losses on the week. But our capacity was so much larger we felt we could take a chance on this.

Reaching for stars has brought constant problems to me. Most of my off-season hours are spent chasing the big names and their agents.

Once I pinned down a famed actor and made him a $100,000 offer. (We have an arrangement with a couple of other tents to use our productions.) He turned me down because the show schedule conflicted with his plans to watch the Los Angeles Dodgers play baseball.

With large sums rolling in from movies and TV, successful actors feel no compulsion to work outside of their studios. Another job would only add to their tax problems.

In 1959 Julie Wilson, Ann Jeffreys and Bob Sterling, William Bendix, Mark Stevens, Lloyd Bridges, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Julius La Rosa, Martha Wright Paul Winchell, Jane Russell, Joan Fontaine and Genevieve brought in over a half a million dollars.

Anna Marie rolled up the biggest gross and took over $10,000 for her week's work.

This season James ("Maverick") Garner broke Anna Maria's record, but she'll have another chance at it. As will Ginger Rogers, Eve Arden, Genevieve, Gordon and Sheila MacRae, John Raitt, Howard Keel and Robert ("Wagon Train") Horton.

However, it isn't all gravy. We lost $23,000 one week when a star we had counted on heavily just didn't bring the people in. But, good or bad, we're star-struck—and stuck.

GRACE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

New Church Dedication Is Scheduled

Grace Presbyterian Church, located on Highway 165 midway between Sterlington and Fairbanks, will hold dedication services for its new building, at 2:30 this afternoon. All Presbyterian ministers of Ouachita Parish will take part in the service. The dedicatory sermon will be preached by Dr. O. L. O'Neal, executive secretary of church extension of Red River Presbytery.

The building, which is of contemporary design, is constructed of light brown brick, and features a vaulted sanctuary, three Sunday School rooms, kitchen, baths, and minister's study. Wayne A. Franks designed the building, which was constructed by the fir

Stock Market Shows Another Sharp Drop

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market sagged again this week as the international situation continued tense and the parade of second quarter earnings reports was increasingly spotty.

The sharp drop in steel production this year was reflected in drastically reduced earnings for many steel companies and related firms. In addition, the squeeze on corporate profits was demonstrated by several companies which reported lower income despite higher sales.

Du Pont was a conspicuous example of the profits squeeze and the stock reacted by breaking down below the 200 level to 190 with a net loss of 11¾ points.

DECLINES

Sharp declines by Du Pont and a number of other blue chips accounted for a steep fall in the popular market averages, even though most stocks did not fare to badly and volume was comparatively light by 1960 standards.

The harsh exchange of words between the Soviet Union and the United States created a nervous and unsettled atmosphere in Wall Street. This was complemented by the unsatisfactory financial reports of many corporations. Further gloom was spread by reports of bulging inventories in household appliances and a softening of prices.

ELECTRIC

General Electric dropped 6¼ to 80¾ and Westinghouse Electric fell 4⅛ to 53.

The Dow Jones industrial average declined for the tenth straight session as the week ended. It fell 20.37 to 609.87.

Volume remained subnormal for 1960, totaling 12,577,480 shares compared with 12,996,536 the prior week.

Of 1,413 issues traded, 863 declined and 392 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 74 and new lows 196.

Most active issue on the New York Stock Exchange was Standard Oil (New Jersey), off ⅜ at 40¼ on 200,900 shares.

ACTIVE

Most active issue on the American Stock Exchange was New Haven Clock, up ⅜ at 2 on 209,700 shares.

Bond prices gained ground this week but the steady two-week climb of the Treasury market ended Friday. Volume touched a 2½-year low for a nonholiday week.

After trading at the highest prices since December 1958 for four days, most government bonds fell ⅛ to ¼ point Friday. For the week they were still ahead a maximum of ½ a point.

Volume tumbled to $22,490,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange—the lowest since the week of March 28, 1958. Last week's total was $23,543,000.

Conservation Office Here Reports Nine Completions

Another successful week of oil and gas testing and exploration in the 14-parish Monroe district of the Louisiana Department of Conservation produced nine new completions and 23 new locations this past week.

Duncan S. Cook, district manager, also reported six holes plugged and abandoned and 17 active rigs in the fields.

Following are the new completions:

Business Briefs

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — Crossett Paper Mills announced recently that its Bleached Foodboard Mill was shut down last Sunday for about 14 days to allow for the completion of $5 million expansion program.

The Vicksburg, Miss. office of the U. S. Army Engineer district is considering the application of Olin Oil and Gas Corp. here for a permit to construct a loading ramp and slip on the right and left banks of the Ouachita River at points about 2½ miles southeast of Moro Bay, Ark. and approximately 283 miles above the mouth of Black River, it was reported recently.

The board of directors of Arkansas Fuel Oil Corp. recently declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share on its common stock, payable September 26, 1960 to shareholders of record September 9, 1960.

The retirement of John J. (Joe) Cox, veteran guard of the Natchez mill of the International Paper Co., was announced recently.

BATON ROUGE (Special) — An increase of 17.8 per cent in liquefied petroleum gas sales during the first five months this year was reported by General Gas Corporation, leading southern distributor of LP-Gas.

HOUSTON, Tex. (Special) — Appointment of Doyle D. Mize, vice president and Houston manager for Mandrel Industries, to executive vice president of Mandrel Industries was announced following a meeting of the Board of Directors in Houston.

Misses Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The new "half a tax" on cabarets was a solid hit in night spots across the nation in its first month — but a real turkey for the Treasury Department, according to the Tax Foundation, Inc.

The foundation said the treasury saw $20 million in federal excise taxes slipping through its fingers as a result of the cut in the cabaret tax from 20 to 10 per cent.

Tobacco Estimate

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — A new cigarette on the market uses 25 per cent more tobacco than other filter brands, the manufacturer said in announcing the product.

Brown and Williamson Tobacco Corp. is producing the cigarette (Kentucky Kings) which utilizes an "all-tobacco filter." The firm estimated that if all the 228 billion filter cigarettes sold last year had been tobacco-filtered, an additional 114 million pounds of tobacco, valued at $66.5 million, would have been needed.

Paper Plays Role

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans are involved with paper from the moment they acquire a birth certificate, according to American Cyanamid Co.

Noting that we read from paper, write on it, wrap things in it, clean with it, drink out of it, dry our hands with it — even make our money out of it, Cyanamid said the average American family uses a ton of paper every year.

Salt Water Survey

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Inland streams often contain far more harvestable salts than the ocean. The U.S. Public Health Service has used electronic computers to determine that there are springs in the United States whose water is 10 times as salty as the ocean.

Hopeful New Well Finaled In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A promising new well has been completed in the McComb Oil Field.

Sun Oil Co. has brought in its Lampton-Wallace No. C-1 in the south quarter mile extension to the McComb field as an excellent oiler. The well flowed 206 barrels of oil from perforations at 10,934-98 feet. The well logged 61 feet of oil sand, thickets found in the field.

The oil was 41 gravity.

The thick sand section found in the well, located in section 22, 3 north, 7 east, is expected to increase activity in the southern part of the field.

In Marion County, Texaco is running production tests at its Padgett No. 1 wildcat in sec. 14-2n-12e, with no information released. Operators are testing a zone at 10,970 feet. The well is about 2 miles east of the recently discovered Knoxo Gas Field. The Knoxo discovery well is completed in two different gas sands below 12,000 feet.

In Amite County between the Smithdale Field and the Southeast Smithdale Field, Lyle Cashion Co. has abandoned its Butler No. 1, sec. 22-4n-6e, after no shows were logged to 11,115 feet. The disappointing venture failed to show any of the producing sands found in two nearby fields.

Also in Amite County, Justiss-Mears Oil Co. is below 10,000 in its important wildcat, the Board of Supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-3n-5e, scheduled to go to 11,600 feet.

In Hancock County, near the recently found Kiln Oil Field, Marshall Young is below 9,700 feet in his closely watched wildcat, the Nellie Stem No. 1, sec. 2-8s-15W, a 10,800 foot effort.

Humble Oil is below 11,500 feet in its closely watched Yazoo County wildcat, the Thompson No. 1, sec. 3-9n-1w, with reports that shows of uncommercial worth were logged. The well is to go to 14,500 feet to test the Smackover lime.

Home Buyers Face Bright Months Ahead

A brighter outlook for home buyers seeking to finance their purchases through either conventional mortgages or those insured by the Federal Housing Administration was reported today by John A. Clem, III, Staunton, Va., acting head of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

He based his estimate of the current mortgage outlook on the second report in the 1960 mortgage market series by NAREB's Department of Research. The report has just been completed.

"The outlook for home buyers using conventional financing has brightened somewhat in recent months," Clem said, "although, as in the past, improvement in mortgage financing has lagged behind changes in other sectors of

The report noted that since 96 per cent of all new homes and 88 per cent of existing ones are purchased with the help of mortgage credit that the state of the mortgage market "dictates the level of transactions." It pointed out also that consumer attitudes toward the availability and price of borrowing have a powerful influence on the decision to purchase. Cited in this connection was a recent report of the University of Michigan survey research center indicating that consumer intentions to buy homes had declined from May, 1959, to May, 1960.

With respect to the market for FHA-financed mortgages, Clem said the report found an "easing" situation. While not dramatic, he termed this trend "definite and widely observed."

Interest rates on conventional mortgages are generally 6, 6¼ or 6½ per cent, although for several cities in the East there are reports of 5¾ and 5½ per cent interest rates, Clem reported. With reference to mortgages with interest rates below 6 per cent, he noted that they are limited to well - located properties being bought by mortgage applicants with high credit ratings.

Populaton Facts

NEW YORK (UPI) — Negroes are making up an ever increasing proportion of the populace of large American cities, a factor all business will have to reckon with in the future, says Architectural Forum.

Chicago, now 19 per cent Negro, will be 26 per cent by 1965. Philadelphia is expected to have a 50 per cent non-white school registration this fall.

Million-Dollar Business Created By New Weapon

NEW YORK (Special) — The U.S. Navy's newest threat to enemy submarines, ASROC, which begins as a rocket and ends as a depth charge of acoustic - homing torpedo, will create a $321.4 million business for electronics defense contractors, Electronics, McGraw - Hill publication, reports.

Planned ASROC installations on 163 ships will cost $293.4 million over the next three years and the first load of ammunition for the eight - missile launchers will take another $28 million.

The new weapon, whose name is abbreviated from Anti - Submarine Rocket, was recently given a widely publicized demonstration on the destroyer leader U.S.S. Norfolk off the coast of Key West, Fla.

ASROC is fired from a ship at targets located by electronic sound gear up to nine miles away. After hitting the water, the rocket sinks to a predetermined depth and explodes, if the warhead is a depth charge, or "homes" on sounds emitted by the submarine's engines and propellers if the warhead is a torpedo. Both torpedo and depth charge can be armed with either nuclear or conventional explosives.

SPENDS MONEY TO SAVE IT

GAO Keeps Eye On Taxpayer's Dollar

By DAVID BURNHAM

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A established rule of American business life is that you must spend money to make money. A less well known maxim is that you also have to spend money to save it.

Proof of this paradox lies in the operation of the Government Accounting Office (GAO), one of the least known but nevertheless most controversial agencies in the federal government.

CHARGED

Charged by Congress to keep a wary eye on what happens to the taxpayer's dollar, GAO officials make the conservative claim that their probing examinations have returned to the public coffers in the last 40 years at least $1.3 billion, just about double the $753 million it cost to pay its accountants and investigators.

The Defense Department, which buys about $20 billion worth of equipment every year, has provided an especially juicy target for the GAO.

REPORTS

With toughly worded reports, sometimes followed up by congressional investigations, the 5000-man GAO has extracted a number of sizable refunds from some of the big contractors in the last few years.

For example: $11.5 million from General Motors, $6.2 million from Boeing, $4.7 million from McDonnell Aircraft and $3.7 million from General Electric.

BATTLE

Born after a bitter battle between Capitol Hill and the White House in 1921, the non-partisan GAO has survived determined assaults by Presidents Harding, Hoover and Roosevelt and is today quietly providing Democratic politicians with ammunition to hurl at the outgoing administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The most recent sample of the GAO's work was unveiled when Comptroller General Joseph E. Campbell accused the Army of wasting $1.6 billion when it bought 19,000 combat vehicles which regularly broke down in the field.

ACCOUNTANT

A quiet, pipe smoking, 60-year-old accountant, Campbell was appointed for a single 15-year term in 1954. But Democratic politicos are generally pleased with the independent line maintained by the head of the GAO.

Campbll's independence is not accidental. For the comptroller general has the distinction of being the only presidential appointee not subject to recall, except federal judges.

Impeachment by Congress is the only way he can be ousted.

This freedom from executive pressure, which caused President Wilson to veto the original legislation, was a constant source of friction until recent times.

But, as the GAO broadened its investigations after World War II, paying less attention to bookkeeping and more to the actual effectiveness of federal spending, a new battle began.

This fight, revolving around whether Congress and the GAO have a legal and constitutional right to examine practically all executive branch paper work, has been used by a number of Democratic congressmen to attack the administration for "secrecy in government."

Critics of the GAO, most of whom will be found in the agencies under investigation, maintain that the accountants have now gone beyond their proper business of checking the ledgers and are making policy.

But the GAO, provided by Congress with broad authority to maintain an overall survey of how the government spends its money, argues that simple audits are not enough in the age of big government.

U.S. Man Valued At $200,000 Today

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you have a top-notch race horse, you can put a price tag on him, running to more than a million dollars, sell him to another, and he, in turn, can recoup his million and more.

But you don't put a price tag on a man. You couldn't sell him with the buyer taking over all his earnings.

You can, however, put a tag on a man on the basis of what his earnings capabilities will be over his lifetime.

It's been done. The economic value of a man in the United States, says the Institute of Life Insurance, has reached the $200,000 level. In 1949 it was only $133,000.

AVERAGE

That's the average. The figure ranges upward from $175,000 to $350,000, depending on one's education. And, of course, there are the exceptions—the millionaires.

All the figures are before taxes.

Take a male baby born now. He'll live, according to present statistics on the subject of life expectancy, for 66.6 years. Of that time, he'll work 41.6 years. The other 25 years will be spent in growing up, getting an education, and in retirement.

This is a big gain over what life expectancy was at the beginning of this century. A baby born then had a life ahead, according to the statistics, of about 46 years.

In the course of our present baby's future, his earnings will be up or down according to the amount of education he accumulates.

If his education ends in grade school, his lifetime income is set at $178,000. That's well above what it was in 1949—$116,000.

DIPLOMA

A high school diploma, the insurance institute finds, raises the prospective life income to well above the overall average—$243,000 against $165,000 to 1949.

A collge degree adds more than $100,000 to prospective earning power. The estimate of a college man's income is $347,000 for a lifetime. Back in 1949 it was $268,000.

The Census Bureau reports that nearly half of all males 18 to 64 years old had at least a high school education last year, against 41 per cent in the early fifties, and 28 per cent in 1940.

More than 10 per cent of the 18-64 age group had completed four years of college, against around 8 per cent of that age group in 1952 and 5½ per cent in 1940.

All this boils down to the conclusion that education is mounting in the nation, that education brings better jobs and better income.

Also it reflects a change in our working system—away from manufacturing, which is becoming automated, into service industries.

The growth in income, says the Institute of Life Insurance has come about from a combination of factors—increase in longevity, length of the average working life, expansion of opportunity in a free society, the rising educational level and skill of the working population, and the long-term increase in the productivity of the whole economy and its impact on output and income.

Some Profits Of Texas Firm Go To Charity

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (Special) — A group of Texas businessmen have pledged 50 per cent of the profits from their new company to the Damon Runyon Memorial Cancer Fund.

Tolbert A. Rice, president of Tar Gard Laboratories, Inc., San Antonio, Texas, said today that he felt the pledge was unique in American business. Rice said that many companies have made substantial contributions to charitable, educational and humanitarian organizations, and that such organizations often held blocs of stock in manufacturing companies. "But as far as we know," said Rice, "this is the first time that an independent company has pledged 50 per cent of its profits to an organization of this type."

Tar Gard Laboratories manufactures a new type cigarette holder which filters up to 80 per cent of high temperature tars from cigarette smoke. These high temperature tars are suspected of contributing to cancer of the lungs and throat. "We believe that this pledge enables us to make a double contribution to the fight against cancer," said Mr. Rice, "through the protection that Tar Gard affords to the smoking public, and through substantial financial contribution to one of the nation's leading cancer research organizations."

In acknowledging the agreement with Tar Gard Laboratories, Inc., John H. Teeter, executive director of the Damon Runyon Fund, expressed the organization's gratitude for the pledge and noted that the Runyon Fund "is quite naturally interested in any project that reduces the smoking hazard. We believe Tar Gard does just that."

Wheat Features Only Loser On Board Of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Steady but mostly moderate hedge selling kept wheat futures on the defensive most of this week and prices of that grain were the only losers on the Board of Trade.

Setbacks were held to a one cent range, however, as mill buying, flurries of short covering and some export business absorbed most of the offerings fairly readily.

Soybeans, with three successive days of rather broad gains, posted the sharpest advances and twice were boosted to new highs for the season on all new crop contracts. Gains there ranged up to more than four cents on the March delivery.

The grains generally were limited to major fractional advances. Brokers said that while there was no particularly strong drive, the market maintained a firm tone largely because offerings were relatively scarce.

At the end of the week, wheat was ⅝-1 cent a bushel lower than a week ago, September $1.83¾-⅞; corn ⅜-¾ higher, September $1.16¾; oats unchanged to ¾ higher, September 69⅜-¼; rye unchanged to 1⅜ higher, September $1.17¾; soybeans 2-4¼ cents higher, September $2.15⅛-14¾.

Legion Juniors Advance

The Monroe American Legion Junior baseball club goes into the state playoffs against Minden tomorrow. Already this Monroe team looms as one of the finest Coach Ralph "Red" Sims has produced in six years and it could quite possibly bring this district another state champion.

This playoff with Andress Motors of Minden starts tomorrow at Minden. The second of the best-of-three series will come to Monroe Wednesday night. If a third game is necessary, the site and time will be decided after the Wednesday contest.

The Monroe club, again sponsored by Brown - Rivers - Scogin, Inc. has a 19-2 won-lost record for the season. Minden is 17-5.

A good pitching staff, better hitting than has been shown in several years, and a good share of seasoned players has made Monroe a contender. Defense has been the club weakness, but the B-R-S boys have been able to make the grade by overcoming ills caused by errors.

Right now the club is concerned over whether or not second baseman Joey McGinn will be able to continue play. McGinn is one of the best fielders in Louisiana Legion ball. Tomorrow he will hear a doctor's verdict on whether an arm injury will permit him to play or close his career for the season.

McGinn broke his left arm in a football game last year, playing with Neville High against Bastrop. A pin was placed in the fracture to hurry the mending. One afternoon following a recent Farmerville Legion game, he was in an automobile that collided head-on with another machine in the fog spread by a spray machine in mosquito control. Joey hurt his arm again in the car mishap. In a basepath collision during the just concluded Ruston playoff for the Fifth District title, Joey injured his arm again.

Coach Sims said "it's cracked at the pin," but a doctor's report today will advise whether the injury is serious enough to bar him from play. It's possible that an arm operation is in store for Joey.

Depth in pitching is a Monroe asset. Righthanders Mel Jordan and L. M. Welch are up front for playoff duty. Hershel Walker rounds out the mound corps, but he has been off duty lately with a case of poison oak.

Jordan, a Grayson athlete, was the star pitcher for Columbia until the Caldwell parish Legion team disbanded. Monroe was nearest for Jordan, so he was welcomed to continue the Junior baseball program as a member of the B-R-S club. He was bothered with a sore arm most of the season, but his trouble was gone for the series final with Ruston the other night when he hurled his mates to a shutout clincher for the Fifth District crown.

Gunn is a steady type and has gotten better as the season progressed. The effectiveness of Neal is indicated by the fact that in his last three games — nine innings against Ruston, and seven against Rayville — he allowed only a total of two runs and walked just one batter.

Causey is a 15-year-old brother of Wayne Causey who was signed to a bonus contract with the Baltimore Orioles a few years ago and is now with the Orioles' Pacific Coast club at Vancouver. Lynn has losts of stuff on the ball but a finger blister has hampered him latley.

Welch is a lad with everything a pitcher needs. He has the full repetoire of offerings but control trouble needs taming. When Welch is without his wildness he's a tough pitcher to beat.

Even Coach Sims reluctantly admits this team hits better than any that brought four district championships in the six years he has been coaching here.

"Maybe I shouldn't say this — I always get it thrown back in my face — but this is a better hitting ball club.

"I believe James Cromwell (team shortstop) is one of the best hitters we've ever produced. He's getting the long poke, and that 350-foot drive dead away over the center field fence at Ruston Thursday was a honey. Sure hope it didn't ruin him."

Sims' remark about Cromwell being ruined by hitting a homer, fits in with the Sims fear that the long clout might start a boy trying to hit nothing but homers and really hurt his batting average. He even went so far once to jokingly tell his boys he was going to bench anybody who hit a home run.

A top competitor is catcher Eddie Kincaid. He's just 15 years old, but he's already a veteran of three seasons in Legion ball, making Coach Sims' team immediately upon graduation from Little League. He's about 140 pounds in weight, hits good, and is a real team player.

Five schools have provided the club with its membership. Grayson High gives us Jordan. St. Matthew's of Monroe has Charley Biggar and Joe Zarro, outfielders; Jefferson Junior High of Monroe lists third baseman Joe Canal, and the rest come from Neville or Ouachita high schools of Monroe. Ouachita players are Cromwell, Carl Guinn, Jim Vestal, Causey, and Roy Walton. Neville's representatives are Ralph Roberts, Kincaid, McGinn, Gunn, Welch, Walker, and Randall Fallin.

How does Coach Sims feel about the chances of his club advancing?

"We have played in the state championship finals — or the team that beat us has — in all six years I have coached the team. I believe a state finalist this year will be this team or the club that is good enough to beat us."

Queen Of Speed

An international speed queen is being sought, and the sports car, stock car, drag racing, and go-kart fans of this area might come up with representatives.

One of the many beauties of the Twin Cities area could be the girl. Prime requirement is an attractive girl in looks and personality who enjoys auto racing.

National Speedways, Inc., a firm that has supervised auto racing at the Louisiana State Fair for better than 20 years, is searching for the International Speed Queen.

Here's what the choice will get:

3—Reign at the 40th anniversary auto racing program at the Florida State Fair in Tampa.

4—Have use of a new car for tours of the Cypress Gardens and Sarasota, plus the winter quarters of Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus.

The girl selected must be single, between 17 and 21 years of age, and must be free to visit Tampa and the Florida Fair in February.

Young ladies interested in entering must submit two photographs (one in bathing suit and the other in formal attire) and an accompanying letter telling why she prefers auto racing over other sports. Photos and letter must be sent to National Speedways, Inc., P. O. box 209, Des Moines, Iowa.

Entries will be screened at Des Moines and one girl selected to represent each state and the Canadian provinces in the finals.

The winner will be selected at Shreveport in October when National Speedways' officials attend the annual convention of the International Motor Contest Association. The meetings will be held in conjunction with the Louisiana State Fair's automoblie racing programs that will draw drivers, car owners, mechanics, and representatives from the nation's leading race tracks. A banquet will be held in conjunction with the meeting at the Captain Shreve Hotel.

LSU Added To North Carolina Basketball Slate

CHAPEL HILL N.C. (UPI) — The University of North Carolina announced a 1960-61 basketball schedule Saturday that adds Louisiana State and Creighton to the list of Tar Heel opponents.

Athletic Director Chuck Erickson said the LSU Tigers will meet the Tar Heels here Dec. 5 in the season opener. UNC will take on Creighton at its home court in Omaha, Dec., 19, as the third game in a Midwestern trip which includes games with Kansas State Dec. 16 and Kansas Dec. 17.

Victors Replace Yankees In First

NEW YORK (AP) — Minnie Minoso cracked four straight hits and drove in three runs to boost the Chicago White Sox into first place Saturday with a 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

Bob Shaw, with the ninth inning help of fireman Gerry Staley, recorded his ninth victory of the season as the surging White Sox extended their winning streak to seven, including two over the Yankees. Al Lopez' hot club has now won 21 of their last 29, dating back to June 21 when they were in fifth place.

The defending Amreican League champion White Sox now lead the Yankees by a full game with a vital doubleheader coming up Sunday.

Whitey Ford, Yankee ace lefty, was the victim of Chicago's 11-hit assault. The veteran was tagged for nine hits and all the runs before he gave way to Ralph Terry in the sixth. The loss evened his record at 6-6.

Minoso hit safely in his first four at bats. His single in the first inning went to waste as did his double in the third. In the fifth, however, he singled to drive home Luis Aparicio, who had opened with a walk and had stolen his 25th base. Minnie's RBI tied the score at 1-1. New York had scored in the first on a single by Hector Lopez and Yogi Berra's double.

Chicago tallied four times in the sixth to break the 1-1 tie, with Minoso delivering the key hit, a single with the bases loaded.

Joe Hicks, subbing for the injured Jim Landis in center field, opened with a walk. After Shaw sacrificed, Ford walked Aparicio and shortstop Cletis Boyer fumbled Nellie Fox' grounder, filling the bases. Vinoso sent Ford to the showers with a two-run single.

The White Sox added two more runs before Terry could stem the tide. After Roy Sievers walked to refill the bases, outfielders Tony Kubek and Roger Maris became confused and Sherm Lollar's fly dropped for a single, Fox socring. A throwing error by Gil McDougald accounted for the last run.

Shaw, who has lost eight, allowed all nine Yankee hits. Bill Skowron got three of these, a pair of singles and his 18th home run. The three hits boosted his mark to .330, tops in the league.

Shaw began to weaken in the seventh when the Yankees got their second run on a double by Bobby Richardson and McDougald's single. Skowron's home run came in the eighth.

Staley, making his 38th relief appearance, retired three straight pinch hitters in the ninth before a ladies' day crowd of 37,384, of which 28,402 paid to see the Yankees go down to their third straight defeat and 11 in the past 16 games.

Wildlife Club In Catahoula To Meet Thursday

HARRISONBURG, La. (Special) — The Catahoula Wildlife Club's regular meeting will be held Thursday night, July 28, 1960 at 7:30 in Harrisonburg.

Mr. Ernest Guinn, president, has advised that this is a very important meeting as proposals regarding the locks and water levels on Black river will be discussed. These proposals are of extreme importance to the Catahoula Parish economic and wildlife conditions and he urges all members to attend this meeting.

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission for this area, with officess in Ferriday, have promised to furnish a guest speaker for this occasion. This should afford each member of the club an opportunity to become better informed as to the work being accomplished and being planned in Catahoula parish for the conservation of our wildlife," Guinn said.

The Catahoula Parish Wildlife club has been organized for the expressed purpose of developing and promoting our parish as a Sportsman's Paradise through the combined efforts of sportsmen and business men, as well as ladies throughout the parish.

"If you are interested in Catahoula Parish and have not joined the club, you are urged too attend this meeting and become a member," Guinn stated.

Myers Bats Southside To 16-2 Victory

DELHI, La. (Special) — Catcher - pitcher Johnny Myers slammed three home runs and lefthander Ray Corwell went the distance on the mound as Southside of West Monroe walloped Delhi, 16-2, here last night to win the sub - district Little Boys baseball title.

The victory entitled Southside to meet Winnsboro next week in the state playoffs. Winnsboro knocked off Ferriday, 6-1, to gain the playoffs last night.

Delhi won the first game of the finals, 12-9, last night, to force a second contest.

Myers was almost the whole show in the decisive game. After a relief stint on the mound in the first game, Myers whacked the ball all over the park in the nightcap. His homers came in the first with two men on, the second with one on and the fifth with one on.

Corwell walked two and struck out four to take the victory. Clyde Yates, Danny Williams and Ronnie Strain worked on the hill for Delhi, with Yates taking the loss.

Danny Hampton clubbed a two - run homer in the sixth for Delhi.

Richard Heard came on in relief of Hampton in the first game to be credited with the win. William Painich, who gave way to Myers in the fifth, took the loss. Dee Gaharan of Delhi and Jimmy Taylor of Southside each paced their clubs with 2-3.

Craig Confounds Phils, Bums Win

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Roger Craig confounded Philadelphia with a three hitter Saturday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers scored a 2-0 victory and extended the Phillies' scoreless streak to 24 innings.

The Dodgers, picking up their 12th victory in 15 games before a ladies-night crowd of 43,829, remained percentage points ahead of fourth-place St. Louis and pulled to within five games of league-leading Pittsburgh.

Craig, recently out of action six weeks with a broken collarbone, didn't let the Phillies get a man past second base as he bagged his fourth victory in five decisions.

The Dodgers got only four hits themselves off rookie Dallas Green, who went the distance for the Phils and suffered his fourth loss. Green's only victory this season was a 2-0 shutout of Los Angeles last month. This time he struck out seven and walked only two.

The Dodgers scored in the first inning when Jim Gilliam led off with a walk, moved to third on Wally Moon's single and came in on a 400-foot sacrifice fly by Frank Howard.

Charley Neal opened the Dodger second with a double and scored on a single by Maury Wills.

The victory was the Dodgers' fifth straight over Philadelphia.

Los Angeles' first baseman Norm Larker, who had been leading the league in hitting, went zero for four tonight and fell behind Willie Mays of San Francisco. Mays is hitting .344, Larker .343.

Palmer Needs Miracle For Triple Crown

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—If Arnold Palmer is to complete the triple crown of American pro golf in the Professional Golfers Assn. Championship ending Sunday, it'll take a comeback rivaling his miracle finishes that took him to the Masters and U. S. Open titles.

In the Masters at Augusta, Ga., this spring, Palmer came to the last three holes needing one birdie to tie Ken Venturi for the crown, and two birdies to win the tournament. He parred the 16th, then birdied 17 with a 30-foot putt and 18 with a sidehill 6-footer. He beat Venturi by a stroke.

At the National Open at Denver last month, Palmer trailed by nine strokes after 36 holes and by seven strokes after 54. After a morning 72, Palmer blazed a 6-under-par 65, leap-frogged over 13 challengers in front of him, and won by two strokes with a 72-hole total of 280.

After Saturday's 75 in which he went 5-over-par on the last three holes, Palmer trails the 54-hole leader in the PGA championship by six strokes, 216 to 210. Ten are ahead of him, and three are tied with him.

Hymient Takes Seaway Stakes

DETROIT (AP)—Hymient ran a steady race and won the $23,400 Seaway Stakes in record time at Detroit Saturday.

The 5-year-old chestnut, owned by the L & K Stables of Detroit, finished one length ahead of his conqueror, Little Fitz, in the recent $50,000 Michigan Mile.

The All - Stars of Ferriday met the league champions of Monterey and the Monterey All-Stars played the Pony Tail All - Stars of Ferriday.

Palmer Falters, Now Trails By 6

AKRON, Ohio (AP) Doug Sanders, a young player with an unorthodox golf game, shot one of his best rounds ever Saturday to go into the lead in the PGA Championship at the 54-hole mark.

Sanders, playing what he termed "real good golf," fired a third round of 69 over the sun-baked, 7,165-yard, par 35-35-70 Firestone Country Club course and gained a one-stroke lead over three rivals with one round to go in the tournament.

That wasn't the best round of the day. The course, supposedly made tougher, turned out to be surprisingly easy for the 94 remaining pros in the tournament. Jim Ferrier, a 45-year-old, Australian-born veteran from California, shot a record 66 and tied with Sam Snead and Friday's leader, Jay Hebert at 211. Don January was next with 212.

Arnold Palmer, the Open and Masters champion for whose sole benefit this tournament supposedly was being played, ran afoul of the fearsome 16th hole and wound up six strokes back at 216. Palmer found about every imaginable trouble on the 625-yard 16th and took an 8, a triple bogey. Then he bogied the last two holes.

It was a day of thrills and excitement for 11,347 cash customers who made up a record gallery for the third round. With all the top contenders except Ferrier in the last two threesomes, the mob gathered to watch the lead change almost hole by hole.

It was a day when Ben Hogan, without a birdie for 54 holes, failed to make the 54-hole cut down and when Cary Middlecoff had to sweat out a long committee meeting before PGA officials decided merely to reprimand him for slow play instead of penalizing him. Hogan, with a third round 78 for 225, missed the cutoff by one stroke.

The last time Hogan failed to make the cut in a tournament was in the 1957 Masters. Even he couldn't remember when he had played 54 holes without a birdie.

Sanders will be 27 years old Sunday. He has been a top performer on the pro tour for about three years. His biggest victory was in the Canadian Open, while he still was an amateur, but he frequently has come in second—including the 1959 PGA championship.

It was a superb putting exhibition that put him out in front. On the front nine he holed putts of 10 feet, 6 inches, 40 feet, 10 feet and 50 feet for birdies on the front nine. Of the last, on the eighth hole, he said: "It was so long it took me 10 minutes to walk up to the ball."

A double bogey 6 at the third hole, where he hit his approach into the pond on front of the green, wiped out the benefits of his first two birdies. He also bogied the 12th and 13th by missing the greens before he canned a 30-foot birdie putt at the 15th.

Ferrier, who won the PGA title in 1947, sneaked in almost unnoticed since he had started six strokes off the lead. A fine putter, he holed five birdies, including a 7-footer that hung on the lip of the cup at the 10th before dropping in, and a 15-footer at the last hole.

The long, narrow course, supposedly tightened up severely, presented no particular problems to the better-known pros. In addition to Ferrier's 66, there was a 68 by Dave Ragan and four 69s — as many sub-par rounds as there had been in the first two days of the tournament.

The downfall of Palmer, the strong young man who had been so confident he could accomplish an unprecedented triple of the Masters, Open and PGA titles, was as big a story as any positive actions.

Palmer went out 1-over-par but got the stroke back at the 11th and was even going to the 16th tee. There he drove into a sand trap and tried to get out with a wood club. The shot faded deep into the rough and his next went into a ditch paralleling the fairway. It cost him a penalty stroke and then after hitting the green with his fifth, he three-putted. He had bogey 5s on the next two holes, losing five strokes to the leader on the last six holes.

Hebert, trying to protect the slim lead, played almost flawlessly for 14 holes. But on the 15th he was trapped and took a bogey and on the 16th he landed behind some trees and was forced to play his third shot short for another. That left him a stroke behind.

Snead, who has had plenty of trouble with the narrow fairways, went out in 37. Then he rammed home a pair of 15-foot birdie putts at the 10th and 11th holes to get back into contention and holed a 20-footer at the 17th. A par on the last hole would have given Sam a tie, but he put his second into a trap and couldn't hole a 10-foot putt.

January, one of the most consistent shooters in the tournament, also bogied the 18th and wound up two strokes back.

Hendry Hurls Winnsboro To Championship

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Floyd Hendry pitched a three-hitter and struck out 11 batters as Winnsboro downed Ferriday, 6-1, here last night to win the Little Boys sub-district championship.

Ferriday forced the issue into a second game after handing Winnsboro its first loss in the night's opening action, 8-7.

Ferriday captured the opener with a solo tally in the bottom of the sixth inning to break a 7-7 tie. Heavy hitting by Davis and David James kept Ferriday in contention through the early five innings. Davis had 4-4, including a two-run homer in the fourth, and James, the winning pitcher, collected 2-3, one of which was a two-run circuit clout in the first.

David Shirley, the loser, and Philip Bufkin each had 2-4 for Winnsboro. Shirley lined a three-run homer in the third and Bufkin poked a home run with one mate aboard in the fifth.

Fentress, Caton Move To Finals

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Lee Fetress and Larry Caton won their semifinal matches as expected Saturday and will face each other Sunday for the Alabama state tennis open championship.

The top-seeded Fentress, Baton Rouge, La., eliminated fourth-seeded Fred Chen, Montgomery, Ala., 6-3, 6-4.

Second-seeded Caton, Pensacola, Fla., downed Ernest Cox, Mobile, 6-3, 6-4. Cox was the only non-seeded player to gain the semifinals.

The women's title in the state meet also will go to a non-Alabamian.

ROOKIE LEADS ATTACK

Perry Picks Up 11th Victory As Indians Stop Bosox, 4-2

BOSTON (AP) — Cleveland rookie Mike De La Hoz cracked his first major league home run and a scarifice fly for a 4-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday, supporting Jim Perry's 11th pitching triumph.

Willie Tasby and Ted Williams, constant thorns in the Indians' side, provided the Red Sox punch with solo homers.

Center fielder Jim Persall was thrown out of the game in the eighth inning for obstructing Williams' batting vision. Manager Joe Gordon had ruled he would fine Piersall $500 the next time Jim was ejected but got bounced himself defending his outfielder's right to dance back and forth on defense.

Coach Mel Harder became the third visitor to get the heave-ho from plate Umpire Ed Hurley when he joined in the bitter war of words.

The 20-year-old Cuban De La Hoz, who made his major league debut Friday night, hit a sacrifice fly off loser Tom Brewer in the second inning to put the Indians ahead 2-0. He hit a first pitch into the left screen in the fourth, running the Indians' margin to 4-1.

De La Hoz was called up from Mobile to play shortstop for the American League pennant contenders while top RBI man Woody Held is sidelined by a broken finger.

Williams socked a 450-foot drive into the right field pavilion for his second homer in as many games, 16th of the season and 508th in the majors.

Tito Francona's infield grounder in the first inning following a single by Johnny Temple, a walk and a fielder's choice produced the other Cleveland run.

King Finance beat Gay's, 6-0, in the other game on Charley Curry's two - hitter. Bill McSherry had 2-2 and Ray Harvey homered for King Finance. Payne and Sandy hurled for Gay's.

UNORTHODOX LEADER

Sanders Amazes Golfing Gallery

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Doug Sanders goes after the biggest birthday present of his career Sunday.

The gangling youngster from Cedartown, Ga., playing out of Miami Beach, Fla., carries a one-stroke edge into the final round of the 42nd PGA championship, against the best shotmakers in the land, on his 27th birthday.

Galleryites who watched the tall, curly-haired southerner carve out a 69 over Firestone Country for a 54-hole total of 210—even par—wonder how he did it.

Sanders probably has the most unorthodox stance and swing in golfdom. He looks like a weekend duffer as he spreads his feet wide on every shot, and his backswing hardly reaches his neck line as he punches the ball.

But his blazing putter was a magic wand as he sank one putt of 6 inches, two from 10 feet, and others from 30, 40 and 50 feet for birdies.

The 50 footer came on the 450-yard eighth, and Sanders said it was much longer than the 50 feet credited by the feminine scorer who accompanied him.

"Why, I had to walk for 10 minutes to get my ball back after I sank that one," he drawled as his wife, Joan, unmindful of grinning newspapermen, flung both arms around his neck and gave him a lingering kiss. Doug and Joan, a petite, dimpled cutie, were married the day before last Easter.

Harvey Raynor, PGA tournament supervisor, said of Sanders: "His swing may not be pretty, but it's effective."

And pretty or not, Sanders proves the old golfing adage "it isn't how you hit the ball, but how many times, that counts."

Golf has been good to Sanders. He hasn't won a tournament this year, but has picked up $22,000 in prize money in 25 outings. Last year he won $25,000, and in 1958, his first full tour, he collected $17,000.

Sanders came close in the PGA a year ago. He has hit only four balls out of bounds in his years on the tour, and one of them last year cost him the two strokes which cut him out of a tie with Bob Rosburg for the PGA championship.

His down-the-middle play, and his unorthodox swing, he traces back to the days when he was a club-carrier.

"At the Cherokee course in Cedartown caddies weren't permitted to play," he said. "But we used to sneak on the course and the hole we played had honeysuckle on one side and a creek on the other. We had to hit and pick up before the members spotted us, so I developed the short swing to stay on the fairway. If we went off the fairway we lost golf balls, and we couldn't afford that."

He can afford it now, but he's still down the middle.

Wildlife Unit Sets Fishfry Friday Night

The Ouachita Parish Wildlife unit will hold an annual fish fry Friday night at the American Legion Home on Forsythe avenue, according to an announcement yesterday by Bud Tidwell.

The wildlifers this year will make the annual fry a family affair, according to Tidwell. "We'd like to see every member come and bring his family," Tidwell said.

Festivities will get underway at 7:30 p.m.

Tidwell said "no long - winded, formal speeches will be on the agenda. We only expect to give a few announcements, see some very interesting wildlife films, eat plenty of fish and adjourn."

A. B. Smith has secured some films for the occasion. Some are reported to have appeal for the children while others will hold the attention of adults.

E. D. Elmore, chairman of the fish fry committee, said that plans are underway to have one of the biggest fish frys ever sponsored by the unit. He said all kinds of freshwater fish will be served.

He also asked that any fishermen wishing to donate their catches for use at the fishfry could do so by calling any of the following wildlifers: Jesse Brantley, Bud Tidwell, Jack Rushing, Bill Minor or Ed Singleton.

Tidwell said that all members of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission have been invited to attend he annual affair. He also said members of wildlife units from throughout this section would be welcome.

In addition, Tidwell urged any prospective member of the Ouachita wildlife unit to attend the fry and pickup a membership card.

One highlight of the program will be the presentation of awards to winners in the July fishing contest. Winners will receive awards from Lloyd Vorhees, chairman of the contest committee.

Vidalia Stars To Compete In Babe Ruth Meet

VIDALIA, La. (Special) —Announcement has been made by officials of the Vidalia Babe Ruth League to the effect that the Vidalia All - Stars of that league will take part in the state tournament to be held in Hammond August 1, 2, 3.

The Vidalia entry will go into battle the first day of the tourney, being pitted against the winner of District two tournament which is now under way.

On Monday, July 25, the All-Stars will engage in an exhibition game with an all - star team from Fayette, Miss., at the Vidalia Field starting at 7:30 p.m.

Vidalia drew a bye in district number one play in view of the fact that no team was deemed adequate to play Vidalia's outstanding club.

LABINE WALKS IN WINNER

Orioles Cop Nightcap, 4-3, After Tigers Score 4-1 Win

BALTIMORE (AP)—An unearned run, forces across on a bases-loaded walk by relief pitcher Clem Labine, gave the Baltimore Orioles a 4-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the second game of a twi-night doubleheader Saturday night.

Detroit won the opener 4-1 as Frank Bolling and Eddie Yost hit homers to back up Lefty Hank Aguirre's three-hit pitching.

Rookie Phil Regan, making his first major league start for the Tigers, was charged with the second game loss.

The 23-year-old right-hander allowed only two hits over the final 5 2-3 innings before Detroit shortstop, Chico Fernandez opened the gates for the winning run by making a wild throw on Jackie Brandt's two-out bouncer in the ninth.

Gene Stephens, who dropped a fly ball to permit an unearned Tiger run in the sixth, then rapped a double off the right field wall, sending Brandt to third. After Gene Woodling walked to load the bases, Labine replaced Regan.

Labine worked the count to 3-2 on Jim Gentile. The Oriole cleanup hitter fouled the next pitch and then took a fourth ball.

Regan gave up single runs in the first three innings before he settled down. The Tigers came back with a single run in the third, a solo homer by Fernandez in the fifth and the unearned run in the sixth.

Hoyt Wilhelm pitched three hitless innings in relief of Hal Brown, striking out four, to pick up his eighth victory against six losses.

In the opener, Aguirre notched his first victory since May 22. He allowed only a scratch infield hit before Dave Nicholson homered to lead off the Oriole eighth.

By that time, a two-run homer by Bolling and a one-run homer by Yost had sewed up the southpaw's third triumph in five decisions.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

(LIT wins Championship, went through regular season undefeated)

Charles Dean, Charles Hendry and McBeth each collected three hits to lead Emmanuel to an 11-9 Church "B" League victory over Sterlington. Carl McBeth and O. C. Watson was the winning battery over Richard Fuller and J. Fuller. Johnson paced the losers with 2-5.

J. T. Gilmore recorded the mound victory and had 2-4 at the plate to lead McClendon past Central, 5-3. Crowson hit a two-run homer for the losers.

Manning had 4-4 off loser Travis Brown to give Church of God an 8-7 win over Claiborne. Larry Clark took the win.

Rebel League

Brown - Rivers - Scogin nailed down first place in the Rebel League with an 11-10 decision over Piggly Wiggly Saturday night.

The victory decided the pairings for the loop's Shaughnessey playoffs beginning Monday night. Opening games of the best - of-three series will send Piggly Wiggly against Dixie Boys at six o'clock and Brown - Rivers - Scogin against Monroe Sand and Gravel at eight.

Woody Woodcock allowed only three hits and collected 2-5 at the plate to lead the victory. His batterymate was Dicky Worthy. David Walker and Jerry Green was the losing battery.

CLAYTON COLE 14TH

Culley Closes In On Leader Dixon

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Louis Culley, Jackson, turned in a 4-under-par 68 in the second round of the Greenwood invitational golf tournament here Saturday.

He pulled within a stroke of the tourney leader, Gene Dixon, Memphis.

Dixon, one of Tennessee's outstanding young amateurs, is one up on Culley with a 36-hole total of 138. Dixon, playing sub-par golf both days, shot a 68 Friday and a 70 Saturday.

Culley was all-even with Dixon at the end of the 17th hole Saturday. At the 18th hole he bogied the par-five hole to finish with a 68 for a total of 139.

Burt Burdick, Baton Rouge, La. continued his consistent golf game and charged his second 70 for a 36-hole total of 140.

Charles Kennon, highly regarded Louisiana player, provided excitement for the spectators on the 13th hole. He teed off, driving his shot into a water hazard. Taking a penalty shot and teeing off again, he holed the cup to finish the hole with a par-3.

Tommy Lott, Columbus, finished with a total of 142. Lott, shooting 141, was assessed with a penalty shot on the 16th green when his putter accidentally hit the ball. Tied with Lott was David Dixon, Memphis, brother of the tourney leader.

Curtis Persons, Memphis, widely known amateur and one of the tourney favorites, was eight strokes off the pace with a 146. Persons, 11 times club champion here, had an eagle and four birdies Saturday to finish with a one-over-par 73.

2ND STRAIGHT VICTORY

Rookie Marichal Tosses 4-Hit Win Over Bucs, 3-1

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rookie Juan Marichal pitched his second victory in as many major league starts Saturday, stopping the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-1 on 4 hits. Home runs by Bob Schmidt and Willie Mays powered San Francisco.

The defeat, coupled with Milwaukee's victory over Chicago cut the Pirates' National League lead to 1½ games over the second place Braves.

Marichal beat Philadelphia 2-0 on one hit Tuesday night after coming up from Tacoma in the fifth place, 7½ games off the Pacific Coast League. It wasn't pace.

until the seventh that the Pirates scored—giving Marichal a major league debut of 15 scoreless innings.

The victory left the Giants in

Marichal ran into trouble when Rocky Nelson singled and Roberto Clemente walked to open the fifth. But the 21-year-old right-hander from the Dominican Republic retired the next three batters.

Eddie Bressoud doubled to open the Giants' fifth and reached third on Don Blasingame's bunt. Mays, who earlier had singled and doubled, walloped Haddix's first pitch 410 feet over the fence in center field. It was his 20th home run.

Marichal walked batters in the first and third, but each time his teammates came up with double plays.

Pittsburgh scored the first major league run off the rookie in the seventh on a single by Nelson and a double by Smoky Burgess.

MCDANIEL WINS 7TH

Cards Top Reds On Homer In 10th

CINCINNATI (AP)—Walt Moryn belted his second home run as a Cardinal and fourth of the season Saturday, giving St. Louis a 7-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Lindy McDaniel nailed the victory in relief, his 37th appearance as a fireman this season.

He lost a two-run lead in the ninth inning to a home run by Frank Robinson.

The Cards acquired Moryn from Chicago after the start of the season.

A late rally gave the Cards a tie with one run in the eighth. They got two more in the ninth on Bill White's two-run double.

But Cincinnati matched that in the bottom of the ninth when Vada Pinson for the second time beat out a bunt and Robinson followed with his 17th homer.

The game was marked with errors, and four of the 12 runs were unearned.

St. Louis' one-run lead in the first inning melted under Wally Post's 14th home run. 12 this year as a Redleg. Cincinnati picked up another run in the same inning—the fourth — on a bases-loaded walk to Eddie Kasko.

St. Louis' speedy Julivan Javier beat out a bunt in the fifth, reached third on a bad throw and scored when Reds' catcher Dutch Dotterer let a pitch get past him.

But Pinson didn't need a hit to score in the seventh. He took first on an error, stole second and went to third on an error. He stole home.

WRIGHT BLOWS UP

Betsy Rawls Rallies For 4th Open Win

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Betsy Rawls overcame a seven-stroke deficit and steadily mounting pressure Saturday and won an unprecedented fourth U.S. Women's Open golf title with a 292.

She fired a brilliant, 4-under-par 68 in the morning round, wiping out the seven-stroke lead built by defending champion Mickey Wright, San Diego, Calif., in the first two days.

Then, in the afternoon, she fell two strokes back of Joyce Ziske, Waterford, Wis., on the first nine, but rallied and pulled it out with a 2-under-par 35 on the last nine.

Joyce, who trailed Betsy and Mickey by three strokes at the end of 4 holes, came in with a 73, one stroke back in second place.

Betsy, who was paired with Mickey in the 36-hole final, had finished when husky Joyce approached the final green. She needed a birdie 3 to win, a par to tie.

Betsy watched as Joyce missed a 4-foot putt for par.

"Oh, boy, that was agony," Betsy said later. "I have to admit I wanted her to miss it. I sure didn't want to play tomorrow."

Tall, blonde Mickey who was shooting for her third straight title, fell apart. She blew her big lead with a 75 in the morning round, fell into a tie then skied to an 82 in the final round.

Her 299 was good for fifth, one stroke back of Marlene Hagge, Crystal River, Fla., and Mary Lena Faulk, Sea Island, Ga., who tied for third.

"It was just one of those days," the big gracious Mickey said. She said she had no excuses—"a very bad putter."

But Betsy said later that Mickey was troubled by an ailing left knee.

"Sure, it was bothering her," Betsy drawled. "But she wouldn't say anything about it. And she pulled a muscle in her back last night, but she wouldn't say anything about that, either."

The winning card for nine-year-pro from Spartansburg, S.C., over the par 35-37—72, 6,137 yard Worchester County Club course was 76-73-68-75—292. Miss Ziske, a recent winner of the Western Open, was 75-74-71-73—293.

Betsy previously won Open titles in 1951, 1953 and 1957. The only other player to own three Open Crowns was the late Babe Zaharias.

Lyman Rated Contender In Jr. Masters

DOTHAN, Ala. (AP) — Maurey Finkelstein of Savannah, Ga., who came within a sudden-death playoff of winning last year, stands as the favorite in the Future Masters Junior Golf Tournament next week.

Finkelstein, 17, lost the 1959 title in extra holes to Morris Slingluff of Dothan. Slingluff now is outside the age limit of 18 and won't be back to defend his crown.

During the two-day tournament, players in the 15-16 and 17-18 age groups play 54 holes. The 13-14 and 11-12 groups 36 holes and the 10-and-under group 18 holes.

Six young golfers rated to give Finkelstein his toughest competition are Chip Lyman of Baton Rouge, La., John Lamey of Mobile, Ala., Jack Oliver of Valdosta, Ga., Hamp Greene of Montgomery, Maurice Green of Birmingham and Gene Ferrell of Mobile.

Except for Slingluff, the winner of the 17-18 age group, all of last year's division champions are expected back. They are Finkelstein, Don Fruge of Meridian, Miss., Ronnie Burch of Mobile and Lamar Hart Jr. of Dothan.

USL Begins Season Ticket Sales Monday

LAFAYETTE, La. (Special) — University of Southwestern Louisiana football boosters will observe "Bulldog Day" on Monday, July 25, when the USL athletic officials start selling season tickets to an attractive lineup of six home games at McNaspy Stadium.

Monday's loud blast-off was designated as "Bulldog Day" by Lafayette Mayor J. Rayburn Bertrand in a special proclamation announced here last Wednesday.

A. G. (Whitey) Urban, USL athletic director, said that the goal of this widespread drive in the Lafayette and Southwest Louisiana region will be to sell 2,500 season ducats in McNaspy's choice reserved seat sections. The sale of pasteboards will continue until the 1960 season opener on Sept. 17.

Action on the McNaspy sod Sept. 17 features the traditional Cypress Mug classic with Southeastern Louisiana College. Other guests will be Louisiana Tech, Oct. 8; Arlington (Tex.) State, Oct. 15; Louisiana College, Oct. 22; Northeast La. State, Oct. 29; and Pensacola Naval Air Station, Nov. 5.

The outing with Northeast State is headlined as Homecoming for Southwestern grads and former students.

Prices for season pasteboards to the half dozen contests have been set as follows: Box seat, $15.50; sections E-F-G-H, $14; sections C-D-I-J, $12; and sections A-B-K-L, $10.

Ticket orders and inquiries should be addressed to: Box 455, Department of Athletics, Univ. of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, La. The Athletic Office phone is CEnter 4-7321, extension 250, or 275.

Venetian Way Finishes 3rd To T.V. Lark

CHICAGO (AP)—T. V. Lark, owned by C. R. McCoy, a Pasadena, Calif., dredging firm operator, Saturday won the $135,600 Arlington Classic by about three quarters of a length over John William, while the even money favorite Venetian Way finished third.

Ridden by Arlington Park's leading jockey, John Sellers, T. V. Lark grabbed the lead on the turn for home and covered the mile in 1:36 1-5. The colorbearer of the C. R. Mac Stable, winner of last year's $212,000 Arlington Futurity and the winner five times in 14 starts this season as a 3-year-old, returned $35.40, $6.60 and $6.00.

The crowd was 25,753.

This was the ninth stakes race for T. V. Lark this year. He previously won the Tropicana and the Argonaut and finished second July 9 in the Hollywood Derby.

The Classic victory was worth $86,500, boosting his earnings for the year to $181,300 and hiking his two-year total to $363,252.

T. V. Lark was third for a half mile or so in the field of 12 as John William set the pace and Ralph Lowe's New Policy was running second.

Sellers drove T. V. Lark around the outside at the stretch turn with John William moving up and kept his advantage to the wire.

"I just sat there biding my time and when I asked him to run for home he really responded," said Sellers.

Arcaro said he thought Venetian Way "was bothered twice, but that's about all I have to say."

Venetian Way finished 2½ lengths behind John William.

In fifth place was Run for Nurse, followed in order by New Policy, Jive Music, Kelso, Divine Comedy, Grey Eagle, Cuvier Relic and Bold Lark.

FACE PROVES VALUABLE

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) —If the Pittsburgh Pirates win the National League pennant their most valuable man could be relief pitcher Elroy Face. When the season reached the half-way mark, Face had appeared in 37 of Pittsburgh's first 77 games.

VASELL AT QUARTER

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Buff Donelli of the Columbia football team is enthused this summer and figures the Lions will be in the thick of the Ivy League race. "Tom Vasell will run our club from quarterback," says Donelli. "The experience he gained as a sophomore will help make him an improved player. He's a fine passer."

Nick Shuk won the riding title at four straight Pimlico meetings from the spring of 1951 through autumn of 1952.

a situation they hope to alter this afternoon at 2:30 when they meet the second-place Vols at Confederate Field.

This battle headlines a league schedule that has Sterlington at Dubach and Monroe at Bastrop in other games.

Since defeating West Monroe, 5-3, back in May, Ruston has lost three straight to the Vols. Billy Henderson's crew has had better luck against the rest of the league although Monroe also holds the edge over the Ramblers with two wins, one loss and a tie.

But against the other three clubs, Ruston has compiled an 11-0 mark and that's why the Ramblers are leading the circuit with a 13-5 record. Ruston picked up a half game on the Vols by beating Sterlington, 6-4, Friday night while the other four clubs were rained out.

Sterlington's Cats, who share third place with Monroe, have been tough this year with Bill Hallcy on the mound. The former Cotton States League pro pitched five innings against Ruston Friday night.

Monroe has an excellent pitcher in Fred Southerland but often has a tough time of it when he's not around. Righthander Carroll George has also pitched well but has been the victim of poor fielding and batting support.

Requires Three Trips Past Wire

BALTIMORE (AP) — Note to Eddie Arcaro: The Pimlico Cup will be run at 2, miles and 1-16 on Dec. 10.

Pimlico announced Saturday it is doubling last year's purse to $20,000 and stretching the Cup distance from 1⅝ miles.

The extra ⅝ this year means the horses will pass the finish wire three times instead of the usual two. The extra time caused Arcaro to pull an embarrassing and costly error in the 1949 running of the Cup.

It was 2½ miles then. Arcaro was way out in front on Blue Hills after going a mile and half. When they passed under the wire the second time, Arcaro thought it was all over and stood up in the stirrups to start bringing Blue Hills to a halt.

Ex-Greenies To Assist Simons

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — Claude Monk Simons, head coach of the South All-Stars for the 1960 All-America high school football game here Aug. 20, yesterday picked two former Tulane players as his assistances.

Gene Newton and Stanley Ketteman will help Simons when the Rebel All-Stars begin showing up here Aug. 14 for pre - game workouts.

Newton quarterbacked Tulane before graduating in 1958 while Ketteman, a 1950 graduate, star - red at center.

Bill Hartack, 27, rode his 2,500th winner since Oct. 14, 1952 midway during the Monmouth Park summer meeting.

BASEBALL'S NEW slugging sensation, Roger Maris of the Yankees, is on his way to the home run and RBI championship of the American League. A year ago, playing with Kansas City, he was a thoroughly frustrated young athlete. (AP Wirephoto)

PLUS MATURITY

NY Trade Cured Frustrated Maris

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—A year ago at this time, Roger Maris was a thoroughly frustrated athlete whose batting average and ego were vieing with each other to see which would plummet faster and lower.

Today, the soft-spoken, shy and almost scared young man is the most formidable offensive weapon in the American League and one of the most discussed personalities in major league baseball.

The handsome, 25-year-old left-handed slugger, is contending for top honors in all power departments, leading the league in home runs and runs batted in.

What has brought about this change in such a comparatively short time?

Maris isn't sure he knows the answer although he thinks it may be a combination of experience, maturity, the good fortune to avoid serious injury or illness and the challenge that comes with becoming associated with the New York Yankees.

"I wasn't particularly pleased when I learned last winter that I was traded from Kansas City to the Yankees," said the 6-foot, 190-pounder who was born in Minnesota but now lives just outside Kansas City. "I was happily situated, I had made a lot of friends and my wife, Patricia, had grown to like it very much where we were.

"I realized it was a tremendous break to join a pennant contender, especially a team like the Yankees. But I also knew the pressure there would be great and that I would be facing the biggest problem of my life. The Yankees have been accustomed to winning pennants and to have top flight stars. I knew the pressure would be tremendous and I suppose that made me more determined than ever."

That was quite a speech for the strapping blond bomber who rarely says more than "hello" and "goodbye" in the clubhouse.

Maris is far from a braggart. He shies away from interviews and when he does consent to one, he tends to talk himself down. As a youngster, he had a terrible inferiority complex despite the fact that he was an all-around athlete at Stanley High School in Fargo, Minn.

"Please don't ask me whether I think I can break Babe Ruth's record," he pleaded. "Ever since I passed the 20-mark, I've been asked that question. I'm not even thinking of Ruth's record. Where does a fellow like me dare think of myself in any category with Ruth.

"The only thing I'm thinking of is helping the Yankees win a pennant. What I want most is to get into a world series. This is the first time I was ever on a team with a chance to get into a world series. I'll be satisfied if I can finish with around .320, over 100 runs batted in and about 40 home runs."

Up to the all-star break, Maris was running ahead of Ruth's pace when he slammed his record 60 home runs in 1927. But a wrist injury has slowed him up. It wasn't until after the two all-star games, during which Maris failed to hit safely in five official times at bat that he disclosed he had been playing with torn ligaments in the right wrist.

Maris' hitting is not the only thing that has made him the most exciting figure in the American League. He has prove himself to be a great all-around performer. He is fast, eager, ambitious, has a fine arm and knows how to use it. He has won a number of games with a great catch or brilliant throw.

"When we got Maris from Kansas City," said Manager Casey Stengel, "I knew he was a good ball player but I admit he has been far more spectacular than I had dared hope he would be. He has been the difference between the floundering Yankees of last year and the present team.

Maris came to the Yankees with the reputation of being a streaky hitter. One month he'd be batting .400, the next .200. As a Yankee, he's been the most consistent of them all.

Roger finished the '59 season with the Athletics thoroughly frustrated. His batting tailspin in the last month sent his average from a once proud league leading .328 to a mere .273. A 30-day layoff because of an appendectomy had quite a bit to do with his decline. The year before, he also had started brilliantly, but he was afflicted by broken ribs and his batting average plummeted from near .400 to .240.

"I'm more relaxed, more sure of myself," he explained. "Maybe that's because I'm playing regularly and I've avoided serious injury so far. Maybe it's because I'm surrounded by such great stars as Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Moose Skowron. Maybe it's New York or maybe it's just being a Yankee. Whatever it is, I feel I have more confidence, more eagerness, more determination."

Nats Pull Off Triple Play, Whip A's, 8-3

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Washington pulled off the first American League triple play of the season and Harmon Killebrew hit his ninth homer as the Senators whipped the Kansas City Athletics, 8-3 Saturday.

Lefty Chuck Stobbs, with five innings of four-hit, one-run relief work, was credited with his seventh victory against two defeats. Bud Daley, seeking his 13th victory, instead was tagged with his seventh setback as the Senators belted him for their first five runs in his three innings.

The A's biggest threat in the third inning was snuffed out after Bill Tuttle and Jerry Lumpe led off with singles. On a 3-2 pitch, with both runners moving, Whitey Herzog slammed the ball on a line back to the box. Washington's Starter, Pete Ramos, snared the ball, tossed to first baseman Julio Becquer, doubling off Lumpe. Becquer's lob to shortstop Jose Valdivielso covering second, easily tripled Tuttle.

Ruston's Cage School Enlists Bob Pettit Aid

RUSTON, La. (Special)—Bob Pettit, professional basketball star of the St. Louis Hawks, will join Jackie Moreland and J. W. Mercer, Louisiana Tech cage aces, in conducting a basketball coaching school at Ruston the week of August 1-6.

L. P. "Eddie" McLane, director of student service at Louisiana Tech, has announced the Ruston Park and Recreation Department is conducting the basketball school at Bobby James Memorial Gymnasium.

Blys from ten years through high school age will be enrolled f or the school, and youths from throughout north Louisiana are invited to attend.

Pettit, former Louisiana State University athlete, has been secured to conduct programs the afternoon of Wednesday, August 3, and Thursday morning, August 4.

RACING ODDITY

NEW YORK (AP) — An oddity of the turf occurred when long shot Keenation won the Peter Pan Handicap at Aqueduct. The race was named for Peter Pan, a colt foaled in 1904 and owned by the late James R. Keene. Keenation, however, was named after Citation and Miss Keenland, his sire and dam, respectively.

CARDWELL LOSES 4-HITTER

Aaron Socks 28th Homer In 3-0 Triumph Over Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Hank Aaron took over the National League homer lead Saturday as he smacked his 28th in Milwaukee's 3-0 defeat of the Chicago Cubs as the second place Braves ended a two-game losing streak.

Aaron, hitless in his first three trips to the plate, homered with one out and the bases empty in the ninth. Don Cardwell, who suffered his 10th loss among 14 decisions despite the fact he pitched a four-hitter, was the victim of Aaron's blast into the left field bleachers into the teeth of a brisk wind.

Eddie Mathews set the Braves in motion offensively with his 21st homer in the first inning. It was a wrong field blast into the same left field seats that Aaron's drive reached eighth innings later.

The Braves' second run was unearned as Lee Maye doubled with one out in the second on a pop fly that fell between Richie Ashburn and Ernie Banks. When Ashburn threw the return throw past second base, Maye continued to third.

Johnny Logan delivered a sacrifice fly to get Maye across.

Milwaukee's other hit was Logan's leadoff single in the fourth.

The Cubs, picking up eight hits in their fifth shutout loss of the season, left 11 runners stranded as winner Juan Pizarro fanned 12 and walked three before he was lifted two outs from the finish.

Ron Piche came aboard with two Cubs on base and retired Ashburn and Sammy Taylor on harmless infield rollers.

The victory was Pizarro's sixth among eight decisions and the Braves eighth in their last 10 games.

AT MINDEN

Monroe To Open Playoffs Monday

Monroe, which sewed up its second straight Fifth District title with two straight victories over Ruston last week, will step into the state American Legion baseball quarter-finals Monday night against Andress Motors at Minden.

Second game of the best-of-three series is scheduled to be held in Monroe Wednesday night, with the site of a third contest to be decided later if needed.

Monroe's Brown-Rivers-Scogin squad, without a doubt one of the finest ever assembled here, has compiled an overall record of 19 wins and two losses. The club finished the regular campaign with a 13-2 slate, won four straight district playoff tilts and copped a pair of exhibition wins.

Consecutive shutout pitching performances by righthanders Mel Jordan and Neal Gunn lifted the locals into the state playoff picture with 6-0 and 4-0 wins over Ruston.

The only doubtful starter on Red Sims' club is second baseman Joey McGinn, who aggravated an old arm injury in a collision against Ruston. Sims said an operation will be necessary, but that it may be postponed until the close of the season.

Andress Motors bagged the Fourth District championship Saturday night by knocking off Industrial Sheet Metal of Shreveport, 4-2, in the third game of their series.

Led by big righthander Billy Ray who has posted a 7-1 record on the mound, the Motormen will go into the series against Monroe with an overall slate of 17 wins and five losses.

SIX FOR SIX

OCEANPORT, N. J. (AP) — When Royal Native won the Molly Pitcher Handicap at Monmouth Park it marked her sixth stakes victory of 1960, all under jockey Bill Hartack. Four of the victories were in the colors of Bill MacDonald Jr., who bought the 4-year-old filly last March for $252,500 from Pernie L. Grissom.

YEAR OF THE COMEBACK

NEW YORK (AP) — With the advent of the American Football League the coming gridiron campaign could be known as the "comeback season." Many players are returning. One of them is Bill Worhman, 27, a South Carolina halfback from Bloomingdale, N. J. He had a short trial with the Cleveland Browns in 1955 and last year coached Dickinson, N. J., High School.

Legionnaires To Elect New Officers Today

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—Louisiana Legionnaires will elect new department officers Sunday and vote on five resolutions aimed at blocking integration in the 40 & 8 — Legion funmaking group — as the veterans' group winds up its annual convention.

The resolutions committee reported favorably Saturday on five resolutions which would attempt to avert integration of the 4 & 8.

The Legion's national headquarters have ordered that the word "white" should be deleted from membership requirements for the 40 & 8. Primarily, the group is known as a funmaking group, but actually it is an honor society for Legion members.

One of the resolutions to be presented Sunday calls the national action unconstitutional and illegal. The resolutions were reported by the committee without opposition and are expected to be passed by the convention.

Church Camps Attract Many

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 1,000 young people, paying their own way, are participating in inter - denominational Christian work projects this year in 47 different areas of the world. The work camps are sponsored by the World Council of Churches.

By, for, and about WOMEN

At right: With a lawn sloping to the bayou bank and a boat in the water, the Ed Shaw family has a built-in spot for family picnics. Mrs. Shaw spreads the lunch, as Lillian and Bo prepare to tie up the boat.

Below: What better place than poolside for an iced drink in the late afternoon? Dr. and Mrs. Fred Marx frequently entertain with this kind of hospitality. Pictured are Mrs. Sackman Marx, the hostess, Dr. Marx, and Sackman Marx.

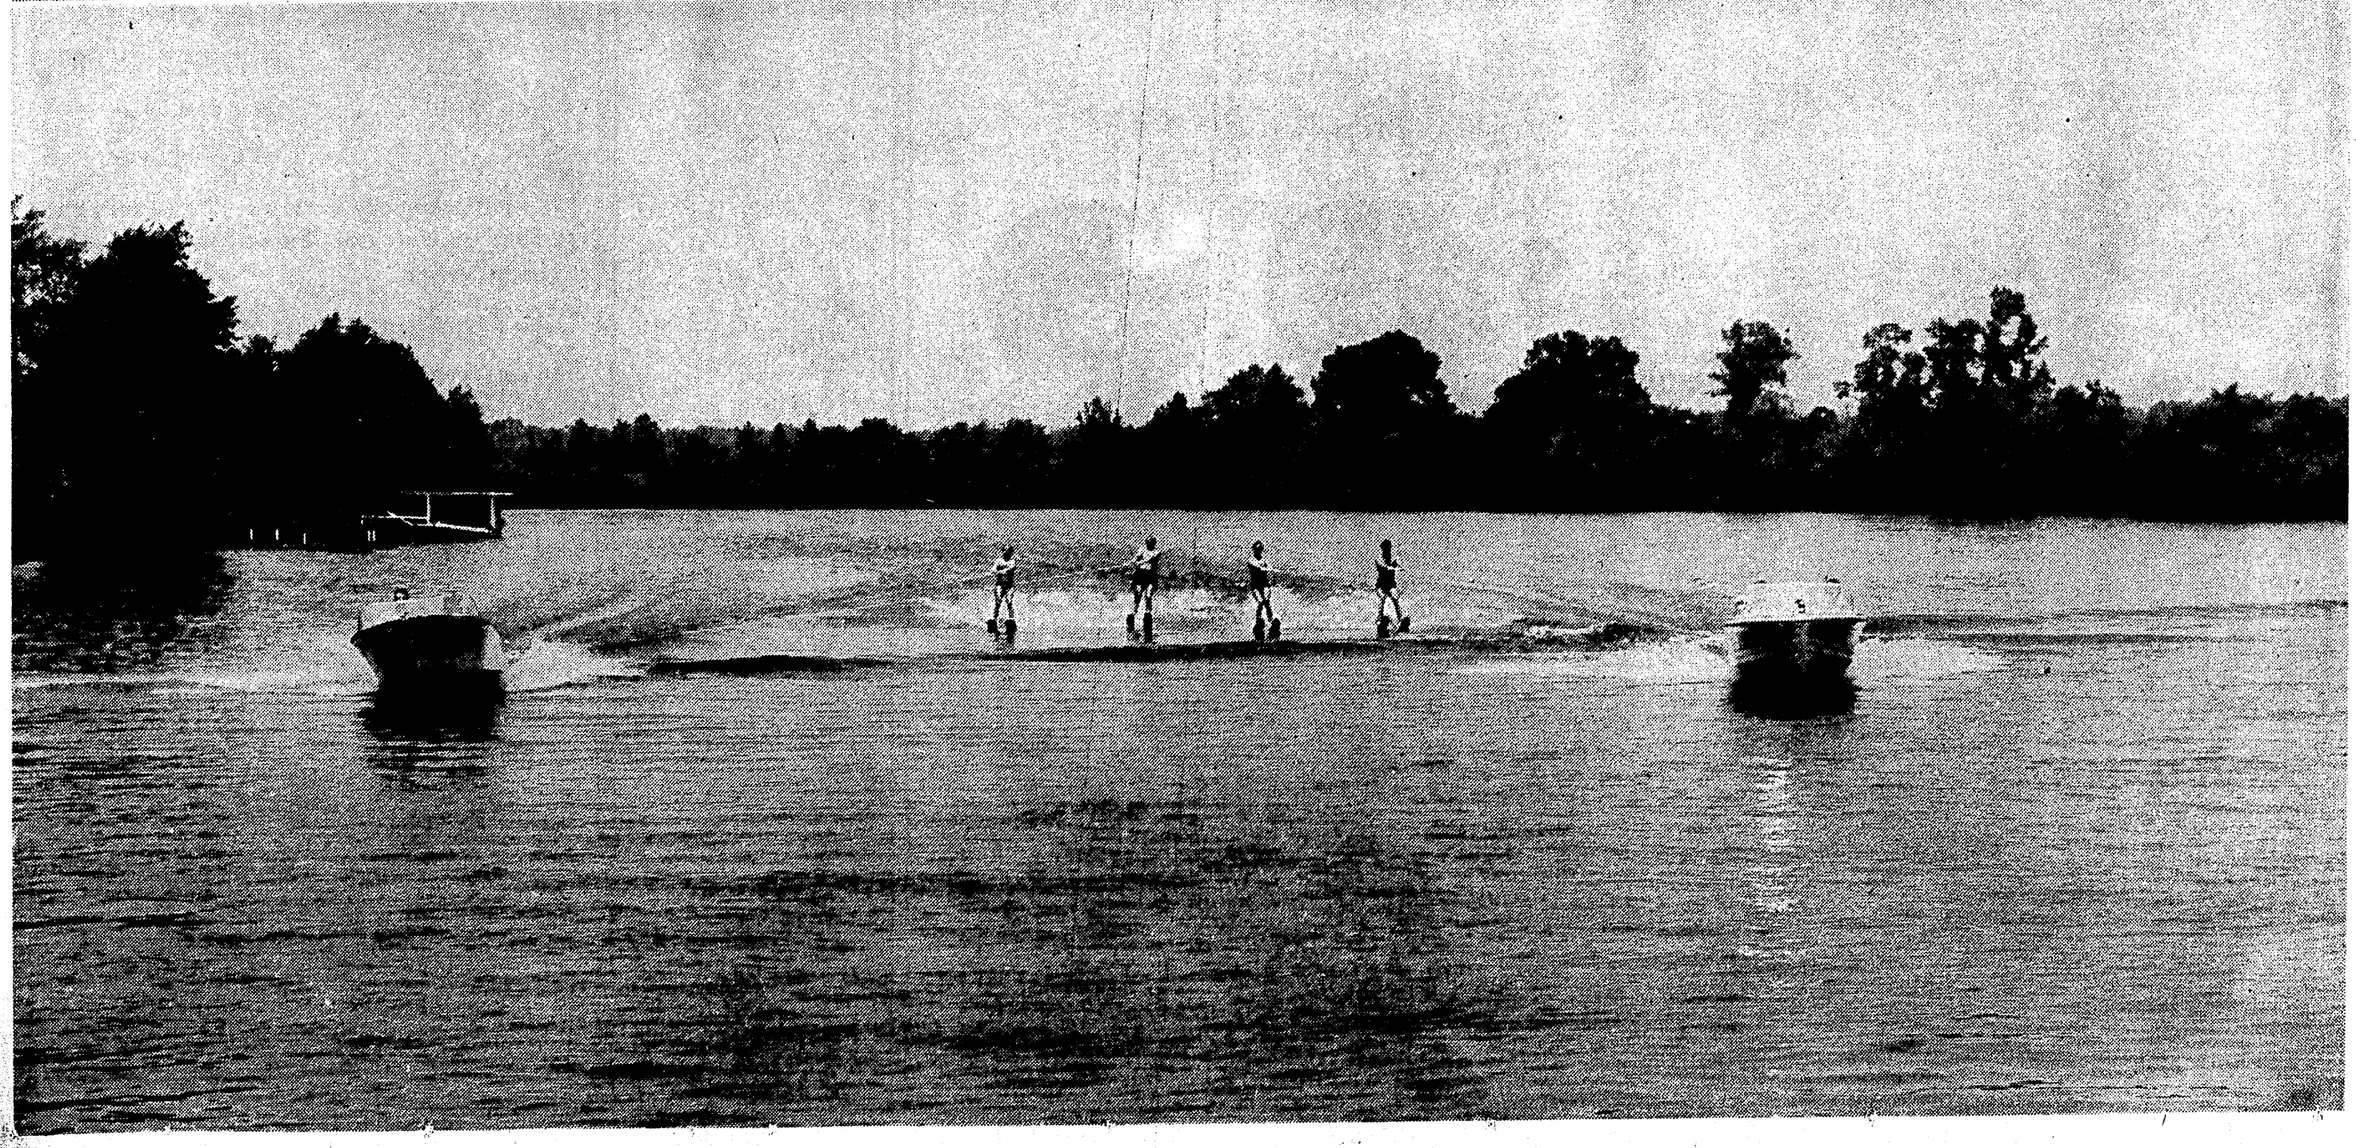
Summer Living

Pleasures of the summer include outdoor living, water sports, and visitors from out of town who join us for both. The Conway Crossland home on Pargoud boulevard is a rendezvous for skiing enthusiasts. The four pictured above are, left to right, Mary Beth Crossland, Nicky White, Nancy Crossland, and her cousin, Wally Diver of Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania. Boats are driven by Jimmy Howard, whose passenger is Suzanne Vaughan of Dallas, Texas and Steve Blue, with Polly Parrish.



MRS. KELVIN LAWRENCE THOMPSON

Mamie Lou Kovac Weds Kelvin L. Thompson

Mr. and Mrs. Kelvin Lawrence Thompson are now honeymooning in Nassau following their marriage July 9 in St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Lake Providence. On their return, they will make their home in Mobile.

The bride is the former Miss Mamie Lou Kovac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kovac of Oak Grove. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Thompson of Baton Rouge.

The Rev. Patrick J. Murphy performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and English ivy. Amidst the flowers were candles in silver holders. They were lighted by George Kovac and Jerry Stevens. Mrs. Anna Cox, organist, provided traditional nuptial selections.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore her sister's gown of peau de soie made with long tapering sleeves and re-embroidered Alencon lace outlining the neckline. Deep panels forming an overskirt featured a bustle accented with roses of peau de soie falling into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell in tiers from a crown of love lace encrusted with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and gladioli florets centered with a single, large, white glamelia. Accenting the bouquet were showers of ribbon tied in love knots interspersed with stephanotis.

Mrs. Monty McFaul of Texarkana, Tex., served as her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids included Miss Connie Kovac of Oak Grove, Mrs. Joe Magee of Monroe, both sisters of the bride; Mrs. Max Livingston of Rayville, and Miss Cynthia Terrill of Cinclare Plantation. Miss Lisa Kay Stevens, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

The women in the wedding party were gowned identically in green silk organza over taffeta dresses made with shirred bodices fashioned with a deep V. The gowns featured bouffant skirts and brief sleeves. They wore demi - hats of green organza petals detailed with pearls and tulle. Their shoes and gloves were of a matching hue, while their flowers were cascade bouquets of fuji chrysanthemums backed with white maline and satin ribbon. The flower girl dressed similarly to the other women in the wedding party wore in her hair a bandeau of feathered chrysanthemums and ribbon. She carried a small white basket entwined with ivy and filled with white petals.

James Balden of Baton Rouge served as best man for his brother-in-law, while groomsmen were Dave Berlinghof of Natchez, Wayne Alexander, Ken Osterberger, and Eric Crake of Baton Rouge. Ushers included Johnny Kovac of Mer Rouge, nephew of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a sheath of silk linen in a mauve hue featuring a soft drape to one side. A lavender orchid completed her ensemble, which was accented with a hat of mauve and bone accessories.

The groom's mother wore a sheath dress of chiffon featuring a scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves. She chose a moss green hat and beige accessories. Her corsage was a green orchid.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the American Legion Hall in Lake Providence. The bride's table was covered with a white organdy cloth and centered with an arrangement of white stock and ivy. It was flanked by tall tapers. In keeping with the green theme, green punch was served.

From an individual table covered with an imported lace cloth the wedding cake was served. The tiered cake was adorned with white roses and topped with an arangement of small white pompons in a silver container. The cake table was covered with a lace cloth and featured an arrangement of white blossoms.

Registering guests was Mrs. Helen Kovac of Mer Rouge. Others in the house party included Mrs. Albert Stevens of Oak Grove, sister of the bride; Miss Dorothy Castillo of Miami, Fla., Mrs. Leon Ainsworth, Mrs. Richard Reel and Mrs. Orway Trichell.

Tea girls were Miss Sandra Hatten and Miss Lorraine Layton. Miss Sandra Bennett was pianist during the reception, while Misses Cathy and Trudy Balden, nieces of the groom, distributed rice bags. Members of the house party were distinguished with corsages of white asters tied with green ribbon.

For traveling the bride changed to an imported silk costume in a sandelwood hue. The short cropped jacket featured a portrait collar centered with a rose of the same fabric. Her accessories were in shades of muted brown and she wore a corsage of brown orchid with a gold throat. The bride was graduated from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, while the groom attended Northwestern University and LSU.

Among the out - of - town guests attending the wedding and reception were Mrs. Edna Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis C. Sharp of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Biehler of Alexandria, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Willis of Witchita Falls, Tex.; Mrs. Mamie Grass of Plaquemine, Mrs. C. R. Thompson of Plaquemine.

Also Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Thompson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Grass, Mrs. Abner Landry, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dupuy, Mrs. W. L. Alexander and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Varnado, Mr. and Mrs. William Hanegan, Miss Anne Gueymard, Dick Shirley, Mrs. James H. Balden, Miss Virginia Major, Mrs. R. H. Rose, all of Baton Rouge.

Tapestry print braids, in multi-color, trim many outfits for little girls, providing a Tyrolean dash to separates and coordinates.

DEAR ABBY

Fight Fire Wiith Fire, And Finish Him Off

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is one person in our office who gets on our nerves. He is a "sentence finisher". No matter what anyone says, he is right there to finish the sentence.

For instance, if I say, "Walking out of an air-conditioned bar and into the street is just like walking into . . . ", he will but in and say, ". . . an oven!"

I know this might seem like a petty problem, but I wish there were some way of breaking him of this annoying habit. —CO-WORKER

DEAR CO-WORKER:Fight fire with fire. No matter what the "sentence finisher" says, finish "him" off with an improvement on his "finish". Should he say (as cited in your example above) ". . . an oven", simply counter with "No—a steam bath!"

DEAR ABBY: I was married young and had five children in eight years. My husband turned out to be no good so I got rid of him the only way a decent woman gets rid of a man—through the divorce court.

Three years later I married the most marvelous man who ever walked in shoe leather. He has been a real father to my children. I told all the children to use their new father's name in school. I never went through any legal rigmarole, but after eleven years everybody knows the children by my second husband's name. Is it necessary for me to do anything now about having their names "legally" changed? Or is it just automatic after a certain period of time? —MRS. F.J.T.

DEAR MRS. F. J. T.: In order for any name change to be legal and valid, it must be approved by the court. A lawyer can tell you how to go about it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 15 and can't swim. The reason is simple: I am afraid of the water. I have tried several times to learn, but I can't conquer that fear. I even threw myself in the deep end of the pool (this theory is "swim or drown") but someone had to come in and get me.

Do you or any of your readers know a way to overcome fear of water at my age? Or am I too old? —AFRAID OF WATER

DEAR AFRAID: MANY men have learned to swim in their forties and fifties. Enroll in a swimming class. Your local "Y" or Red Cross offers classes free or for a very small fee. Good luck!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Virginia": "Ugliness" is a point of view. An ulcer is wonderful to the pathologist.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers "All" letters.

GOP Women To See 1st Lady Fashion Show

One of the biggest social events for women at the Republican National Convention in Chicago is a style show of GOP First Ladies' fashions.

The parade of dinner dresses and inaugural ballgowns, from Mary Todd Lincoln to Mamie Doud Eisenhower, will be modeled by wives of prominent Republicans at a luncheon July 27.

The idea came from Mary Brooks, official convention hostess. Baroness von Langendorff contributed the 12 gowns, which were executed by Barbara Karinska, famous costume maker.

After the presentation in Chicago the gowns will tour the country and end up in a museum.

Those modeling will be Mrs. Everett Dirksen, wife of Senate minority leader. (Mary Todd Lincoln, 1861); Mrs. Robert Smylie, wife of Idaho governor, (Julia Dent Grant, 1869); Mrs. Frederick Seaton, wife of secretary of interior, (Lucy Ware Webb Hayes, 1877); Mrs. Thruston Morton, wife of GOP national chairman, (Lucretia Rudolph Garfield, 1881); Mrs. John Byrnes, wife of representative from Wisconsin, (Caroline L. Scott Harrison, 1889); Mrs. Arthur Summerfield, wife of postmaster general, (Edith Kermit Carew. Roosevelt, 1901); Mrs. Charles Halleck, wife of representative from Indiana, (Helen Herron Taft, 1909); Mrs. Cecil Underwood, wife of West Virginia governor, (Florence K. deWolfe Harding, 1921); Mrs. William Miller, wife of representative from New York, (Lou Henry Hoover, 1929) and Mrs. William Stratton, wife of Illinois governor (Mamie Geneva Doud Eisenhower, 1953). Also included in the show are Mrs. Robert Hill, wife of ambassador to Mexico, (Ida Saxton McKinley, 1897); and Mrs. Styles Bridges, wife of New Hampshire senator, (Grace Anna Goodhue Coolidge, 1923).

Tinted Or Not, Give Hair Summer Care

Weather experts predict that this summer will be one of the hottest in years. One of the problems women will have will be hair care. Sun, humidity, wind, and salt water all cause hair and scalp damage.

Prolonged exposure to the wind dries out the scalp and makes hair difficult to manage. Water-Salt, or chemically treated - can cause discoloration, dryness and breakage. And the sun's rays can also bleach and discolor the h.. as well as dry it out.

Despite all this, there's no need to give up summer fun for the sake of beautiful hair. Here are simple rules for keeping your hair lovely the summer through.

A good brushing remains as the essential part of any program of h.ir care. Brisk towelling, of the hair and scalp, particularly after they have been wet by water or perspiration, also has definite beneficial effect. Vigorous towelling aids circulation and removes oil and bits of scaling scalp. When combing or brushing the hair, follow the line of a setting, Take a close look at your brush to make sure that needle-pointed or jagged bristles don't split and break your hair.

If a brush gets sticky with lacquer and oil it will soil your hair. Use two or three brushes a week and keep them clean. Before or between washings, a brush may be cleaned by packing cotton or tissues between the rows to lift out some of the grit and soil from the base of each bristle. Then they can be scrubbed in warm soapy water or your shampoos.

Use of a creme hairdress, adds softness and lustre to the hair while combatting dryness. Put a tiny dab in the palm of the hand, then coax the dressing through the hair, making sure that no dry ends are missed. Then, put on a bathing cap or shower cap before stepping into a warm shower. On the beach use a terry hood when you take a lazy bask in the sun.

Heat generated beneath the cap or hood makes the hair highly absorbent, and the creme can do its work. The treatment is extremely effective for midly conditioning natural, bleached or tinted hair.

Summer's social calendar is constantly enlivened with parties for out-of-town visitors. We have yet to meet a guest who doesn't reiterate that Monroe is the most gorgeous of towns to visit, and parties here the greatest.

On Wednesday the Paragon club was scene of a luncheon given by ANNA RAPHAEL and FAY WEINBERG in honor of a group of young guests. Fay's visitors were SULIE WEINBERG and SHARI WEINBERG of Chicago. Other out - of-towners were LESLIE ANN PERLMAN and JACKIE LEE PERLMAN of New York, who have been visiting the JERRY BERNATS, and NANETTE RAPHAEL and KAY SELIGMAN of Bastrop. Those invited to meet the guests included JILL MARX, PATTI SMITH, RONNI SMITH, and SANDRA MARSHALL.

Friends from college days got together Friday afternoon when PAT GODFREY and SANCEY MADISON entertained at a dessert bridge honoring SARA YOUNG BEACHAM, who has been here this week as the guest of her mother, ELLEN ABINGTON. The Godfrey home was decorated with crape myrtle: pink in the entrance hall and white on the living room mantel. Two tables played.

Very unexpected visitors last weekend were FRANCES and WALTER DUFFY, JR., of Bonne Terre, Mo., who dropped by enroute home from a trip to the East Coast. They were guests of the ARTHUR GRANTS — Martha and Frances are sisters. And there's no such thing as being so unexpected that entertainment can't be arranged, so several parties were hastily organized for the Duffys. . . .On Friday afternoon, a small group of ladies were invited for sherry with JUNE EBY and IRENE COLE at the Cole residence. . . The FRED AMMANS were hosts for dinner Friday night in the Reef Room of Bayou DeSiard country club . . . HELEN WALLACE entertained at Luncheon Saturday, also at Bayou DeSiard club.

Saturday night the Grants invited a few friends for dinner at the Paragon club. As the group gathered, hors d-oeuvres were served in the new Stag Room, where a Chinese arrangement accented with parasols was the floral decoration. Dinner was served from a buffet in the ballroom, with guests being seated at individual tables.

Guests in the D. A. STRICKLAND home over the weekend were MARY and J. Y. SANDERS of Baton Rouge. The hosts honored their visitors with a dinner party Saturday at Bayou DeSiard country club. Roses centered the table, where other guests included the OTTO PASSMANS, BOB CRETNEYS, MAIDYE JEAN and DEE A. STRICKLAND . . . Earlier in the week, the Strickland' guests were Jean's mother and sister, Mrs. LEANDER HEBERT and AUDREY HEBERT of Orange, Texas.

'Twas good to see in town last weekend, BERNILLE and BENNIE HOUSE, former Monroyans, now of Houston. They were here on a running quick visit and dropped in on several impromptu parties.

Newcomer JANE SARTOR was honored Wednesday with a bridge party at the Lotus club. Hostesses for the afternoon were JEANNE DOWNING and MOE CARTER. Five tables played, with prizes won by JUNE M'HENRY, high; YVONNE ANDERSON, travelling prize; and ANNE BELL, low. The delicious Danish specialty was the dessert served.

Very young miss ADRIENNE DUCHKAR celebrated her eighth birthday with a "lady luncheon" at the Paragon Thursday. Places for six little friends were marked with place cards and favors of tiny hand - painted birds. The girls ordered from the menu, as befits ladies out to lunch.

Thursday morning CINDY WAKEFIELD and MARTHA HEUER were hostesses at a morning party honoring MILLIE TROY and FRANCEY TROY, newcomer from New Orleans. The Wakefield home was scene of the party, which was attended by members of the very young married set. Late summer blooms of zinnias and marigolds decorated the reception rooms. In the dining room, the centerpiece was of marigolds and grapes. Fruit punch was served, with little sandwiches and tiny chocolate rum cakes.

After a three week visit here, BENNIE FLUKER FERGUSON is leaving today for her home in Lafayette. Bennie was accompanied by her four children, ROBERTA, KAREN, DANNY, and AMY. They were guests of her mother, FLORENCE FLUKER.

On the Gulf Coast this week are ALVA and CURTIS COOK and RUTH and JOHN KELSO. They are guests at the Sun and Sand in Biloxi.

The Mississippi State Senior Golf tournament is attracting players to Tupelo country club in Tupelo this week. LORA and BOB CARSON plan to go over Tuesday.

Gulf Shores, Alabama, was vacation spot for a group of our people who returned last weekend. Included in the party were SARA LAEE and CHARLES LEDOUX, JIM LEDOUX, JOE BAILEY GRANT, MERLE and J. L. ADAMS, and KAY ADAMS.

Houseparties on Lake Bruin provide wonderful times for those as go. One group of our young marrieds who make this an annual affair, are expected home today. The Friday to Sunday weekend includes sailboating, water skiing, swimming, and plain loafing. In the party were the MILES SAGERS, the ARMAND M'HENRYS, JR., the JACK EASTERLINGS, the JIM EWINGS, the EDMUND BROWNS.

Seen dining at the Cafe Continental of the Stardust hotel in Las Vegas were the R. M. TROYS and NAT Troy. They were spending the weekend in the resort city during their tour of the West

An annual fishing trip to Port Aransas, Texas, ended this weekend in a stopover at the Shamrock hotel in Houston. The group, who left here early in the week, included the FRED COTTONS, the JOE DIXONS, the BILL RILEYS, JR., the D. V. LOFLINS, JR., and the JACK MADDENS. They are due home this afternoon.

CAROL CAGE and her mother, MRS. SHELBY CAGE, are home from a week's visit to Alabama. They visited relatives in Birmingham and the northern part of the state.

The W. H. STROUDS and ROBERT COX have returned from a visit with the V. V. BULLS in Bismarck, North Dakota. They visited the Badlands and other points of the historic Northwest, and took a trip into Canada. The Bulls' summer home on their lake in Bottineau country is just one mile south of the Canadian border.

Anticipating a visit from a daughter and grandchildren are the A. H. SALISBURYS. The W. R. CURLEYS and their daughters, HELEN and JOAN, of Houston are expected this week.

Presently attending the University of Paris is BILLIE BLAZIER, daughter of FRANCIS BLAZIER of West Monroe. Billie, a former teacher in the Ouachita Parish system, has been teaching in Newfoundland for two years. On the completion of her course at the Sarbonne, she will go to Athens, Greece, in September, where she will be employed for the next two years. She plans to spend her vacations touring points of interest in Europe and the Near East, including the Holy Land at Christmas.

The T. H. BRODES and their sons, TED and ERIC, are home from a trip through the Ozark mountains.

Word was received this week from the University of Hawaii regarding our summer students there. THURLA BORDELON, Monroe teacher, is doing graduate work in visual and creative arts. MARY JO DAVENPORT is taking an under - graduate course looking forward to her senior year at Southern Methodist next year. More than 8,000 students are enrolled this summer at the campus located in Manoa Valley, Honolulu, overlooking Waikiki.

ELOISE CANN and LUCILLE WILKINS are leaving this week for Miami, where they will attend a convention. They plan to fly to Nassau before they return home.

For our poem today, a poem by Miriam Teichner:

God — let me be aware.
Let me not stumble blindly down the ways,
Just getting somehow safely through the days,
Not even groping for another hand,
Not even wondering why it all was planned,
Eyes to the ground unseeking for the light,
Soul never aching for a wild-winged flight,
Please, keep me eager just to do my share.
God —let me be aware.
Stab my soul fiercely with others' pain,
Let me walk seeing horror and stain.
Let my hands, groping, find other hands.
Give me the heart that divines, understands.
Give me the courage, wounded, to fight.
Flood me with knowledge, drench me in light.
Please, keep me eager just to do my share.

RJH Auxiliary Holds Meeting On Tuesday

Highlight of the meeting was a discussion of the Annual Convention held recently in Baton Rouge. The Rodney J. Hobbs Auxiliary won three first place plaques in the under 50 membership group. The first place plaques were for outstanding achievements in Youth Activities, Rehabilitation Program and Publicity. The Auxiliary received the following Citation Awards: 100 per cent membership, second place in Cancer Program and Historian; fourth place in "Our Senior Citizens" Program. The Civil Defense Program received an honorable mention. Citations were given the group for Outstanding Achievements in their Americanism Program, National Memorial Building Fund, Legislative Program, Essay and Buddy Poppy Program. Mrs. Odie Lee Gossett, president of the local Auxiliary was presented with a personal Citation for Outstanding Achievement in the State Department's Extra Income Program.

The new programs for the year 1960-61 were outlined by Mrs. Gossett and she asked the members for their cooperation in order to participate in all programs.

Mrs. Stout Hostess To Logtown HDC

The July meeting of Logtown Home Demonstration Club was held in the home of Mrs. A. T. Stout on Columbia Road with Mrs. E. M. Granberry, co-hostess.

Mrs. Thomas Stockwell, president, called the meeting to order and the club repeated the club collect followed by the Pledge of Allegiance. All members were urged to attend the Farm and Home Week to be held in Baton Rouge the week of August 20th.

The group voted to hold the family picnic at 7:00 p.m. August 12th at the home of Mrs. W. A. Calloway in Bosco. Every member is asked to bring a picnic lunch.

Improved E and H bonds were discussed by Mrs. Stockwell. Mrs. J. T. Bennett gave a report on family life.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Audrey Dawson, home demonstration agent, who gave a very interesting demonstration on "Here's Looking at You — Everyone Else Does."

After the business session a delightful social hour was enjoyed. The hostesses were assisted in the courtesies by Miss Patricia Stout.

MRS. BOBBY DEL PATTON

Vows Spoken By Couple In Chattanooga

Amid a setting of pink, blue, and white blossoms, Miss Marietta Baskerville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Van H. Baskerville of Chattanooga, Tennessee, became the bride on July 17, of Bobby Del Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell C. Patton of Ruston. The ceremony was held in the Cousar Chapel of Central Presbyterian Church in Chattanooga, with the Rev. Robert S. Hough officiating.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, wore a delphinium blue lace dress with satin roses and cascade at the waist. Her headdress was a tiny blue lace and satin hat, and her corsage was of white orchids. Her only jewelry was a pearl flower necklace.

Serving as best man was Donald Hope of Signal Mountain, Tennessee, cousin of the bride.

For their honeymoon trip to the Loret Villa Resort on Harrison Bay and other points in the Smokie Mountains, the bride chose a navy and white silk sport suit with white accessories.

Attendants For Saturday Wedding Told

Miss Sandra Worley and Jerry Wayne Brown, whose wedding is to take place Saturday in Bastrop, have announced names of their attendants.

The Rev. Ray P. Rust will officiate at the ceremony at seven thirty in the evening at the First Baptist church.

Miss Norma Jean Weatherly will be the organist, and soloist is to be Mrs. Ann Eubanks of Memphis, Tenn. Candles will be lighted by Miss Joan Templeton and Miss Sara Tiner.

Miss Worley has named Mrs. Douglas Davison as matron of honor. Bridesmaids are Miss Judy Godwin, Miss Jean Stark, Miss Ann Shirley, Miss Marivanne Brown, cousin of the prospective groom, of Camden, Arkansas.

Jim Stroud of Monroe will be Mr. Brown's best man. Groomsmen - to - be are Edward Worley, brother of the bride, Larry Brown brother of the groom, Charles Ray Andrews of Baton Rouge, and Alvin Ringle of Delhi.

Church Wedding Planned In Sterlington

Announcement is made today of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Frances Gail Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Simmons, and James Russell Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Senn. All are of Sterlington.

The wedding is scheduled for seven in the evening August 12 in the First Baptist church of Sterlington. The Rev. A. D. Langston of West Monroe will hear the vows.

Miss Simmons is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. S. Riley of Bastrop, and of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Simmons of Vienna. She has named her sister, Mrs. Frank Swayze, as matron of honor.

The prospective groom will have his brother, Larry Senn, as best man. Jimmy Butler and Frank Swayze will be ushers.

MR. AND MRS. ELLIS EUGENE McGEE

Miss Doolittle, E. E. McGee Vows Spoken

Candlelabra held myriads of cathedral tapers set amid a background of white gladioli and greenery in the Emmanuel Baptist Church, where nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Karen Ann Doolittle and Ellis Eugene McGee on Friday, July 15. The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Fred Doolittle, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Euil E. McGee of Pioneer. The bride's father, pastor of the Emmanual Baptist Church, performed the ceremony.

A prenuptial concert was presented by Mrs. Marie Moncrief, who also accompanied Luther Burney as he sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Robert Peterson of Minneapolis, wore a gown of white lace over satin, featuring a front panel of satin on the skirt. Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of rhinestones and pearls. She carried a white Bible covered with a white orchid, and her only jewelry was a gold cross necklace.

Miss Judy Doolittle served as her sister's maid of honor, with Misses Gloria and Metta Gayle Folds as bridesmaids. They wore identical light blue frocks of sheer material with a scooped neckline encircled by appliqued white daisies, which were repeated in the blue headdresses. They carried nosegays of white carnations. Lighting the candles were Miss Christine Lewis and Miss Barbara Kennedy, whose dresses of light blue organdy were made similarly to those of the bridesmaids.

Acting as best man was the groom's brother, Douglas McGee, with Ray McGee, brother of the groom, and David Chapman, all of Pioneer, as ushers.

A reception was given in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a cloth of lace over blue satin, centered with an arrangement of white carnations, white wedding bells and blue decorative notes. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Robert Peterson of Minneapolis. Assisting with the serving were Miss Mary Bridges and Miss Linda Skipper.

For the wedding trip, the bride selected a dress of beige chiffon over orange, with a full skirt and fitted waist. Her accessories were beige and orange, and she wore a white orchid corsage.

The couple will make their home in Monroe.

Out - of - town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson of Minneapolis; Mrs. L. F. Peterson and Mrs. Ann Jepperson of Owatonna, Minnesota; Mrs. Oliver Schuster and Mrs. Richard Lindenberger of Waseca, Minnesota, and Mrs. George Lane of Bastrop.

MISS SUSAN JEANNE MANN

Pipes - Mann Date Set For September 4

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mann, Jr., of Rayville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Susan Jeanne, to William Edward Pipes, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Noland Pipes, also of Rayville.

The marriage will be solemnized at two o'clock in the afternoon on Sunday, September 4, at St. David's Episcopal Church in Rayville, with the Very Reverend Richard W. Wilson officiating.

Serving as matron of honor will be Mrs. Frank Walker of Rayville, sister of the bride-to-be. Bridesmaids will be Mrs. Bennie Andrews of Monroe, Miss Linda Jordan, and Miss Sherry Sims, both of Rayville. Little Miss Jackie Walker, niece of the bride - elect, will serve as flower girl.

Acting as best man will be the prospective groom's father, with Lt. L. Noland Pipes, Jr., of Luke Air Force Base, Arizona; Roderick Gable of Rayville; and Bennie Andrews of Monroe, as groomsmen. Young Billie Harper will be the ring bearer.

The bride - to - be is descended from Mrs. Johnnie S. Jordan of Canyon, Texas; and John H. Mann, Sr., and the late Mrs. Mann of Rayville. The prospective groom is the grandson of Mrs. Katie B. Osborn and the late J. W. Osborn of St. Joseph; and Joe L. Pipes of Rayville.

The couple will make their home in Rayville.

Two ways to serve Southern spoon bread—with butter, or with butter and syrup. Choose plain butter when the bread accompanies poultry or fish; offer butter and syrup when the bread makes its appearance on a brunch menu with bacon or ham.

THE APARTMENT which opens today at the Paramount Theatre, stars Shirley MacLaine as an elevator girl, and Jack Lemmon, an IBM operator for an insurance company. The comedy also stars Fred MacMurray.

Gala Comedy Opens Today At Paramount

Billy Wilder's newest film, "The Apartment," is a comedy, but that description only skims the surface of the film's intent. It also contains pathos, near - tragedy, satire and a wealth of observation on life.

"The Apartment," which opens on Sunday at the Paramount Theatre through United Artists release, is a biting view of deed and action in the aspirin age, with emphasis on the pursuit of money and sex. It stars Jack Lemmon (in a role that for the first degree what is acknowledged to be the finest young comedy talent in Hollywood), Shirley MacLaine and Fred MacMurray.

CAST

The strong supporting cast of "The Apartment" is headed by Ray Walston, David Lewis, Jack Kruschen, Joan Shawlee, Edie Adams (in her movie debut) and Hope Holiday.

A Mirisch Company presentation, "The Apartment" was produced and directed by Billy Wilder, who also collaborated on the screenplay with I.A.L. Diamond. Joseph LaShelle was chief cinematographer, and the background score was written by Adolph Deutsch.

"The Apartment" was filmed in part on location in New York City, the high spot of which was the utilization of what the cast referred to as the $38,000,000 prop. The "prop" is a brand - new commercial building in the financial district, the exterior and lobby of which served as part of the main office of the huge insurance office in which most of the characters in the film work.

For the studio shooting in Hollywood, some ten major sets were constructed, at a cost in excess of $400,000. These included the exterior of a New York street, the interior of the huge insurance office, the lobby of the building, a saloon, a restaurant, and, among others, the apartment of the title.

LOVELY MUSIC

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Music Man" on Broadway now has a fetching red - haired woman as conductor of the 28-man orchestra — Liza Redfield.

Other women have been assistant conductors, but Miss Redfield, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, is the first woman to be top boss in an orchestra pit.

"I work with a simple black dress with long sleeves," she says, "so the wolves in the audience will pay more attention to what is happening on stage."

'Pollyanna' Coming Soon To The Jim

Fifty old - pro, experienced, artistically sophisticated motion picture people, men and women connected with production, music, editing and publicity at Walt Disney Productions, have all been singing paeans of unstinted praise about a 14 - year - old, small, blonde, English girl named Hayley Mills.

Hayley portrays the title role in Disney's new feature production, "Pollyanna," which starts Wednesday at the Jim Theatre.

BACKGROUND

She is the daughter of famed British actor, John Mills, and "Pollyanna" is only her second professional appearance. In 1958 she made an English - produced picture titled, "Tiger Bay," her performance in which brought her the 1959 Silver Bear Award at the Berlin Film Festival.

Probably most emphatic of the blue-eyed Miss' praisers are the seven adult stars with whom she plays in the picture. Jane Wyman, Richard Egan, Karl Malden, Nancy Olson, Adolphe Menjou, Donald Crisp and Agnes Moorhead will talk by the hour both of her professional ability and the fact that she is one of the most unspoiled, polite and charming young teenagers they have ever met.

New 4-Cent Issue Marks Girls' Jubilee

Last week's column discussed Australia's new stamp honoring the Golden Jubilee of the Girl Guides Movement scheduled for issuance on Aug. 18. Now U. S. postal authorities have announced a new 4-cent commemorative stamp marking the Golden Jubilee of the Camp Fire Girls. It is due to be issued Nov. 1.

The new commemorative will feature the insignia of the Camp Fire Girls and will be released in New York to coincide with their Golden Jubilee Convention celebration.

The Camp Fire Girls movement was launched in 1910 by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Halsey Gulick.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the stamp may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, New York 1, N. Y. Collectors should bear in mind that this is a vertical stamp and covers should be addressed as far to the left as possible. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers 4-Cent Camp Fire Girls Stamp."

Denmark has issued a new 60-ore blue stamp to honor the 10th meeting of the regional committee for Europe of the World Health Organization. The design of the stamp will feature a mother feeding a baby. Also issued by Denmark was a new 30-ore red stamp honoring the centenary of the birth of Niels R. Finsen, reports the Danish Postal Philatelic Agency.

Nicaragua pays tribute to the 10th anniversary of the San Jose (Costa Rica) Philatelic Society by overprinting a three value set of airmails. The overprint reads: "X ANIVERSARIO CLUB PHILATELICO—S.J.—C.R."

Israel plans to issue a new set of three stamps commemorating the High Holy Days. These 1960 stamps depict glorious chapters of Jewish Biblical history. The 7-agorot shows King Saul, the first King of Israel, in battle array. The 25-agorot illustrates King David playing the harp. The 40-agorot portrays King Solomon holding the scales of justice.

MEANEST MAN IN TOWN is the label put on Adolphe Menjou, portraying Mr. Pendergast, a recluse who reputedly cannot abide children, harangues Hayley Mills and Kevin Corcoran in a scene from Walt Disney's production "Pollyanna." The picture also stars Jane Wyman, Richard Egan and Karl Malden and starts Wednesday at the Jim Theatre.

CASTING DIFFICULTY

Durante's Story Hits Film Snag

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Once again, Hollywood has run into a snag in its attempt to make a movie of the life of Jimmy Durante.

The problem is obvious.

"Dey can't find nobody who looks like me or sounds like me," said the possessor of the prominent proboscis. "Dere's only one Durante, and dem are da conditions what prevail."

Plans had been made in the past year to make the movie with Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Bing Crosby as the legendary show business team of Clayton, Jackson and Durante.

"Dean was gonna play me, we thought," said Durante, 67. "But even dere, we had a problem. Dean's such a personality by himself, it would be hard to believe he was me.

THOUGHT

"One day, we thought it would be him as me, and da next day we thought maybe Frank. We had another problem too—dose three guys are too busy to wait around. Dey got too many irons in da fire.

"Da director, Frank Capra, finally quit after waitin' for dem. He had already started workin', but he couldn't waste his life on da pitcher."

As of now, Columbia Pictures still has the idea for the movie, but unless something happens soon, it appears headed for the same shelf as previous attempts to make the film.

"About four or five years ago, after my pal Gene Fowler wrote my life ('Schozzola'), everybody from all da studios wanted to make it," Durante said.

WONDERIN'

"But it was a catastrastroke when dey tried to find someone who looked or sounded like me. I kept sittin' and wondrin' what happened.

"MGM said it had rights to da pitcher 'cuz I worked dere so long. Don Hartmann of Paramount begged me to do it. Jack Warner called me up poisonally to get my okay."

Durante thought about playing himself but decided he was too old to portray his early career, which would probably take up most of the film. He is also thinking of getting an unknown for the role—someone whose personality is not established in the public eye.

THE HOME SHIFT

Rain Water Unsurpassed

By MILDRED SWIFT

We got a fine rain that we needed, oh, so badly. Plants can take just so much artificial watering, then they begin to feel not so well. Most water supplies contain some foreign materials that rain water doesn't have. So — there's nothing like a good old rain to bathe the plant and water the roots. Kind of made all of us feel better, too.

GARDEN JOBS

Cut back hydrangeas which have finished blooming. Prune tree wisteria now. If your wisteria didn't bloom well last year, root prune it, now. Sharpen your spade to a keen cutting edge. Insert it vertically into the soil about 18 inches around the trunk of the plant. As you go down, cut the roots.

Watch evergreens for red spider. Run the finger on the under side of a leaf. If there's a red smudge — Mr. Red Spider is there. A light dusting with sulphur will keep him under control, if you use a spray gun and get under the leaf. Malathion, also, gives good control. Also watch for red spider on violets.

Your crape myrtles will be deeper in color and will bloom more profusely if you keep them watered. Watering of course means long, slow soaking. I hope you fertilized these in late winter and again in June. Then if you keep the old blooms cut, you'll have blooms until frost.

If roses have grown completely out of bounds, you can do a little pruning, now. February is the heavy pruning month, but fast growing plants some times need a light top pruning. Keep dead stems cut at all times.

Have you had any banana plant blooms in your garden? Not a single one at my house. Last year at this time my plants had supplied blossoms for three or four teas. Think I've neglected watering, and they need this. That was such a long drouth.

SELECTING LILIES

Some points to keep in mind when selecting daylilies are: 1. Profuse bloom, over a long time. 2. Good foliage — an asset in itself when the plants are not in bloom. 3. Vigorous growth. Weak growers are soon crowded out. 4. Erect scapes — blossoms lying on the ground have no garden value. 5. Quick shedding. Blooms that hang on are unsightly. 6. Roots easily kept in bounds. 7. Good substance. A bloom should hold color and form throughout the day. 8. Good branching — blooms held at different levels — not bunched and crowded together. 9. Clean colors — not muddy or dull blooms.

DIVIDERS

Everyone has heard of divider walls being used inside the house, but have you ever seen dividers used in the yard? This is a new trend in landscaping. In many cases you need a separation of two areas in the yard. An airy lattice work divider puts a finshing touch to the patio and keeps it from looking like a concrete square accidentally set out in the lawn. While a divider makes a separation of two areas — it also ties them together. A trailing vine on the fence helps to blend the patio into the garden setting.

If you need privacy, a more solid type divider would be needed — tall louvers, perhaps. I've also seen storage walls built for the patio that are much like dining room dividers. They are usually designed to match the house. Many conceal storage cabinets for the portable barbecue, folding patio furniture and other things you need for outdoor entertaining.

PRIVACY

Privacy is less expensive if you share it. Sound funny? It's not unusual these days for neighbors to share a fence. Folks who put up a fence and leave it as just a fence are really missing the boat. Such a background can make an occasional shrub twice as exciting to the eye. One thing about it — a fence doesn't need watering, pruning, fertilizing, mulching or spraying.

WHILE GONE

This is vacation time. Protect your home and furnishings while you are gone. In other words, don't let mail, newspapers and milk bottles pile up — making your home an invitation to burglars.

Police say that burglars know women have a tendency to hide their valuables — so you aren't fooling them.

Take steps to avoid the "dead give-a-way" outside your house. Tell the postman to hold your mail, or if he can't, ask him to deliver it to your neighbor's house. Discontinue the milk and newspapers.

Put your securities in the bank. Leave valuables with your friends. Don't pull shades or blinds. Some vacationers like to leave an electric light burning in one part of the house. This does not show in the daytime, but at night. It makes the house look lived in — and a final tip, tell your neighbors you're going away on vacation and ask them to keep an eye on your house.

Fire officials urge families going away on vacation to check their homes for fire safety before leaving. Make sure gas jets are turned off all the way, electrical outlet to refrigerator disconnected. Dispose of trash and inflammable materials — paint, varnish, gasoline or other liquids.

SWEATERS FOR FALL

You'll see more color in knits this fall. Sweaters are turning up in bright purples, rich golds, pure clear reds, green tinged blues and a host of other vibrant colors.

Not only are colors exuberant, they are styled with great dash. They're longer and simpler. They take to over belts. Bulky sweaters are favorites because they take so perfectly to the rough, shaggy textures of fall fabrics.

The cardigan is here, often in a blend of lambswool and fur fibers. Often hip lengths are outlined with herringbone rib bands. Now days knits do not make a fast exit at sundown. There are many evening greats in the fall knitwear collections.

See you next Sunday.

New System Is Promising In Air Cooling

By LEROY POPE

ENGLEWOOD, N.J. (UPI) — A new system using small copper tubing instead of big ducts may produce a boom in central air conditioning of olders homes and buildings, according to inventor Calvin D. McCracken.

Only about 2 per cent of the homes in the country have central air conditioning at present.

McCracken is the inventor of an air heating system using the same type copper tubing and of a successful line of solar water heaters. He has been working on his copper tubing air conditioning for a dozen years, started testing it four years ago and put it in production this year as a companion to his warm air heating system.

STUMBLED

Early efforts to use easily installed copper tubing for air conditioning stumbled over the fact that after cold air was pumped through the tubing, it heated up rapidly the minute it was dispersed in the room.

McCracken said he solved this by several procedures. First, he cools the air down to 40 degrees Fahrenheit compared to about 57 degrees in a conventional air-conditioning system.

The cold air then is forced through the tubes at very high velocity, 2,000 cubic feet a minute, and is expelled into the rooms through special aspirating registers. The cold air in effect is forced up to the ceiling and mixes rapidly with the warm air from the room.

INSULATED

Also the two-inch copper tubes are insulated with fibreglass, which eliminates pipe condesation in the walls.

By this system McCracken says he can force more cool air into a house through the two-inch copper tubing than through convention large heet metal ducts. Only a dozen years ago, many air conditioning system said the copper tubing system couldn't be made to work.

A complete unit for a seven-room split level house would cost $1,200 plus installation and financing.

AP Newsfeatures

Photography is gradually submerging in an underwater world as skindiving becomes increasingly popular. Wherever there is a body of water, there are people taking up the new sport of exploring beneath its surface. A camera is rapidly becoming as essential as goggles, swim fins, snorkel or aqualung.

The fine points of underwater photography were first explained to me about three years ago by Elgin Ciampi, a New York City expert who started skindiving in 1943. It was an interesting discussions as he described the thrill and adventure for camera fans in tackling a new world of pictures.

GRIM TASK

A couple of weeks ago, Ciampi's specialty was put to a grim task. He was called on to photograph the wreckage of the Navy blimp in which 17 crewmen lay entombed 73 feet below the surface off Barnegat Light, N. J. His pictures made a two-page spread in Life magazine.

It coincides currently with the appearance of his latest book, "The Skin Diver" (Ronald Press), a complete handbook of underwater information illustrated with almost 300 photographs, most of them taken by Ciampi himself. Here you'll find detailed descriptions of all the equipment used in snorkeling, spearfishing, aqualung diving and in exploring marine life and sunken ships.

It also contains the latest information and most complete guide for underwater photography. A few years ago, waterproof housings for cameras were very expensive, techniques were haphazard and the results were generally poor. Today, economical underwater housings are available, techniques have been improved through experience and exciting underwater pictures are no longer a rarity.

Camera fans should become somewhat proficient skin divers before taking a camera below the surface. Box cameras can be used if the lighting conditions are very good. Such ideal lighting may be found in some outdoor swimming pools, in the clear, warm water of the south and in some lakes and quarries. When visibility falls off, better cameras will give better results.

Beginners who wish to experiment occasionally with their present cameras could start with an inexpensive plastic housing, Ciampi says. This soft waterproof bag has a glass window through which the camera lens takes its pictures. The camera's controls are operated through the flexible plastic.

NEAR SURFACE

If you're within five feet of the surface, the exposure is about the same as for pictures taken above the surface at that time. Below that depth, exposure depends on many factors and requires an exposure meter for accurate calculation. A meter may be put separately in a small, watertight glass jar or it may be fastened alongside the camera, inside an underwater case, so that its view is the same as that of the camera lens.

The latest automatic, electric eye movie and still cameras are ideal for underwater use, according to Ciampi. They not only calculate the correct exposure but change as the light changes as pictures are being shot. An electric drive, available on some 8mm movie cameras, is still another feature that is more valuable under water than it is above.

COMPACT

In still cameras, Ciampi prefers the compact 35mm, single lens reflex type because he believes ground - glass focusing is easier, interchangeable lenses with faster speeds are available and the larger, 36-exposure film load enables the diver to take more shots between troublesome film changing.

Flower Fair Underway In Netherlands

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Our tour today takes us first to the World's Fair of Flowers in The Netherlands, then to a proposed Confederate Garden.

The 125 - acre Floriade, or international home garden exhibition, is at Rotterdam, Holland. It opened April 25 and will continue until Oct. 25, just in case you can't get away right now to visit.

Congress appropriated $150,000 toward financing this country's 3½ acre display sponsored by the Foreign Agriculture Service of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and the American Horticultural Council.

A prefabricated garden - type house, a garden that has something blooming at all times, a typical garden shopping center, ornamental plants shown by Harvard University's famed Arnold Arboretum, a huge garden of roses, a prefabricated greenhouse filled with tropical and subtropical plants, and terrace gardens. Other exhibits include:

PLANT GROWTH

EXTENSION NEWS

Turf Studies Are Revealed

By AUDREY DAWSON

To help home owners solve lawn disease problems, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued a new publication "Lawn Diseases." The information is based on extensive turf studies. The publication discusses the most common and widespread diseases. It is fully illustrated in color so that home owners, or others concerned, can easily recognize the contrast to healthy grass. Single copies of "Lawn Diseases" are free on request from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

FARM, HOME WEEK

New and useful information for homemakers on clothing, textiles, home furnishings and nutrition will highlight the home economics program during Farm and Home Week at LSU August 15-18.

A night program of recreation for Farm and Home Week visitors is being planned by the university.

The annual state-wide dress revue will be one of the highlights of the Thursday evening program. One adult from each parish will model costumes which they have made. Mrs. Truman Wright, president of the Woodlawn Home Demonstration Club, will represent Ouachita Parish.

Mrs. Homemaker, if you are interested in knowing more about Farm and Home Week, call our office FA 3-2251 and we will be glad to give you the details.

FURNITURE STYLES

Our house furnishings specialist, Mrs. Jessie Hill, says the recipe for mixing furniture styles has just two rules and they are combine styles that are similar in spirit, informal with informal and formal with formal. Designs to be combined should be similar in scale.

Informal furniture styles often started in the country or provinces. Early American, Provincial, French and Country English all began generations ago as rustic interpretation of more "citified styles."

Many styles are named after English and French monarchs. Kings and queens are formal, and so is the furniture called after them. In decorating it's usually possible to combine regally named styles. Furniture of different periods, but similar scale will harmonize in line and bulk.

WHO'S TO BLAME

Most road accidents are not caused by severe accident repeaters, but by people who have never had an accident before, the so called "average driver." Chances are disturbingly high that each average driver will have at least one serious accident during his driving history according to professor John J. Conger, head of the clinical psychology division, University of Colorado Medical Center. The average driver is more likely to have an accident when he is feeling unusually elated, tense or angry, preoccupied with worries, sick, tired or feeling under the weather the professor says.

GROW OLD QUICKLY

Severe sunburning may help you to grow old quickly according to Dr. William Becker, University of Illinois skin specialist. He also cautions that over exposure to the sun can lead to cancer. Darker skins protect themselves more easily than lighter skins of blondes or red heads. Sun light does not brush the skin lightly, but strikes with considerable force after a single, moderately severe sunburn, the blood vessels are abnormal for four to 15 months. So here's some good advice for you who are sun worshippers — easy does it.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Local Berries In Displays

By MARY JARDINE

By GLADYS M. KULCKE
Guest Writer

The Arrangers Circle illustrated how flower arrangement could contribute to the use and enjoyment of our native materials in the show they staged in the Garden Center.

Mrs. R. L. Gipson made a triangle line design using the poke berry plant, (Phytolacca Americanna) in a pitcher of mingled tones of brown, buff and yellow. Branches of the purple berries were placed hanging out the mouth of the pitcher. A branch of ripe and green berries formed the vertical line.

MASS VERTICAL

Mrs. Eva Gewin chose a brown pottery container for her mass vertical design, using dock and brown eyed susans (Rudbeckia hirta). Mrs. Geo. Clark created a graceful wind blown design in a reddish-brown star fish container on a black base. In the central placement was a cluster of small crab apples, red dock. Nuts and seed pods were placed to the side and back, giving stability and depth to the design.

The wind blown effect was made by curved stalks of green and brown dock and dried sprays of coconut palm flowers. This arrangement made a good showing against the grey background in the center.

Mrs. Eva Gewin used a chartreuse, pottery container for her arrangement of mullen (Verbascum) and coneflower (Lepachys). Mullen leaves were placed low in the container while the mullen stalks formed the vertical line. This line was crossed by grey green coneflowers.

Mrs. Oscar Harrel used a square mahogany container for her crescent design. Begonia blossoms and buds were placed in the center of the crescent design with a background of Autumn colored, artificial oak leaves. The crescent line was formed with sumac (Rhus) strengthened by placement of red oak leaves. Lovely color combination against a green background.

Mrs. Robert Archibald chose boat shaped, green, pottery compote for her fan shaped design. Magnolia seed pods formed the center of interest backed by a fan shaped placement of magnolia leaves. The line material of French-Mulberry (Callicarpa Amerianan) was projecting above these leaves completing the design. It was interesting to see our native materials arranged in these designs.

NATIVE PLANTS

To know and appreciate our native plants is important. One of the first essentials in knowing plants is to know their names both botanical and common names. The use of more native plants for ornamental purposes in the Southern States has great possibilities. Some of our native trees such as the flowering dogwood, magnolia, red-bud, palms and many others could be used to beautify our Southern highways.

The conservation of our native plants is important, but it is not a simple matter. However, we must face the fact that as man increases and population becomes more dense in habitable areas, his activities make more or less serious inroads upon his environment. Vegetation is usually removed without any thought of the future. Many native plants are becoming almost extinct by flooding of extensive areas for the construction of dams for irrigation and electric power. Another damage to our native plants is collecting them for commercial purposes.

Many organizations, such as garden clubs and wild flower preservation societies can do much in preserving our native plants. An ideal way of preserving at least some part of our native plants is the establishment of certain areas as national, state or municipal plant preserves.

SOUTHERN GARDENER

White Bloom Lilly-Shaped

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Mid - July finds southern gardens in deep summer. The big lily - shaped crinums are in full bloom now. The white one called Crinum Powelli album, considered one of the most beautiful of all white flowers, fills the place of true lilies at this time. Sander's crinum is a pink one with deeper stripes. The blossoms open in pairs, and there are always from two to six open at a time, making one great candelabrum. It is always hard to believe that anything so huge can come and go in such a short time, but the scapes keep coming for weeks if the plants are fed with a handful of fertilizer or some weak liquid cow manure.

OUT - BLOOMS

The bright pink crinum called Cecil Houdyshel out-blooms every other one and keeps at it for six weeks. Then it takes a rest and flowers again in the fall if fed. This one and the white Powellii album mentioned above are best planted where it is a little shady or at least where there is afternoon shade. One of their parents was a shade lover. Consequently, the flowers will open more fully in shade than in sunshine.

After the crinums mentioned above are under way, that wine red one called Ellen Bousanquet comes into bloom. The flowers are such a real wine color that they put everything we have thought was that color to shame. Plant this one in some shade, too.

I had always thought that perhaps my Cyclamen neapolitanum was just sending out a few freak blossoms when it bloomed for me each year around the tenth of July. Not so; there it was blooming on schedule the other day! The foliage will not show up at all until September, but the bed will soon be covered with small pink butterfly-like flowers, and they will increase in numbers until the foliage hides them in October. Even one of these charming little plants is a treasure. We mentioned that they could be bought from the California and Oregon bulb nurseries in pots at any time.

WONDERFUL

This is the wonderful time in a summer garden. Crinums are in full swing, the late varieties of redhotpokers are blooming and the agapanthuese of several kinds make garden a cool looking place with their airy heads of blue flowers. The purple leaved Setcraesia now becoming so popular makes a most handsome and unusual contrast to blue agapanthus flowers. In your columnist's experimental garden, one of the wild species of the cotton plant that has purplish foliage is a striking thing that adds more of the bronze - and - purple of the setcraesia. If this cotton turns out to be a good doer, it will be sent to the seed firms to be sold as a fine annual foliage plant. It was borrowed from the breeders of cotton plants to see how it would stand up to the sun and the summer storms out of the greenhouse.

Girl Scout News

With one more week to go, second session of day camp at Pine Wood is in full swing. Hikes, cookouts, overnights, lashing, fire - building, flag ceremonies, campfires, singing, are all a part of the fun that campers will never forget.

Some of the badges that furnish good unit program are tree, adventurer, rambler, insect, camperaft, outdoor cook, pioneer, even reptile and amphibian. Of course, the last named was chosen by the adventurous girls of Century Oak.

The tree badge makes excellent program for fly-ups, requiring 15 leaf prints of at least three different kinds, spatter, ink, blue print, smoke print, or sketches. These girls look forward to a day at the Linville fire tower, where they complete many of the badge requirements. Several girls who were in camp in the first session have chosen wild plant as a badge to be earned. They are busy discovering plants they hadn't known before, blue vervain, mallow, partridge pea, trumpet vine and many others. How many of you have seen a hop tree? There is one on the camp grounds near Sweet Gum unit. Even the forestry men had not seen one, and the girls were proud that they could point it out.

Three or four different routes to the river make hiking a lot of fun and adventure. There are shells and sand bars, acorns and other treasures, sedimentary rocks, a deep ravine, cypress knees, fallen logs, moss draped trees that make the girls feel that they are far, far away from civilization, when they are really only a few city blocks from camp. There's a splendid echo on the river, too, that fascinates the girls.

Century Oak unit plans to spend two nights sleeping in tents as part of the pioneer badge. Campers on Camperaft Hill spent Friday night, planning to sleep on the camp cots, but to move them under the pines, lashing supports for the necessary mosquito nets. Hilltop unit is planning the same thing for tomorrow night. Both units are made up of twelve-year-olds, Mrs. C. E. Vaughn and Mrs. D. T. DeMasterson, leaders. Frances Byrd and Janet Noland serve as program aides in these units.

Elected to camp council were the following: Susie McBride, Century Oak; Sarah Cascio, Hilltop; Paula Meek, Camperaft Hill; Carolyn Cascio, Trail's End; Jennifer Davis, Whispering Pines; Kathy Owens, Brownie Hollow; Becky Sanford, Sweet Gum; Lynna Nell Rivers, Shady Pines; Peggy Stone, Brownie Glen.

Camp closes Friday with regular session from 2:00 until 5:00 and visitors welcome to picnic after 5:00. At 6:50 the girls will lower the flag, after which they will gather for a final campfire. Everyone is on his way home by 8:00.

MISS SHIRLEY ANNETTE RUSHING

Vining - Rushing Plans Foretold For September

Miss Shirley Annette Rushing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Rushing of Pioneer, will become the bride on September 4 at 5:00 p.m., of Robert Leo Vining, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Vining of Darnell. Pioneer Methodist Church will be scene of the wedding.

Mrs. Harry Rushing will serve as matron of honor, with Miss Sue Rushing as bridesmaid.

Acting as best man will be Harry Rushing, with Allen Carpenter and John Ben Boughton as ushers.

The bride - to - be plans to enter Louisiana Polytechnicc Institute, where the prospective groom is presently enrolled. The couple will make their home in Ruston.

Cheniere HDC Meets With Mrs. Carter

Cheniere Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting on July 14, in the home of Mrs. J. A. Carter.

Mrs. C. C. Street, president, presided. A report on "How to Save Money in Your Own Home" was given by Mrs. H. Hutson, with other reports given by Mrs. F. Sills and Mrs. C. C. Street.

Those members present were: Mrs. W. S. Calloway; Mrs. H. P. Carter, Mrs. J. A. Carter, Mrs. H. Hutson, Mrs. C. Owens, Mrs. H. V. Parsons, Mrs. F. Sills, Mrs. C. C. Street, and guests, Miss Glenda Calloway and Mrs. Mary Pearl Tyson.

Natchez Scene Of Richmond-Burlison Rites

Miss Jeanette Burlison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I, Burlison of Natchez became the bride of James Richmond, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Richmond of Union City, Tenn., in a candlelight ceremony solemnized on Friday, July 15th in the Melrose Church of God. The Rev. R. C. Hodges officiated at the double ring rites at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Gloria Bonds served as her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids were: Miss Margie Burlison, sister of the bride; Miss Betty Holland, and Miss Carolyn Holland, cousins of the bride, and Miss Dorothy McManus.

Little Miss Linda Webb was the flower girl while serving as ringbearer was Keith Burlison.

John A. Bonds attended the bridegroom as best man and ushers were: Rodger McCall, Lavoy Tingle, Michael Needham, and Willie Webb.

Following the ceremony a reception was given in the church's parlors by the bride's parents. After the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to the mountains and other points in Tennessee and on their return will make their home in Natchez.

Miss Cates, H. L. Bradshaw Plans Foretold

Mrs. Ben Etta Cates of Dallas, Texas, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Johnetta, to Hugh Lundy Bradshaw of Fort Worth. The groom - elect is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh E. Bradshaw of West Monroe. The wedding will be solemnized in the Sudie George Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church in Dallas, on August 20.

Miss Cates attended Southern Methodist University, and is presently attending Texas Christian University where she is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha. The prospective groom is a graduate of Northeast State College, where he was a member of Kappa Alpha Order.

Northeast Is Now Taking Nursing Bids

Applications are being accepted for admission to Northeast State College's new department of nursing, which opens in September.

The department was authorized by the State Board of Education earlier this year to provide a four year program leading to a bachelor's degree in nursing. The student also qualifies to take the state examination for registration as a professional nurse.

Pre-entrance aptitute tests have been scheduled in early August for additional members of the department's first class. Scholarship awards are available for candidates who have demonstrated through testing and personal attributes their fitness for nursing.

Application blanks for admission and for scholarships may be obtained by writing to the chairman of the department of nursing, Northeast Louisiana State College, Monroe.

A statewide survey has shown the shortage of professional nurses continues to be acute with the greatest shortage in Northeast Louisiana. The program at Northeast is open to both men and women, either single or married.

College officials pointed to a great demand for male nurses and said that traditionally most educational programs in nursing have not been available to men and that the marriage of women students has forced their withdrawal from the programs.

The facilities of two Monroe hospitals — St. Francis, a private hospital, and E. A. Conway Memorial, which is state - supported —will be used. The department also plans to work with the Ouachita Parish Health Unit and other area units in providing field instruction in public nursing. It also plans to work with a state - supported mental hospital in providing educational experiences in psychiatric nursing.

College faculty members will be in complete charge of the program. Northeast will provide instructors for the courses offered on the campus and in the clinical areas.

The State Board of Education authorized Northeast to begin the department after the college had submitted a survey report supporting its request for a nursing program. The report, by two professional nursing educators, said that "Monroe is located in an area far enough away from any existing schools of nursing and with a population reservoir sufficient to justify the establishment of the proposed unit in nursing education."

Guinea Troops Now In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Troops from the Republic of Guinea, equipped with Soviet vehicles and Czech guns, arrived Saturday and joined other U.N. troops restoring order in this disordered republic.

The first 60 troops from the former French colony were flown in by a U.S. Air Force Globemaster shortly before Belgian paratroops completed their withdrawal from Leopoldville, the Congo capital.

All day, trainloads of Belgian equipment and troops headed for the Belgian base at Kitona, west of Leopoldville, and automobile columns took more troops by road.

Bowing to U.N. pressure to withdraw from the Congo, the Belgians also agreed to get out of the strategic Port of Boma by Sunday, turning it over to Moroccan troops. At the mouth of the Congo, Boma controls upriver traffic to Leopoldville.

With Leopoldville now under effective U.N. control along with the major port of Matadi downriver, the Belgians were fast relinquishing their grasp on Leopoldville Province.

The Belgians, rulers of the Congo until independence June 30, have agreed to send technicians to both Boma and Matadi to repair port facilities, the U.N. Command said. The ports were badly damaged in fighting that erupted after Belgium sent in troops to check an antiwhite wave of terror by Negro soldiers.

The U.N. Command also made its first move to take effective control of Kasai Province, which adjoins Leopoldville Province on the east. An advance brigade of Tunisian troops was sent to Luluabourg, Kasai capital and scene of violent disorders earlier this month.

But the difficulty of U. N. forces face in trying to restore order in the outlying provinces was pointed up by the attempt of rebellious Congolese soldiers to detain Andre Tshibangu, the Congo's finance minister, at Stanleyville, Oriental Province capital.

Tshibangu and a U.N. official pick up 400 million Congo francs—eight million dollars—from government vaults to replenish the depleted treasury.

Capt. Michael D. McCallum, Canadian pilot of their plane, said Ethiopian troops of the U.N. force seemed to be in command of the Stanleyville Airport. But Congolese troops appeared, beat up Tshibangu and later tried to keep him from leaving with the money.

U.N. officers obtained his release.

Stanleyville is a stronghold of Premier Patrice Lumumba, who often has talked of moving the Congo's capital there.

On his current flying visit to the United Nations, Lumumba is certain to bring up the case of Katanga Province, which has proclaimed its independence, called in Belgian troops to preserve order, and has threatened to fight if U.N. troops try to enter.

A U.N. spokesman said that for the present, no attempt will be made to send U.N. forces into Katanga because there are other problems that must be faced first.

U.N. headquarters has no report of fighting between Congolese and Belgian soldiers in Katanga Province Friday in which 16 Congolese and 3 Belgian soldiers were killed, the spokesman said.

The United Nations does not recognize Katanga's proclamation of independence and in its resolution demands the withdrawal of Belgian troops from the Congo — which in its view would include Katanga.

Observers in Leopoldville said the United Nations must resolve the question of Katanga, richest of all the Congo's provinces, if a stable peace is to be found in this new nation.

These observers felt sure the clash in Katanga was certain to arouse Lumumba's temper further when he meets with U.N. officials.

Fail To Yield

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —The Mississippi Highway Patrol reported Saturday the most common cause of traffic accidents in June was failure to yield the right of way.

Chief of Patrol Dave Gayden said the cause led to 67 collisions.

It will be the object of a patrol crackdown next month, with patrolmen also watching for following too close, improper turning and improper passing.

Walker Slated As Speaker For Jaycee Group

Dr. George T. Walker, president of Northeast Louisiana State College, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Monroe Jaycees Monday.

The meeting will be held in parlors A and B of the Frances Hotel and Dr. Walker's subject for the noon meeting will be "Developements at Northeast, Today and in the Future."

Dr. Walker, who has authored two books, several bulletins and articles for professional journals, holds the B. A. in business education from Northwestern, a M.S. in accounting from Louisiana State University and his Ph.D. in business administration from LSU.

He began teaching in 1936 as an instructor in commerce at Northeast and he has held positions at Southeastern Louisiana College, University of Southwestern Louisiana and Northwestern.

Physicist Back From Colorado Metals Conclave

Glenn F. Powers, chairman of Northeast State College's Department of Physics, has returned from a conference on metals at Estes Park, Colo.

Powers said the conference was closely related to a research program in solid - state physics under way at Northeast. The program consists of attempting to grow single crystals of various metals and working with the semi - conducting properties of gray tin.

The Colorado conference was sponsored by the physical metallurgy committee of the Institute of Metals Division. This is a section of the Metallurgical Society of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers, Inc.

It's wise to buy your used car where quality and value are traditional

As a Cadillac dealership, we sell the world's finest automobiles. It's only natural, then, that we take in some mighty fine cars in trade. For the finest used car selection in town, drop in and inspect the models in our lot. Many of these are late model Cadillacs which we sold originally and have serviced regularly. Whatever the make, you may be assured that every used car we sell is in tip-top condition and a genuinely outstanding value. We look forward to your visit. We think you'll be delighted you came.

...AND HERE ARE A FEW OF THE REASONS WHY!

LAKE LIVING
WITH EVEN A LANDSCAPED ISLAND!

FOR THE DISCRIMINATING, we are pleased to present one of the finest expressions of true custom built homes on Audubon St., W. M. Country Club Area! The grounds are delightful —3 acres, professionally landscaped with large trees and 300 ft. frontage on lake—and even a landscaped island for picnicking and outdoor living. The home is constructed of "old" brick and has every feature incorporated for fine living: the living room-dining area, den, 1 bedroom, and breakfast room all have sliding glass walls overlooking lake — and the living room and bedroom open onto patio. The expertly planned kitchen includes built-in oven and range, dishwasher, and disposal, separate utility room adjoining kitchen. 2 bedrooms, and 2 complete ceramic tile baths. This home is centrally air conditioned and heated, carpeted throughout, custom made drapes, and double carport with storage. Near golf course and country club. PLAY IT SAFE MAN!
IF YOUR wife likes high ceilings, large bedrooms with big windows, a separate dining room and a cozy little breakfast room to chit-chat with the girls over a cup of coffee, a well planned kitchen with pantry, wall to wall carpet on living room, a den, storage in the attic, in other words an older home that's perfect for her lovely furniture, do not argue with her, she has good taste. Let us show you 1311 Emerson!

IMAGINE!
FREE GAS, use all you want and throw away the bill, plus $135 yearly income. Yes, it all goes with this 2-ACRES and 6-room house, located 3 miles north of the overpass on the Old Bastrop blacktop road. If you want cool shade and a place for the kiddies to romp and play, see this today. Only $9500.

TEA FOR TWO
COULD BE so pleasantly served in this cozy, 2-bedroom home on College Avenue. Newly painted and in good condition, with carport, concrete driveway, plumbed for washer, wired for 220, nice lawn with bearing fruit trees and pecan trees on the 60x170 lot. Ideal for College couples. Small down payment will handle.

LOCATION DOES IT
JUST AROUND the corner from Forsythe Park. No time lost to Little League, swimming pool, playground and oh, so convenient to Neville and Shopping Centers. Yes, it is a 3-bedroom, 2-bath home with scads of room, a nice yard with shade trees and shrubbery. There is a garage apartment in the rear renting for $40 per month. Easy terms, because the owner will finance.

DON'T GO NEAR
THIS SPACIOUS home with its 7 rooms, large tile bath, separate dining room, family kitchen, walk-in closets and pantry, a fenced back yard, beautiful hardwood floors, drapes and curtains, just ready for a family that appreciates comfort and space, if you are looking for a modern house, because this home was built in the good old days when a family needed space and a homey atmosphere.

PIN A ROSE ON THIS ONE
IT'S ON A corner lot just across the street from Lady of Fatima School and you will find lots of roses and shrubbery in the beautiful fenced back yard. 3-bedrooms, well designed family styled kitchen, more storage than you can use, 220 wiring, carport, and the best part is only $500 down, FHA appraised.

KNOW THE REAL JOY
OF GOOD living in this lovely 3-bedroom, brick, located in West Monroe on Shady Oaks Drive, all the modern built-ins, plus a paneled den, with sliding glass door, overlooking an attractive patio and landscaped yard. The large living room has wall to wall carpeting. Completely air conditioned with double carport and large storage. This house could not be duplicated for twice the asking price. Let us show you all its wonderful features.

WE ARE DUMBFOUNDED
THAT THE owner of this 3-bedroom house with tile bath, carport, fenced back yard, 220 wiring, central heat, 40 gal. tank, termite contract, located so near schools, shopping centers and bus line, pinned this price tag on it! You call us, we'll tell you the price.

DOCTORS TAKE NOTICE OF THIS NEW LISTING!

We have just listed a most desirable large corner lot with income property.

Corner Of Hall And Grammont St.

Directly in the rear of the Telephone Co. building, adjoining doctor's clinic, 2 blocks from St. Francis, 2 blocks from post office, 1 block from Presbyterian and Methodist Churches. Big corner lot 100x150. Consists of 2 buildings which include 17 apartments—15 completely furnished, good furniture, good condition; 2 unfurnished. And a commercial business office with 5 year lease at $65 month. Total monthly income average $835. These buildings are frame and need no immediate repairs. Taxes are reasonable, insurance rate is low. Mr. Investor, buy this property and take advantage of $835 income until you are ready to use it for a much needed building on this corner. Ideal for doctor's clinic, drug store, or any business that needs first class business location in an already built-up and proven commercial site. The new city hall and executive offices are scheduled to be built in this vicinity in the near future. Don't pass this opportunity up. Call us for information.

Negro Shoots Man, Kidnaps His Wife

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (UPI)—A Negro burglar shot and wounded a lawyer in his home overlooking Long Island Sound early Saturday and then kidnaped his red-haired young wife in a family car. The woman was rescued in Connecticut several hours later after police ran down the car and seized the abductor.

Attorney Leonard Rothkrug, 32, was in serious condition with such a severe face and neck wound that it was difficult for him to tell what happened.

Police had been under the impression that two burglars were surprised in the Rothkrug's expensive home, but only one man was with Mrs. Nancy Rothkrug, 23, when she was rescued.

The Rothkrug's 2-year-old son slept through the shooting and abduction in the family's brick and shingle home which has a terrace sloping toward Little Neck Bay and a 70-foot swimming pool.

Police in 13 states were alerted to look for the Rothkrug's 1957 blue Buick sedan. When Connecticut State Police saw the car speeding through Wallingford, they gave chase. The car finally crashed into a roadside barrier and police seized the driver, who still was carrying a gun.

They said Mrs. Rothkrug was unharmed but badly shaken by the ordeal, which began when her husband investigated a noise in their home and came upon the burglar.

After shooting Rothkrug in the face, the burglar ripped out a telephone wire and bound him. Rothkrug was left moaning and bleeding on a bedroom floor while his wife was abducted.

A gardner working near the Rothkrug home said he saw the Rothkrug car leave the home carrying a Negro man and a white woman at around 7:30 a.m. Mrs. Rothkrug was rescued shortly after 2 p.m.

Her husband lay severely wounded until about 9:30 a.m., when Amos Fleischman, a salesman, went to the Rothkrug home under the impression it still was occupied by a family that moved out several months ago.

Fleischman heard groans and investigated. He found Rothkrug and called police. Rothkrug had been shot in the left side of the face. He was rushed to North Shore Hospital, where his condition was described as serious

Catahoula Lions Call For Road Improvements

JONESVILLE (Special) — The construction of a road and improvement of existing roads in the southern part of Catahoula and Avoyelles was asked this week of the Louisiana Department of Highways by the Jonesville Lions club.

The club in a resolution asked the department to construct a new highway beginning at Argo in the lower end of the parish to the Larto Lake dam and then take over the existing road of the Hunt Oil Company from the dam to the Avoyelles parish line. The oil company has indicated that they would grant their deed to the existing road they have built providing the state maintains same.

The road is travelled during dry weather and it is pointed out that it would be of great economic value for both parishes to build the all - weather road in the lower end of the parish.

Set Maneuvers At Fort Polk

FORD POLK, La., (UPI) — A special airborne National Guard unit from Louisiana will begin training maneuvers here Tuesday with a jump over simulated enemy territory.

The 77-man force, under the command of Col. Joseph H. Cunningham of New Orleans, will load into planes at England Air Force Base in Alexandria.

A similar-mock attack jump was staged by the same unit earlier this year at Covington. Cunningham said other jumps are planned for September and October.

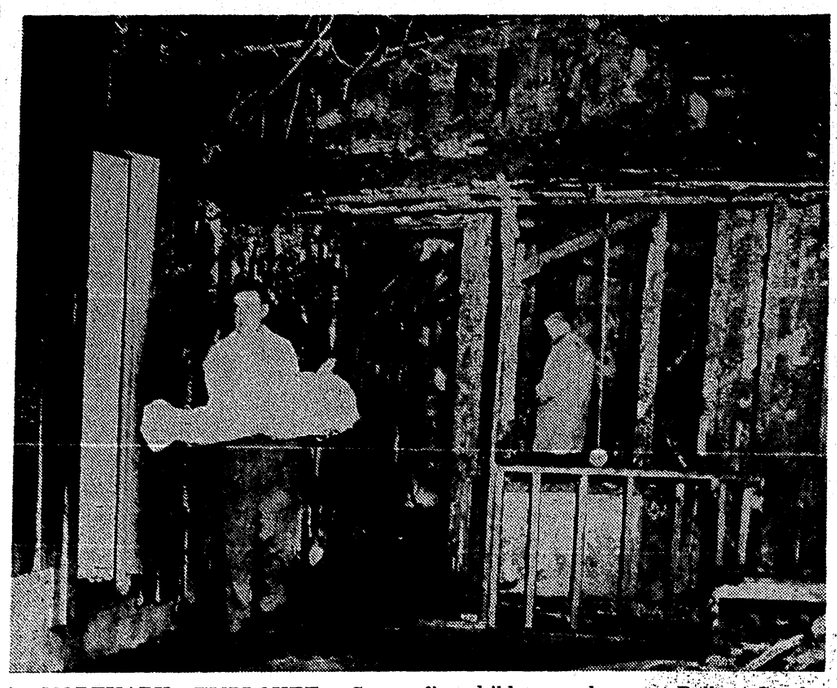
Man Is Killed In Explosion

NATCHEZ, Miss. (UPI) — A young Yazoo City father in his first day as an oil field worker burned to death Saturday on the top of a flaming derrick wrecked by an apparent gas explosion.

Philip Ray Newton, 23, a father of three who joined Owl Drilling Co. Friday, was the only casualty in the explosion.

He was working atop a derrick near the Kingston community south of here before dawn when the well exploded, possibly from leaking gas. A witness said Newton apparently tried to jump from his high position but forgot to unfasten his safety belt.

His effort left him dangling from the top of the derrick as the flames burned him. The heat melted the derrick.



A MORTUARY EMPLOYEE, Gene Bergeron, carries the body of a child victim from the burned ruins of a home in suburban Lennox, near Los Angeles, early Saturday. Burned to death in the blaze were Mrs. Dorothy Blair, 30, her five children, and a man, Delbert Stack, about 28. Police said the fire may have been started by a cigarette, apparently while the victims were asleep. (AP Wirephoto)

Monroe Negro Is Hospitalized In Cutting Fray

A 45-year-old Monroe Negro man was in the Charity Hospital suffering from knife wounds, following a fracas at his home about 2 p.m. yesterday.

Fred Quinn, 1711 Wood St., Monroe, was cut about the face and arm, but was not believed seriously injured.

Beatrice McGee, 35 Negro, 1711 Wood St., who Quinn said did the cutting, was arrested by Monroe police and charged with aggravated battery.

The McGee woman told officers she cut Quinn after he struck her with a belt and swore out a warrant also charging him with aggravated battery.

Both are scheduled to appear in Monroe city court tomorrow.

I HAVE TO STOP AT THE TELEVISION REPAIR SHOP TO TELL THEM OUR SET IS OUT OF ORDER
I'LL LEND YOU MY FRONT DOOR KEY, MR. DRIBB, BECAUSE THERE WON'T BE ANYONE AT HOME
I'LL GO RIGHT OVER TO YOUR HOUSE, MRS. BUMSTEAD
IT WAS SWEET OF THE BOSS TO LET THE OFFICE FORCE OFF THIS AFTERNOON ON ACCOUNT OF THE HEAT
AH, NOBODY HOME--- I'LL BE ABLE TO GRAB A NICE, UNDISTURBED NAP FOR MYSELF
I'M GLAD NOBODY IS AT HOME--I HATE TO HAVE PEOPLE AROUND WHILE I WORK
NOW, PLEASE DON'T MAKE ANY NOISE -- REMEMBER I'M TRYING TO TAKE A NAP
QUIET, PLEASE!
LOOK--IT'S YOUR REPAIRMAN, BLONDIE
DID YOU GET OUR TELEVISION REPAIRED, MR. DRIBB?

DR. VALD, SINCE THE LOCAL AUTHORITIES WILL NOT ALLOW US TO TRANSPORT HOLLY HALL OUT OF THE COUNTRY UNTIL HER PARENTS ARE FOUND——AND SINCE YOU KNOW HER MOTHER AND FATHER, AND WISH TO HELP THE GIRL...

WILL YOU LET US TAKE HER TO YOUR ARCHAEOLOGICAL EXCAVATION IN THE HILLS...

...IN ORDER TO STOP THESE INCIDENTS WHICH ARE DISGRACING THE U.S. IN THE EYES OF THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTRY?

COL. CANYON, MY CAMP IS SO REMOTE, I---

DOCTOR, THE POLICE SAY HOLLY WILL BE LOCKED UP AS A PUBLIC MENACE IF SHE ISN'T KEPT OFF THE STREETS!

SURELY THIS IS NOT MUCH TO ASK—SINCE YOU ARE SO FRIENDLY WITH HOLLY'S PARENTS!

SUCCESS, FLAVIN! DR. VALD WILL TAKE HOLLY TO HIS PLACE IN THE HILLS...

BUT, STEVE, IF YOU THINK DR. VALD HAS HOLLY HYPNOTIZED, WHAT'S TO BE GAINED?

EVEN IF HE DOES HAVE A POWER OVER THE KID, SHE WILL BE IN A PLACE WHERE SHE CAN'T ALIENATE THE LOCAL PEOPLE...

BUT WE CAN'T SEND HER TO DR. VALD'S PLACE ALONE! I'LL GO ALONG TO LOOK AFTER HER UNTIL HER PARENTS ARE FOUND...

THAT WILL BE ROUGH ON SCRAP! YOU'VE BEEN AWAY FROM HOME WITH HOLLY TOO MANY NIGHTS AS IT IS...

GOOD! I'LL BE THERE TOO...

...AS SHE LOOKS BACK AT HIM — A LIGHT FLICKERS IN THE EYES OF THE HYPNOTIZED HOLLY SITTING ACROSS THE ROOM....

HATLO'S HISTORY

WHAT DO YOU THINK WE SHOULD NAME THE NEW LAND COLUMBUS SAID HE DISCOVERED? HOW ABOUT NEW SPAIN?

NAW··· HOW'S ABOUT COLUMBUSTINA? BUT CHRIS ISN'T IN GOOD STANDING RIGHT NOW···

WELL, THAT GUY VESPUCCI'S BEEN DOING A LOT OF DISCOVERING LATELY···HE'S HOT RIGHT NOW··· HE'D BUY A LOT OF MAPS OFF US····CALL IT VESPUCCILAND!

THAT'S TOO LONG···WHAT'S VESPUCCI'S FIRST NAME?

FERDINAND? NO···ROCCO? NO···ANGELO? JOSÉ?

THIS IS WORSE THAN THE TIME MY WIFE AND I WERE TRYING TO FIGURE OUT WHAT TO CALL THE BABY···
